Soviets Say Berlin Air Collision Could Have Consequences

Insist Limitation On Flight Ceiling Matter Of Safety

BERLIN (AP)—The Soviet Union Thursday challenged America's determination to maintain free air access to Berlin. It warned any new high-altitude flights through the Berlin air corridors would risk collision with Soviet fighters.

A Soviet Embassy spokesman in East Berlin insisted the dispute over Western air access routes to this Communist-encircled city is strictly a matter of flight safety.

But U.S. officials said it involves the principle of Western rights in Berlin, now threatened by Moscow's diplomatic offensive on Germany.

Soviet Authority At Issue

Specifically at issue is whether the Soviets have a right to put a 10,000-foot altitude ceiling on the three Western air corridors, each running about 100 miles from West Germany to Berlin. Three Soviet fighters buzzed an unarmed American transport above 20,000 feet last Friday as it flew through one of the corridors.

The United States backed down on a plan to send through a second test flight Wednesday, possibly because of stern Soviet warnings. But a high-altitude C130 Hercules transport was at an air base somewhere in West Germany standing ready to try again when Washington gives the green light.

Reponsible informants said the big transports would fly cargo to Berlin as needed to supply the American garrison there. American officials have said the planes would disregard the Soviet altitude limit if necessary.

"Complications" Explained

But a Soviet spokesman, Benjamin Sutulov, told newsmen the Soviet Union would stand firm on its 10,000-foot ceiling—far too low for the turboprop Hercules transports to operate efficiently.

Sutulov was pressed to explain the Soviet warning that complications would arise if the United States followed up Friday's initial C130 high-altitude flight.

"We mean by complications that American and Soviet planes could ram into each other. We do not know what consequences such a collision would have," he replied.

The Soviet Union and the three Western powers have disagreed for years over the corridor ceiling, never covered by any written agreement.

Flying Bandit May Be Piloting Elusive Plane

CHICAGO (UPI) — Police throughout northern Illinois chased an elusive red, single - engine plane Thursday night in the belief that it might be piloted by flying bank robber Frank Sprenz.

But, after hours of searching every airport in the Chicago area, along with country fields and roads, the FBI lifted its alert for the plane.

The search sprang from reports that Sprenz, a toupee-wearing gun collector and one of the nation's 10 most wanted criminals, had been seen at the Raymondville, Tex., airport Tuesday and the Porterville, Miss., airport Wednesday.

FBI agents and state police reported that the man answering Sprenz's description was flying north in a red-and-white Piper Pacer plane, using the name of James Moss.

A plane answering this description was traced through the afternoon flying out of Kentucky across southern Illinois, over Kankakee, and into the Chicago area.

State and county police dashed to at least four points chasing the plane or checking reports that it had landed.

Almost every small plane touching ground over the broad Chicago area was investigated. However, two planes landing at Northbrook, Ill., and one each at Aurora and Half Day yielded no results.

Early in the chase, Kankakee County Deputy Matt Egan said "We've got 20 men in cars trying to keep up with this red-nosed, red-tailed plane."

Illinois State Police Lt. Earl Pogue said the chase began when Mayfield, Ky., authorities said they saw a plane overhead matching the description of the wanted craft.

Sprenz is wanted on charges of unlawful flight to avoid prosecution for robbery in Ohio and of interstate transportation of a stolen plane from Baltimore, Md., the FBI said.

Teachers End Strike At Gary

GARY, Ind. (AP) — Picketing teachers reopened classes for 5,000 Calumet Township pupils Thursday, but obstacles promptly arose in their fight to resume union bargaining with the School Board.

Dr. Earl J. Schuur, superintendent of the seven suburban schools, called for pay deductions for the two days of picketing and commended the two dozen teachers who had crossed the picket lines.

Schuur even suggested that the state revoke teaching licenses of the 135 strikers and urged a week's cooling-off period on the resignation of three School Board members.

"We'll have to wait and see what happens," said Thomas Dalton, president of the American Federation of Teachers Local 662, when told of Schuur's recommendations.

"5th Year And Still Here," Kohler Pickets Proclaim

KOHLER, Wis. (AP)—Seventy-five pickets marched for a few hours Thursday under the elms of High street, where turbulent thousands swirled when the United Auto Workers struck the Kohler Co. on April 5, 1954.

Kohler workers passing through the lonely line Thursday noted the occasion by singing: "Happy birthday to you."

Once or twice picket captains cautioned men to "take it easy." There were a few jeers and catcalls, but no incidents. Sheriff's officers stood by.

The company said a normal production force — between 2,200 union estimate and nearly 3,000 company figure—went to work.

One of the new signs calling attention to the oldest major strike in the nation championed the endurance of the UAW, which claimed it has spent nearly 12 million dollars here since Local 833 struck the big plumbingware firm over an original issue of union security. The sign said: "5th year and still here."

The pickets—25 each at the company's three main gates along the wide boulevard—were the maximum allowed under Wisconsin law.

E. H. Kohlhagen, Local 833's recording secretary, said this would be the union's only observance of the anniversary, which falls on Sunday this year.

The purpose of the turnout, Kohhagen said was "to demonstrate only that our strike still is very much alive."

The general view is that the last hope of the strikers is a National Labor Relations Board decision finding the company guilty of unfair labor practices. Trial examiner George A. Downing has recommended that the full board so find.

Debbie Okays Quick Divorce; Eddie Jubilant

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Debbie Reynolds said Thursday she would consent to a quickie divorce for ex-husband Eddie Fisher, and the jubilant singer immediately announced he would marry Elizabeth Taylor in Nevada within six weeks.

"Tremendous!" said Eddie when notified by the United Press International through the Las Vegas Sun that Debbie had changed her mind and now would permit him to get a Nevaa divorce.

"This is great," Fisher exclaimed, when reached by telephone at Miss Taylor's $500-a-week ranch near Las Vegas, Nev. "We are both happy and thrilled.

"We will get married here in Nevada six weeks from last Sunday. We are delighted and grateful to Debbie.

Miss Reynolds said she would give her okay to the speedy Nevada divorce action when she arrived here by plane from Europe.

The perky actress said, "Yes, I will give my consent. But I find it difficult to be informed by reporters and asked questions that are very personal and mean a great deal," she said on deplaning from a month in Europe.

"I can't make up my mind on the telephone," she told reporters.

Asked what she meant by that, she said, "Eddie called me before I left here a month ago and asked if I would give my consent. I said no. I couldn't make up my mind over the telephone."

Asked why she changed her mind, Debbie said "The position I've been put in, is the reason for my decision."

She added: "I just arrived and haven't thought much about it."

"I don't believe in divorces, especially quick divorces. But I never stood in their way and never will.

"This all has caught me by surprise. My last statement on the subject is that I'm sure you (the press) are as thoroughly exhausted by this topic as I am. I wish Elizabeth and Eddie all the happiness. Any questions concerning them should be put directly to them, not me."

She went on: "I am no longer a part of their life nor are they a part of mine."

Dalai Lama In India, Red Chinese Say

Taken From Tibet "Under Duress" By Rebel Forces

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Red China's radio claimed Thursday Tibetan rebels fleeing Chinese Communist pursuit have brought their young god-king, the Dalai Lama, into India.

There was no confirmation here or at India's northern frontier.

A broadcast report of Peiping's official New China News Agency said "the Dalai Lama and others arrived in India March 31." The agency said the 23-year-old Dalai Lama was brought across the border "under duress by rebellious elements" and the Indian government ordered border and police authorities to meet the party.

Fate Remains Mystery

Unofficial reports earlier said the Dalai Lama was with rebel forces in the southern part of his lofty mountain country. There has been no definite word on his fate since fighting broke out between Tibetans and Red Chinese forces March 20.

An Indian Foreign Ministry spokesman, told of the Peiping report, said "we have no information."

On Formosa, the official Nationalist China News Agency reported fighting still in progress between rebels and Red Chinese troops 165 miles northeast of Tibet's capital, Lhasa, and near the capital itself.

Unconfirmed Kalimpong reports pictured the Red Chinese already estimated to have had 300,000 soldiers in Tibet when the rebellion erupted, as pouring in thousands of reinforcements, from the direction of Sinkiang province in the north.

Moscow Warns SEATO

The events in the mountain fastnesses of Tibet brought loud repercussions elsewhere in the world.

A Moscow broadcast warned the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization that any attempts "to sever Tibet from China are doomed to failure." It stated that the Tibetan events "are exclusively an internal affair of China."

Chinese Nationalist sources expressed belief that the Tibetan revolt increases chances for a new crisis in the Formosa Strait area, to divert world attention from the rebellion.

Doomed Boy Finds New Happiness

NEW YORK (AP)—How do you measure happiness in the heart of a 9-year-old boy? Ronald King accepts his without measurement from a host of new-found friends, who have dispelled a loneliness that shrouded his young life.

Last March 11, the boy's left arm was amputated. He took the loss cheerfully, even though it ended a youthful dream of becoming a professional wrestler.

Ronnie merely changed his sights. Now he wants to be a newspaper reporter. "Not the kind who sits at a desk, but one who goes out and gets scoops," he explained.

But there had to be a certain amount of loneliness for a small boy, recovering from an arduous operation, in a fatherless home where the mother and three children are on relief.

So Ronnie's mother appealed a few days ago through the Long Island Press for some toys as a treat for her courageous youngster. She explained she couldn't afford them herself.

Almost at once, friends and strangers began streaming into Ronnie's basement apartment in Rockaway Park to visit and leave behind toys of every description.

So many get-well cards began arriving that the mailman had to make two trips.

But Ronnie doesn't know that and, in not knowing, finds no need to measure his new-found happiness. It has no limits beyond his own 9-year-old heart and he can say with confidence: "I feel so happy. I'm getting happier and happier."

But Ronnie's happiness is destined to be terribly fleeting.

His arm was amputated because he has bone cancer. His doctors pronounced it incurable and gave him, at best, a year to live.

Probers Report U.S. Reds Take On "New Look"

WASHINGTON (AP) — Communists in the United States are now reported under orders "to wear a new look."

The House Committee on Un-American Activities, telling of this Thursday, said: "To a degree unmatched in party history, Communists are now promoting themselves as loyal to the United States, peace-loving and humanitarian in purpose, and anxious to work in harmony with Socialists, liberals, and even capitalists for the good of the nation."

This picture of communism was portrayed in a 120-page report on Communist activities in Southern California. This area, the committee said, is now the special target of resurgent Red efforts.

Investigators said a new Communist tactic is to pose as a crusader against monopolies, thereby bidding for cooperation of labor and other elements in what the report calls an attack on the free enterprise system.

The committee also noted a change in the party line regarding Negroes. Instead of a "Soviet Negro nation," the new goal is described as one of helping Negroes more nearly realize aspirations of becoming an integrated part of American life.

The committee said other changes in tactics involve an invigorated drive to lure youth into the party, and an effort to reestablish a welcome for the Communist party in organized labor.

The Southern California situation was discussed in detail by the committee.

It said this area was second only to New York as the largest concentration of Communist strength in the United States. It has become the target of a massive effort to capitalize on booming postwar potentials, the report added.

Three Presumed Dead In Sinking Of Tug In Storm

MIAMI (UPI) — A 60-foot tug sank in hurricane - force winds that swept the Atlantic Thursday, apparently drowning three of the five crewmen aboard, the Coast Guard reported.

The Coast Guard identified the tug as the William L. It reported that another tug, the Linden, was at the scene and had picked up two surviving crewmen and the body of another.

"The other two crewmen are believed to be trapped in the hull of the sunken tug," the Coast Guard said.

The sinking occurred about 38 miles north of West End, Grand Bahama. The island is 65 miles east of Palm Beach, Fla.

Iraq Boycotts Arab Session

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — An Arab League foreign ministers meeting, called to tackle the Iraq-United Arab Republic dispute, got off to a bad start Thursday. Iraq boycotted the session and its leftist regime came under heavy attack from the U.A.R. and Yemen.

Furthermore, only 6 of the 10 league members were represented. Jordan and Tunisia sent no representatives. Libya's delegation has yet to arrive.

Dep. Foreign Minister Farik Zeineddin of the U.A.R. told a formal public session that Iraqi Premier Abdel Karim Kassem had refused President Gamal Abdel Nasser's appeals for cooperation.

Hassan Ibn Ibrahim of Yemen, whose country is loosely federated with the U.A.R., followed up with an assertion that the Iraqis had opened the doors of the Arab world to the danger of communism.

Attending were delegations from Lebanon, Morocco, Saudi Arabia, Sudan, the U.A.R. and Yemen.

A league official said there never had been any word from Baghdad in reply to an invitation to Iraq to attend.

Tornadoes Hit Florida, Floods In Middle West

By United Press International

Tornadoes smashed and killed in Florida Thursday, bringing the death toll in a three-day twister rampage across the South and Southwest to 12.

In the Midwest, the first major floods of spring had 1,600 persons out of their homes in the Rockford, Ill., area and made 200 homeless in Wisconsin.

More weather troubles were in store for the Southland. The U.S. Weather Bureau warned of severe thunderstorms and possible tornadoes through southern Virginia, extreme southern Maryland, and northern North Carolina. The danger area ran from Raleigh, N.C., to a point 30 miles north northeast of Richmond, Va.

The Florida tornadoes shot out of a squall line and hit three times at Orlando, Dade City and the little community of Mims.

A total of 23 persons were injured, roofs were smashed in, cars were crumpled by fallen trees, and the air was filled with hurtling pieces of debris.

Mrs. Rosie Varnado, 40, died in an ambulance taking her from her wrecked home to an Orlando hospital.

John Wright, a Mims used car dealer, was shaving when the twister tore his home apart. Wright landed in a tree dazed but suffering only minor injuries.

The twisters followed a deadly pattern which began in Oklahoma and Texas Tuesday night. They killed 10 persons in Texas and one in Oklahoma before skipping into Louisiana, where a tornado tore through the hamlet of Venice Wednesday.

On the Midwest flood front, there was likewise no sign of letup.

Officials at Beloit, Wis., were forced by flood pressure to open a dam and send a new crest surging down the Rock River towards sodden Rockford. The floodtide drove families out of 20 homes in the Winnebago village of Roscoe.

Enlisted Man Takes Protest To Top

Five GIs Bumped By Colonel Put Back On Plane By General; Probe Planned

TOKYO (AP)—The general who commands U.S. forces in Japan has emerged as a GI hero—along with a spunky enlisted man who took a protest right to the top.

Lt. Gen. Robert W. Burns ordered a military airliner back to Japan, put aboard five enlisted men on emergency home furlough, and opened an investigation of the lieutenant colonel they said had bumped them.

"All I can say is that as far as I'm concerned, I had nothing to do with keeping those people off the plane," said Lt. Col. Charles Platt Jr. of New York City. He had been headed for a vacation in Hawaii.

The Air Force and the enlisted men told about the incident Thursday, a week after it happened. The Air Force said Platt may be completely innocent. But one enlisted man insisted the men with their emergency travel orders bumped the colonel, and he got mad and bumped them back.

Two soldiers were hurrying home for their mothers' funerals. Both got there too late, although it is possible they would have been too late anyway. Another was going home for his son's funeral.

This is the sequence of events as given by the Air Force in Tokyo, ready to board the "Pacific Express" for emergency furloughs:

Platt, who is commander of the passenger terminal at Tachikawa, arrived with his wife and four children.

"We bumped him," said Airman Robert J. Kindl of Saratoga Springs, N.Y., who was going home for the funeral of his 4-year-old son.

"He got mad, pulled rank and ordered a major underneath him to bump us," Kindl said.

The enlisted men said they appealed to officers at the air base but the officers replied they could do nothing about it.

Airman Cole Y. Bell, Fayetteville, Tenn., was anxious to get to the bedside of a brother injured in a traffic accident. He decided to call Burns, an Air Force general.

With the help of the Red Cross, Bell got Burns on the phone. The plane had taken off for Hawaii, but Burns checked the soldiers' story and had the plane headed back within 30 minutes. Then Burns went out to the airport to see the enlisted men got on the plane.

"We didn't want to do a thing like that but we had top priority emergency furloughs," said Sgt. John P. Snyder of Vandergrift, Pa.

Nation's Full Might Behind It, NATO Told

No Berlin Retreat Theme Of Opening Council Session

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States pledged Thursday to use its full array of aircraft and missile power to defend its Atlantic Pact allies if it should become necessary.

It made this pledge shortly after President Eisenhower had cautioned this country's North Atlantic Pact Allies against "substituting illusions for reality" in seeking tension-reducing agreements with Russia.

Speaking on behalf of the U.S. government, acting Secretary of State Christian Herter also told the 15-nation Atlantic Pact Council that the United States is now making faser progress than Russia in developing missiles.

Herter described American military might at a closed-door review of Soviet threats against Berlin and Germany.

He stressed the need for the allies to stand firm while offering to negotiate differences with Russia.

"I pledge our continued willingness to make the necessary effort for the common defense.

"I pledge also our full willingness to use our strength in the common defense, if need be."

Despite the mounting tensions over Berlin, Herter predicted the crisis would be settled without shooting.

Courage, Sacrifice Needed

Recalling his days as a soldier, Eisenhower appealed for free people to display courage, sacrifice and perseverance while their governments search carefully for just solutions to current East-West deadlocks.

"We must be prepared, during the years ahead," Eisenhower said "to live in a world in which tension and bickering between free nations and the Soviets will be daily experiences."

Herter's remarks at the closed door session that followed Eisenhower's talk were relayed to newsmen by Asst. Secretary of State Andrew H. Berding.

Addressing the same closed-door meeting, Britain's Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd assured the allied representatives that his country stands as firmly as the other allies in resisting Russian pressure for one-sided agreements.

Lloyd put Britain on record as viewing any plan for neutralizing or demilitarizing Germany as the worst possible solution of the German problem.

Troop, Arms Freeze Opposed

He also said Britain would not advocate any troop and arms freeze plan in central Europe unless it was linked with the goal of German reunification.

Lloyd's remarks at the closed door afternoon session were relayed to newsmen by a NATO spokesman. They were clearly aimed at dispelling reports that the British favored making more concessions to the Soviets than do the United States, France, West Germany and other Atlantic Pact partners.

Some 1,400 delegates and distinguished guests from the member countries gathered to hear Eisenhower deliver a keynote address at the opening session of the three-day meeting called to review defenses against Soviet attack.

The main item of business was a report by the U.S., British, French and West German governments on a two-day conference which ended here Wednesday without agreement on what concessions to offer the Soviets.

Four Killed In Crash Of Bomber In Idaho

MOUNTAIN HOME AIR FORCE BASE, Idaho (UPI) — A B47 Strato-jet from Davis Monthan Air Force Base, Ariz., with four aboard crashed and burned in an attempt to make an emergency landing here Thursday.

There were no survivors, base officers said.

The accident occurred eight miles northwest of the air base runway in sagebrush country.

The jet was on a training mission and had departed from its home base at 7:15 a.m. It crashed about noon, officers said.

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Red China's radio claimed Thursday Tibetan rebels fleeing Chinese Communist pursuit have brought their young god-king, the Dalai Lama, into India.

There was no confirmation here or at India's northern frontier.

A broadcast report of Peiping's official New China News Agency said "the Dalai Lama and others arrived in India March 31." The agency said the 23-year-old Dalai Lama was brought across the border "under duress by rebellious elements" and the Indian government ordered border and police authorities to meet the party.

Fate Remains Mystery

Unofficial reports earlier said the Dalai Lama was with rebel forces in the southern part of his lofty mountain country. There has been no definite word on his fate since fighting broke out between Tibetans and Red Chinese forces March 20.

An Indian Foreign Ministry spokesman, told of the Peiping report, said "we have no information."

On Formosa, the official Nationalist China News Agency reported fighting still in progress between rebels and Red Chinese troops 165 miles northeast of Tibet's capital, Lhasa, and near the capital itself.

Unconfirmed Kalimpong reports pictured the Red Chinese already estimated to have had 300,000 soldiers in Tibet when the rebellion erupted, as pouring in thousands of reinforcements, from the direction of Sinkiang province in the north.

Moscow Warns SEATO

The events in the mountain fastnesses of Tibet brought loud repercussions elsewhere in the world.

A Moscow broadcast warned the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization that any attempts "to sever Tibet from China are doomed to failure." It stated that the Tibetan events "are exclusively an internal affair of China."

Chinese Nationalist sources expressed belief that the Tibetan revolt increases chances for a new crisis in the Formosa Strait area, to divert world attention from the rebellion.

Doomed Boy Finds New Happiness

NEW YORK (AP)—How do you measure happiness in the heart of a 9-year-old boy? Ronald King accepts his without measurement from a host of new-found friends, who have dispelled a loneliness that shrouded his young life.

Last March 11, the boy's left arm was amputated. He took the loss cheerfully, even though it ended a youthful dream of becoming a professional wrestler.

Ronnie merely changed his sights. Now he wants to be a newspaper reporter. "Not the kind who sits at a desk, but one who goes out and gets scoops," he explained.

But there had to be a certain amount of loneliness for a small boy, recovering from an arduous operation, in a fatherless home where the mother and three children are on relief.

So Ronnie's mother appealed a few days ago through the Long Island Press for some toys as a treat for her courageous youngster. She explained she couldn't afford them herself.

Almost at once, friends and strangers began streaming into Ronnie's basement apartment in Rockaway Park to visit and leave behind toys of every description.

So many get-well cards began arriving that the mailman had to make two trips.

But Ronnie doesn't know that and, in not knowing, finds no need to measure his new-found happiness. It has no limits beyond his own 9-year-old heart and he can say with confidence: "I feel so happy. I'm getting happier and happier."

But Ronnie's happiness is destined to be terribly fleeting.

His arm was amputated because he has bone cancer. His doctors pronounced it incurable and gave him, at best, a year to live.

Probers Report U.S. Reds Take On "New Look"

WASHINGTON (AP) — Communists in the United States are now reported under orders "to wear a new look."

The House Committee on Un-American Activities, telling of this Thursday, said: "To a degree unmatched in party history, Communists are now promoting themselves as loyal to the United States, peace-loving and humanitarian in purpose, and anxious to work in harmony with Socialists, liberals, and even capitalists for the good of the nation."

This picture of communism was portrayed in a 120-page report on Communist activities in Southern California. This area, the committee said, is now the special target of resurgent Red efforts.

Investigators said a new Communist tactic is to pose as a crusader against monopolies, thereby bidding for cooperation of labor and other elements in what the report calls an attack on the free enterprise system.

The committee also noted a change in the party line regarding Negroes. Instead of a "Soviet Negro nation," the new goal is described as one of helping Negroes more nearly realize aspirations of becoming an integrated part of American life.

The committee said other changes in tactics involve an invigorated drive to lure youth into the party, and an effort to reestablish a welcome for the Communist party in organized labor.

The Southern California situation was discussed in detail by the committee.

It said this area was second only to New York as the largest concentration of Communist strength in the United States. It has become the target of a massive effort to capitalize on booming postwar potentials, the report added.

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — Torrential two-day rains caused six deaths in Argentina in the past 24 hours.

Three Presumed Dead In Sinking Of Tug In Storm

MIAMI (UPI) — A 60-foot tug sank in hurricane - force winds that swept the Atlantic Thursday, apparently drowning three of the five crewmen aboard, the Coast Guard reported.

The Coast Guard identified the tug as the William L. It reported that another tug, the Linden, was at the scene and had picked up two surviving crewmen and the body of another.

"The other two crewmen are believed to be trapped in the hull of the sunken tug," the Coast Guard said.

The sinking occurred about 38 miles north of West End, Grand Bahama. The island is 65 miles east of Palm Beach, Fla.

Iraq Boycotts Arab Session

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — An Arab League foreign ministers meeting, called to tackle the Iraq-United Arab Republic dispute, got off to a bad start Thursday. Iraq boycotted the session and its leftist regime came under heavy attack from the U.A.R. and Yemen.

Furthermore, only 6 of the 10 league members were represented. Jordan and Tunisia sent no representatives. Libya's delegation has yet to arrive.

Dep. Foreign Minister Farik Zeineddin of the U.A.R. told a formal public session that Iraqi Premier Abdel Karim Kassem had refused President Gamal Abdel Nasser's appeals for cooperation.

Hassan Ibn Ibrahim of Yemen, whose country is loosely federated with the U.A.R., followed up with an assertion that the Iraqis had opened the doors of the Arab world to the danger of communism.

Attending were delegations from Lebanon, Morocco, Saudi Arabia, Sudan, the U.A.R. and Yemen.

A league official said there never had been any word from Baghdad in reply to an invitation to Iraq to attend.

Tornadoes Hit Florida, Floods In Middle West

By United Press International

Tornadoes smashed and killed in Florida Thursday, bringing the death toll in a three-day twister rampage across the South and Southwest to 12.

In the Midwest, the first major floods of spring had 1,600 persons out of their homes in the Rockford, Ill., area and made 200 homeless in Wisconsin.

More weather troubles were in store for the Southland. The U.S. Weather Bureau warned of severe thunderstorms and possible tornadoes through southern Virginia, extreme southern Maryland, and northern North Carolina. The danger area ran from Raleigh, N.C., to a point 30 miles north northeast of Richmond, Va.

The Florida tornadoes shot out of a squall line and hit three times at Orlando, Dade City and the little community of Mims.

A total of 23 persons were injured, roofs were smashed in, cars were crumpled by fallen trees, and the air was filled with hurtling pieces of debris.

Mrs. Rosie Varnado, 40, died in an ambulance taking her from her wrecked home to an Orlando hospital.

John Wright, a Mims used car dealer, was shaving when the twister tore his home apart. Wright landed in a tree dazed but suffering only minor injuries.

The twisters followed a deadly pattern which began in Oklahoma and Texas Tuesday night. They killed 10 persons in Texas and one in Oklahoma before skipping into Louisiana, where a tornado tore through the hamlet of Venice Wednesday.

On the Midwest flood front, there was likewise no sign of letup.

Officials at Beloit, Wis., were forced by flood pressure to open a dam and send a new crest surging down the Rock River towards sodden Rockford. The floodtide drove families out of 20 homes in the Winnebago village of Roscoe.

Enlisted Man Takes Protest To Top

Five GIs Bumped By Colonel Put Back On Plane By General; Probe Planned

TOKYO (AP)—The general who commands U.S. forces in Japan has emerged as a GI hero—along with a spunky enlisted man who took a protest right to the top.

Lt. Gen. Robert W. Burns ordered a military airliner back to Japan, put aboard five enlisted men on emergency home furlough, and opened an investigation of the lieutenant colonel they said had bumped them.

"All I can say is that as far as I'm concerned, I had nothing to do with keeping those people off the plane," said Lt. Col. Charles Platt Jr. of New York City. He had been headed for a vacation in Hawaii.

The Air Force and the enlisted men told about the incident Thursday, a week after it happened. The Air Force said Platt may be completely innocent. But one enlisted man insisted the men with their emergency travel orders bumped the colonel, and he got mad and bumped them back.

Two soldiers were hurrying home for their mothers' funerals. Both got there too late, although it is possible they would have been too late anyway. Another was going home for his son's funeral.

This is the sequence of events as given by the Air Force in Tokyo, ready to board the "Pacific Express" for emergency furloughs:

Platt, who is commander of the passenger terminal at Tachikawa, arrived with his wife and four children.

"We bumped him," said Airman Robert J. Kindl of Saratoga Springs, N.Y., who was going home for the funeral of his 4-year-old son.

"He got mad, pulled rank and ordered a major underneath him to bump us," Kindl said.

The enlisted men said they appealed to officers at the air base but the officers replied they could do nothing about it.

Airman Cole Y. Bell, Fayetteville, Tenn., was anxious to get to the bedside of a brother injured in a traffic accident. He decided to call Burns, an Air Force general.

With the help of the Red Cross, Bell got Burns on the phone. The plane had taken off for Hawaii, but Burns checked the soldiers' story and had the plane headed back within 30 minutes. Then Burns went out to the airport to see the enlisted men got on the plane.

"We didn't want to do a thing like that but we had top priority emergency furloughs," said Sgt. John P. Snyder of Vandergrift, Pa.

Nation's Full Might Behind It, NATO Told

No Berlin Retreat Theme Of Opening Council Session

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States pledged Thursday to use its full array of aircraft and missile power to defend its Atlantic Pact allies if it should become necessary.

It made this pledge shortly after President Eisenhower had cautioned this country's North Atlantic Pact Allies against "substituting illusions for reality" in seeking tension-reducing agreements with Russia.

Speaking on behalf of the U.S. government, acting Secretary of State Christian Herter also told the 15-nation Atlantic Pact Council that the United States is now making faser progress than Russia in developing missiles.

Herter described American military might at a closed-door review of Soviet threats against Berlin and Germany.

He stressed the need for the allies to stand firm while offering to negotiate differences with Russia.

"I pledge our continued willingness to make the necessary effort for the common defense.

"I pledge also our full willingness to use our strength in the common defense, if need be."

Courage, Sacrifice Needed

Recalling his days as a soldier, Eisenhower appealed for free people to display courage, sacrifice and perseverance while their governments search carefully for just solutions to current East-West deadlocks.

"We must be prepared, during the years ahead," Eisenhower said "to live in a world in which tension and bickering between free nations and the Soviets will be daily experiences."

Herter's remarks at the closed door session that followed Eisenhower's talk were relayed to newsmen by Asst. Secretary of State Andrew H. Berding.

Addressing the same closed-door meeting, Britain's Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd assured the allied representatives that his country stands as firmly as the other allies in resisting Russian pressure for one-sided agreements.

Lloyd put Britain on record as viewing any plan for neutralizing or demilitarizing Germany as the worst possible solution of the German problem.

Troop, Arms Freeze Opposed

He also said Britain would not advocate any troop and arms freeze plan in central Europe unless it was linked with the goal of German reunification.

Lloyd's remarks at the closed door afternoon session were relayed to newsmen by a NATO spokesman. They were clearly aimed at dispelling reports that the British favored making more concessions to the Soviets than do the United States, France, West Germany and other Atlantic Pact partners.

Some 1,400 delegates and distinguished guests from the member countries gathered to hear Eisenhower deliver a keynote address at the opening session of the three-day meeting called to review defenses against Soviet attack.

The main item of business was a report by the U.S., British, French and West German governments on a two-day conference which ended here Wednesday without agreement on what concessions to offer the Soviets.

Four Killed In Crash Of Bomber In Idaho

MOUNTAIN HOME AIR FORCE BASE, Idaho (UPI) — A B47 Strato-jet from Davis Monthan Air Force Base, Ariz., with four aboard crashed and burned in an attempt to make an emergency landing here Thursday.

There were no survivors, base officers said.

The accident occurred eight miles northwest of the air base runway in sagebrush country.

The jet was on a training mission and had departed from its home base at 7:15 a.m. It crashed about noon, officers said.

Musmanno Speaks:

Sacco, Vanzetti Called Victims Of 'Biased' Judge

BOSTON (AP)—Sacco and Vanzetti were the victims of a "vain, stupid, biased and prejudiced" judge, Pennsylvania Supreme Court Justice Michael A. Musmanno asserted Thursday.

Justice Musmanno made the charge during three hours of questioning as he appealed to the Legislative Committee on the Judiciary to approve a resolution filed with the Massachusetts Legislature, seeking a posthumous pardon for the two men.

Rep. Alexander J. Cella (D-Medford), sponsor of the resolution, told the committee the men were the victims of a wave of antiforeigner feeling which he said swept the state at the time of the trial in the 1920s.

Justice Musmanno was one of the lawyers associated with the defense. He entered the case after the conviction, and was active in innumerable appeals.

Nicola Sacco, a shoe worker, and Bartolomeo Vanzetti, a fish peddler, were accused of killing a shoe factory paymaster, Frederick A. Parmenter, and his armed guard, Allesandro Berardelli, and robbing them of a $17,000 payroll.

The holdup was in April 1920. Sacco and Vanzetti were tried the following year, but appeals dragged along until Aug. 22, 1927 when they were executed in the old Charlestown State Prison.

Plane Wins Close Race With Stork

ENNIS, Ireland (UPI) — The pilot of a New York-bound airliner turned his plane back over the Atlantic Thursday and raced the stork to Ireland.

Twenty minutes after the plane landed at Snannon, a daughter was born to Mrs. Mary Tredenjak, 20, an East German refugee.

Mrs. Tredenjak and her husband, Vlado, 26, a tailor, were among 80 German refugees in a Seaboard and Western airliner flying them to new homes and jobs in the United States.

About 90 minutes out, Mrs. Tredenjak knew her time had arrived and notified the pilot. He radioed back to Shannon that he was returning. Airline stewardesses attended the woman until she reached the Ennis Hospital.

"We're happy," said Tredenjak after the baby arrived. "But it was very exciting and we were frightened."

Tredenjak said he and his wife had no money and newsmen and others contributed money.

Physicist Plans Look At Venus From Balloon

NEW YORK (AP)—Ever been up in a balloon?

Dr. John D. Strong, 54, hasn't, either.

But the tall, white-haired, pipe-smoking physicist calmly looks forward to rising 15 miles on his first trip this summer.and staying at this dizzying altitude for 20 hours.

It's all part of revealing new ventures in balloon astronomy. This means sending telescopes up above 96 per cent of the earth's atmosphere so that viewing isn't disturbed by a shimmering blanket of air. At 15-mile height, stars won't twinkle.

The balloon astronomy was described Thursday to the American Optical Society by Dr. Strong of the Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore.

Last fall, Dr. Strong and Cmdr. Malcolm D. Ross of the Office of Naval Research, Washington, D.C. an experienced balloon pilot, were all set to soar up and study Mars. But the balloon developed rips.

"It's sort of important that the balloon not rip, and we think that problem is licked now," Dr. Strong told newsmen.

Their 12-inch telescope will look at spectral lines of light coming from Venus to determine whether its brilliant white clouds contain water vapor, and how much of it.

Why are they going up personally? The telescope can best be guided onto Venus by humans, with star-tracking devices then holding it steady.

"Sometimes you find something in your road to doing the experiment best, and I elected not to walk around this problem," explained Dr. Strong.

Hodges Quits Textile Strike Mediator Role

RALEIGH, N. C. (UPI) —Gov. Luther H. Hodges stepped out of his role as mediator in a tense textile strike at Henderson, N.C., Thursday admitting his personal efforts have failed to bring a settlement.

Hodges then called a special meeting of authorities because of "fear of possible further violence" in Henderson.

Henderson Mayor Carroll Singleton told newsmen a "Vance County committee for law and order" has been set up for night watch duty in Henderson's mill villages, scene of dynamitings and terrorism.

Singleton and Police Chief C. C. Harris said the night watch would not be a vigilante group and would not carry arms. A force of 100 state highway patrolmen is already on strike duty in Henderson, at Hodges' direction.

Sheriff E. A. Cottrell said he has been unable to hire special deputies for strike duty. The sheriff's office received authorization to hire 25 special deputies to bolster a force of three regular and four special deputies, but Cottrell said there were no volunteers.

Connie Practiced Firing Death Gun, Seller Says

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Minnie B. (Connie) Nicholas practiced shooting the tiny revolver with which her prominent, married sweetheart was slain, a shop-owner who sold her the gun testified at her murder trial Thursday.

William Gano, a gun and pawn shop operator, said he took Mrs. Nicholas to a spot outside the city limits to show her how to operate the French-made revolver she said she bought for protection.

Gano said the attractive 44-year-old divorcee bought the gun and some ammunition last July 14. Her lover of 15 years, wealthy drug firm executive Forrest Teel, was shot to death early on July 31 after spending the evening with a new woman friend.

Dep. Prosecutor Francis E. Thomason brought out in questioning Gano that the trigger of the .25-caliber, hammerless revolver must be pulled separately for each shot.

Gano's testimony came just after Judge Thomas J. Faulconer had ruled against admission of an autopsy surgeon's opinion on the relative position of Teel and Mrs. Nicholas in his car when three fatal shots were fired.

The state asked the question of Dr. Emmett C. Pierce in an attempt to discredit the accused woman's story that the shots were fired accidentally as Teel struggled with Mrs. Nicholas to prevent her from shooting herself.

Prosecutor Phillip L. Bayt and his staff contend the bullet wounds indicate Teel was sitting facing straight ahead behind the wheel of his car at the time of the shooting. Mrs. Nicholas had found his car and waited in it until he returned from his new friend's apartment.

Judge Faulconer ruled Pierce was not qualified to surmise on the position of the persons involved when the shots were fired.

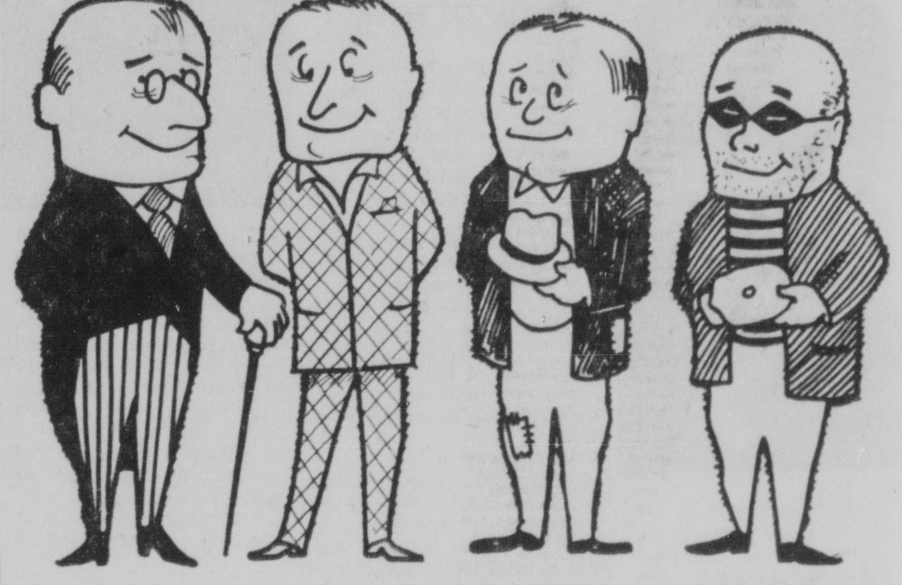

11 Persons Injured In Train Derailment

ATKINS, Iowa (UPI)—A Milwaukee Road passenger train, speeding for Chicago at full throttle, went off the tracks Thursday, injuring 11 persons.

Many more of the 90 passengers aboard the Omaha - to-Chicago train were shaken up when its nine cars jumped the tracks at 80 miles an hour.

None of the cars overturned, but 1,200 feet of track were torn up. Cause of the derailment just east of the Milwaukee Road yards was not determined.

Perfect Bridge Deal Reported

LONDON (UPI) — A perfect bridge hand, with each player receiving all 13 cards of the same suit, was dealt Wednesday and it was no April Fool's Day joke.

The hand was dealt by Dr. L.W. Rowleston.

The winner of the game at the St. James Club, was the Duke of Marlborough, 61, who held all spades. Peter Thursby received all clubs: Rowleston all diamonds, and Capt. Minto Wilson all hearts.

Experts figure the odds against such a perfect hand at 53,644,737,765,488,792,839,237,440,000 to one.

Grace Enters Clinic For Appendectomy

LAUSANNE, Switzerland (UPI) —Princess Grace of Monaco was admitted to the Cecil Clinic Thursday to have her appendix removed.

The Philadelphia-born princess' family doctor said the operation would be performed "sometime this week."

The princess, the former Grace Kelly of Hollywood, was accompanied to the 90-bed clinic by her husband, Prince Rainier.

The operation will be performed by Dr. James Lehman, of Philadelphia, long the Kelly family doctor. Because Swiss law stipulates foriegn surgeons must be assisted by a Swiss colleague, Dr. Jean-David Buffat will be present during the operation.

The composition of most cigarets today is said to be about 55 per cent flue-cured tobacco, 36 per cent burley, and the rest Maryland and imported tobacco.

ATKINS, Iowa (UPI)—A Milwaukee Road passenger train, speeding for Chicago at full throttle, went off the tracks Thursday, injuring 11 persons.

Many more of the 90 passengers aboard the Omaha - to-Chicago train were shaken up when its nine cars jumped the tracks at 80 miles an hour.

None of the cars overturned, but 1,200 feet of track were torn up. Cause of the derailment just east of the Milwaukee Road yards was not determined.

Perfect Bridge Deal Reported

LONDON (UPI) — A perfect bridge hand, with each player receiving all 13 cards of the same suit, was dealt Wednesday and it was no April Fool's Day joke.

The hand was dealt by Dr. L.W. Rowleston.

The winner of the game at the St. James Club, was the Duke of Marlborough, 61, who held all spades. Peter Thursby received all clubs: Rowleston all diamonds, and Capt. Minto Wilson all hearts.

Experts figure the odds against such a perfect hand at 53,644,737,765,488,792,839,237,440,000 to one.

Grace Enters Clinic For Appendectomy

LAUSANNE, Switzerland (UPI) —Princess Grace of Monaco was admitted to the Cecil Clinic Thursday to have her appendix removed.

The Philadelphia-born princess' family doctor said the operation would be performed "sometime this week."

The princess, the former Grace Kelly of Hollywood, was accompanied to the 90-bed clinic by her husband, Prince Rainier.

The operation will be performed by Dr. James Lehman, of Philadelphia, long the Kelly family doctor. Because Swiss law stipulates foriegn surgeons must be assisted by a Swiss colleague, Dr. Jean-David Buffat will be present during the operation.

The composition of most cigarets today is said to be about 55 per cent flue-cured tobacco, 36 per cent burley, and the rest Maryland and imported tobacco.

New York's Farmer Rabbi Is "Johnny On Spot"

By CLAIRE COX

NEW YORK (UPI) — Among 115 men ordained at Yeshiva University recently is a city boy who has become a country rabbi, ministering to an orthodox Jewish congregation of poultry farmers.

The congregation of veteran New York Rabbi Leonard M. Buchen, 26, is scattered over the central New Jersey countryside, just off the New Jersey Turnpike, near Perrineville.

It is one of the oldest farming communities in the United States, but it never had a full-time rabbi until Buchen was engaged two years ago.

"When I come to the city," he said in an interview, "I'm known to my colleagues as the farmer rabbi."

Buchen, a good-natured, energetic young man who received a mathematics degree before studying to be a rabbi, said the problem of his rural community is about 300 families probably are much the same as they would be if the settlement were 1,000 miles from the big town, instead of an hour's bus ride away.

Because his congregation is of the orthodox Jewish faith, it is governed by rigid religious rules.

No Car Rides

Riding in an automobile on the Sabbath is forbidden, for example, so Buchen's followers must walk to services. One of them, a man in his 80's, trudges four miles each way every Saturday.

The first Jewish weekend service is scheduled for sundown on Friday. This often conflicts with the farmers' schedules. Buchen said, and many of them are consistently late.

"They don't watch the clock," he said. "They come in late and then say 'Who knows when it is 5 o'clock?'"

Buchen said one of his biggest jobs has been to reconcile the differences between the old and young members of his congregation.

"The old timers are quite set in their ways," he said. "It is difficult to change them. But I have managed to bridge the gap between old and young with compromises."

He said that his members often have little time for the synagogue because many are community leaders, serving on town councils and Boy Scout councils and performing other civic tasks.

The congregation, named the first Hebrew Farmers Association of Perrineville, was founded in 1910 by immigrants from Europe. At the depth of the 1930's depression, the group formed the still-flourishing Central Jersey Farmers Cooperative. Later came the Central Jersey Credit Union and the Sunripe Tomato Cooperative.

In recent years, the farmers have stressed poultry and egg farming over truck crops.

Has No Hours

When Buchen, fresh from Yeshiva, arrived in Perrineville, a former summer resort, he found a synagogue, a community center and a burial ground. But there were no regular services, no youth programs and no educational classes.

He organized Friday and Saturday services, a weekly youth forum, a Hebrew Sunday school, a teen-age program and an adult education program.

"A rabbi doesn't have hours," he said. "I'm the rabbi, the sexton, the cantor, the teacher, the principal and the youth director. I visit the sick and bereaved and perform weddings. I'm Johnny on the spot.

"My house is open 24 hours a day. People knock on my door at all times of the day or night. The first morning we were there, at 6:30 a.m. there came a knock on the door. A man presented me with a basket of plums as a welcome gift.

"He had been up for three hours, working on his farm. I had been sound asleep, being a city boy."

Safe Drivers Will Get Break

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The California motorist who has driven three years without accident or traffic conviction will get a 20 per cent cut in his car insurance costs May 1.

Conversely, drivers with two or more accidents or traffic convictions in the past three years will pay more. For drivers with five accidents or convictions in the three-year period, the cost will be exactly twice the standard rate. That will be the maximum.

The automobile insurance industry announced Wednesday the new safe driver insurance plan, with California a testing ground for the rest of the nation.

If the plan works here, it will be extended into other states where motor vehicle departments keep adequate records on the accident and arrest experience of licensed drivers.

National Automobile Underwriters Assn. spokesmen said 200 companies who follow the groups' rate standards write about 70 per cent of auto insurance volume in California.

Attention Spinsters

LONDON (UPI) — The registrar general had an encouraging word Thursday for English spinsters who may be seeking husbands 40 years from now. Officials released statistics showing that by 1998 there would be only 503,000 more women than men in England and Wales. Women now outnumber men by 1,490,000.

WEDDING HIKES TV SALES

TOKYO (UPI) — Officials said Thursday the forth-coming wedding of Crown Prince Akihito and commoner Miss Michiko Shoda has stimulated the sale of television sets, which hit a record high of 200,000 in March. Set-buyers apparently wanted to be sure of seeing the wedding on TV.

The cuckoo and the cowbird lay their eggs in the nests of other birds.

APPOINT WOMAN MINISTER

MOSCOW (UPI)—The Supreme Soviet (Parliament) of Ajerbaijan Republic in the Soviet Union has appointed its first woman foreign minister, the Soviet Tass news agency reported Wednesday night. She is Taira Tairova, a prominent stateswoman.

Stamps Cause Riot

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—Vatican guards had to be called out Thursday to control a crowd of avid stamp collectors. The collectors stormed two small Vatican postoffices to purchase the first series of stamps issued in the reign of Pope John XXIII.

LETHAL MAIL

ST. HELIER, Isle Of Jersey, England (UPI) — E. N. Walker, a bomb disposal expert, appealed to residents of the Isle of Jersey to turn over all dangerous war souvenirs. He said he received a number of anti-tank bombs and a hand grenade loaded with nitroglycerine in his mail.

Tibet May Be Strangest, Least-Known Country

By ARTHUR EDSON

WASHINGTON (AP)—Now you take Tibet, which apparently is what the Chinese Communists have done, lock, stock and lama.

It may be the strangest and least known country in the world.

Look at its present difficulties. Where else could you have a lama, a god who is a descendant of gods, disappear — and yet have another lama, also a god from a godly line, still in business?

So if you'll adjust your oxygen masks, let's away to Tibet via the friendly natives in the National Geographic Society Library.

First, about those oxygen masks. They may come in handy, for unless you're a Tibetan or a yak, you're likely to have trouble in its rarefied air.

Tibet is on a plateau, 12,000 to 15,000 feet high, surrounded by colossal mountain ranges. The climate is so peculiar you can sunburn one side of your face while feeling cool on the other.

The yak has meant more to Tibet than Henry Ford has to Detroit. The yak is driven, milked and eaten—not simultaneously, of course. Yak dung supplies fuel. Yak wool makes clothes. Yak hides are dandy for boats. A good yak, if he's in a hurry, pulls a load along at a leisurely 1½ miles an hour.

Nobody seems sure how many people live in Tibet, a country roughly the size of a couple of Texases. But the figure probably is somewhere around a million, with 800,000 serfs, 150,000 monks and 50,000 nobles, merchants and beggars.

Nobody seems to know much about its early history either.

But the Tibetans got the jump on Darwin in their legends. They say the first man came from the mating of a monkey and a goddess.

Recorded history began around the seventh century.

One of its earliest heroes was Songstan Gambo, a man with enough quirks to keep a psychiatry school in business for a decade. He hated his father and other men, and revered his mother.

It's thought he helped spread Tibet's unusual marriage custom, polyandry. It is practiced chiefly by the poor herders. A couple has one flock and several sons. The oldest son marries, and shares his wife with his brothers.

The herd, and the family, is thus held together. Nobody worries about who fathers whom.

How do you stand on polygny? Occasionally a rich Tibetan marries a girl and gets not only her but all her sisters.

Before the Communists moved in, the Tibetan described his country as a land with "a government of the god, by the god and for the god."

The Dalai Lama is—or was—the head man in temporal affairs—he's the one who disappeared during the recent uprisings—while the Panchen Lama is top dog in spiritual matters.

Most news stories have hinted these two were running competitive shops, but earlier writers have said the two lamas, each of whom is in his early 20s, got along fine.

Synthetic dyes have almost completely displaced the natural dyes of vegetables and animal origin that people used for millenniums to brighten their surroundings with colorful fabrics, pottery or glass.

No Joke Son

SWANSEA, England (UPI) — Judge H. Llewelyn Williams took a dim view of the April Fool's joke played by Ira Cresswell, 28. Cresswell said just for a laugh he pushed a motorcycle a few yards away from the spot where it had been parked to befuddle its owner. The judge fined him $30.80 for operating the machine without consent of the owner.

Women Golfers To Open Season

The opening spring luncheon of the Women's Golf Association will be held Tuesday at the Cumberland Country Club, beginning at 12:30.

Mrs. William Geppert will preside and introduce her committee chairmen. Plans for the season are to be formulated and reports of the board will be given.

Board members are Mrs. William George, Mrs. Lee Johnson, Mrs. Gordon Bowie, Mrs. William Carscaden, Mrs. William Ryan and Mrs. Robert Davis.

Chairmen are Mrs. A. J. Mirkin, locker room; Mrs. Paul Fletcher, publicity; Miss Madolyn Norris, luncheon; Mrs. W. A. Cooley, telephone; Mrs. John Moberly, prizes; Mrs. Louis Spoerl, Mrs. Lester Deneen, hospitality; and Mrs. James Truka, correspondence.

Kenneth Ritter, Bedford Street, is a patient in Sacred Heart Hospital.

Older Youth 4-H To Place Welcome Signs On Roads

Plans to purchase signs, and for the next meeting program were formulated at the meeting of the Older Youth 4-H Club which was held at the home of David Garland, Morningside Drive, Wednesday.

The signs to welcome people into the county will be placed on the road toward Ellerslie, Pinto and Oldtown Road, with the fourth as a replacement. The club already has placed signs on each approach to Route 40 and Route 220.

It was decided to make a tour of the old Fort Cumberland tunnels at Emmanuel Episcopal Church, visit George Washington's headquarters in Riverside Park and the Allegany County Historical Society building, preceding the meeting May 6. Following the tours Harry Stegmaier will give a talk on local history.

Marlene Clark conducted the meeting. Herbert Heavner reported on attending the citizenship tour to Annapolis. The boys planned to clear the ball park at Pleasant Valley this spring.

Announcement was made of a Older Youth Camp, "The Rocks," which is near Baltimore and will be held in May. Each county is entitled to four representatives. The club named Robert Shubert, Herbert Heavner, Charlotte King, Marlene Clark and Susan Miller to represent Allegany County.

"College Weekend" also was announced. It is for 4-H juniors and seniors and will be held at the University of Maryland in April. Several indicated they plan to attend.

Joseph Minke, regional game warden, was guest speaker and discussed deer hunting. Concluding the meeting refreshments were served by Lois Miltenberger. There were 22 present.

Social Chart

The Women's Guild of Holy Cross Church will meet at 7:30 tonight at the parish hall.

A rummage sale will be held by the Grove 11, Supreme Forest Woodmen Circle, tomorrow from 10 until 5 in the WOW hall.

The Owls Auxiliary will meet tonight at the home at 7:30.

Potomac Valley Riding Club will meet Sunday at 7:30 at the club house. Members are asked to attend as there will be nomination of officers.

Jewish Youth of Cumberland will be hosts to the National Federation of Temple Youth from Johnstown, Pa., Sunday noon for a luncheon in B'er Chayim vestry room. A business session will follow.

McKinley Chapter 12, OES, will meet at 8 o'clock tonight at the temple.

Mrs. Florence Wolf, RD 1, Cumberland, is a patient in Johns Hopkins Hospital, Baltimore.

Raymond Reynolds, 101 Park Street, is a patient in Baker VA Hospital, Martinsburg.

Jr. Women Endorse Library

Following a talk by Mrs. Bruce Douglas, president of the Community Council, the Junior Woman's Civic Club agreed to endorse a county library. Mrs. Douglas reported the club calender has proven satisfactory and is available to non-members. Speaking of the beautification of Cumberland, she made suggestions for the club projects. They included flower boxes, yard contests with prizes and a cleanup day.

The slate of officers of the Junior Woman's Civic Club was presented by the nominating committee at the meeting Wednesday evening at the Woman's Civic Club house. Mrs. Arthur Crum presided and Mrs. Edward Sokolowski made the report.

Nominees are Miss Marian Hull, Mrs. Raymond Lapp for president; Mrs. James Preaskorn, Mrs. Ralph Sell Jr., vice president; Mrs. Thomas Golightly, Mrs. Richard Laher, corresponding secretary; Miss Angela Long, Mrs. John Pevear, recording secretary; Mrs. Edwin Everhart, Mrs. Charles Smith, treasurer. Election will be May 6.

Announcement of the Maryland Federation of Women's Clubs meeting in Baltimore, April 19-21 was made by Mrs. Crum; also Junior Day, the 19th; and the First District meeting in Frederick April 29. Mrs. Howard Buchanan reported 18,000 cancelled stamps were collected for the federation's veterans program. Mrs. George Ward and Mrs. Stanley Miller were welcomed as members.

A report on the style show, luncheon and card party May 9 at the club house was given by Mrs. George Hazelwood Jr. Tickets are available from her or any member. Reservations are to be made by May 5.

Miss Mary Wise was guest speaker. Her topic was "Accessories, Gems of the Home." She illustrated her talk with slides. Miss Wise also explained the extension program and sources of information available to clubs or anyone, whether a club member or not. A white elephant sale and social followed. Refreshments were served by Mrs. George Carney Jr., Mrs. William Kirk, Mrs. Harold Hawkins, Mrs. John MacVeigh and Mrs. Edward Mason.

G. Bates Chaires Honored At Dinner

Employes of District 6 of the State Roads Commission entertained with a testimonial dinner in honor of G. Bates Chaires, new director of highway maintenance in Maryland. It was held at the Elks home. William Goldsborough served as toastmaster and presented a gift to Mr. Chaires, who has been district engineer for the past 14 years for the State Roads commission.

Dr., Mrs. Castelle Post Top Score

Finishing with a score of 174, Dr. and Mrs. Paul Castelle had top score in the Master Point game of the Potomac Valley Bridge Club Tuesday evening at the Woman's Civic Club house. The average was 143. Other North-South winners were Richard Dailey, C. William Dailey, 155; Mrs. Emmett Jones, Edgar Dawson, 153½; and a tie between John Wilkinson, William A. Douglas and Miss Loretta Hannon, Harding Monroe, with 152.

With an average of 132 East-West winners were Mrs. Loraine Eisenberg, Mrs. Ray Goetz with 158½; Mrs. Edwin Jones, Russ Minter, 157; Mrs. William Snyder, John Moberly, 153; and Mr. and Mrs. Norman Taylor, 144.

BPW To Elect Delegates To State Convention Here

Election of delegates to the state convention and members to the local club's nominating committee are chief items on the business agenda at Tuesday's 5:30 dinner meeting of the Cumberland Business and Professional Women's Club. Mrs. Kathleen Burke will preside at the meeting to be held at the Central YMCA, and will appoint an auditing committee.

Nine delegates will be elected to represent the Cumberland club officially at the convention of the Maryland Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs to be held in Cumberland on May 1-3. Most of the activities of the convention will take place at the Fort Cumberland Hotel.

Three members will be elected to the nominating committee. Both the nominating committee and the auditing committee will report at the annual meeting in May.

Miss Helene Knippenberg, chairman of the National Security committee, is in charge of the program following the dinner. She will introduce a state trooper, who will give an illustrated talk on, "Home Front Safety Means a Stronger Nation." Miss Mary Walsh is to give the inspirational reading. Others serving with Miss Knippenberg are Mrs. Elizabeth Sewell. Miss Virginia Koegle, Mrs. Helen Johnson, Miss Mildred Twigg and Miss Mildred Ross.

Past presidents and all new members elected this year are to meet at 5:20 Tuesday.

Class To Be April 12

A class for church school officers and teachers of First Presbyterian Church will be conducted by Rev. Maurice Robertson April 12. The class is to be limited to 25. Anyone interested may obtain a booklet for the first discussion period at the church office.

Members Welcomed Home

A "welcome home" breakfast was served by the First Presbyterian Church School Sunday morning in the men's Bible class room, for young adults home for Easter, and members of the class, which is taught by Robert Pence.

Attending were John Cook, Thomas Ward, Neil Phillips, Ann Decker, Janice Burchard, Samuel Durland, Nancy Close, Sharon Growden, Richard Rankin, Harry Miller, Charles Thrasher, William Tubbs, Robert Arthur, Herbert Gaither, John Weatherholt, and Shirley Turley and several guests.

Mr. Pence, Rev. Maurice Robertson, Rev. Emil Teyssier, Herman Smith, Mrs. Ralph Wilson and Mrs. Wallace Close also attended.

Capt. Jobson Leaves For Cambodia

Captain Robert C. Jobson left Tuesday morning for Oakland, Calif., en route to Cambodia, where he has been assigned to the Military Advisory Assistance Group for one year. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. David Jobson, 1702 Bedford Road.

Accompanied by her mother-in-law, Mrs. Jobson left Wednesday for Lake Charles, La., where she will reside while her husband is away.

Women Golfers To Open Season

The opening spring luncheon of the Women's Golf Association will be held Tuesday at the Cumberland Country Club, beginning at 12:30.

Mrs. William Geppert will preside and introduce her committee chairmen. Plans for the season are to be formulated and reports of the board will be given.

Board members are Mrs. William George, Mrs. Lee Johnson, Mrs. Gordon Bowie, Mrs. William Carscaden, Mrs. William Ryan and Mrs. Robert Davis.

Chairmen are Mrs. A. J. Mirkin, locker room; Mrs. Paul Fletcher, publicity; Miss Madolyn Norris, luncheon; Mrs. W. A. Cooley, telephone; Mrs. John Moberly, prizes; Mrs. Louis Spoerl, Mrs. Lester Deneen, hospitality; and Mrs. James Truka, correspondence.

Kenneth Ritter, Bedford Street, is a patient in Sacred Heart Hospital.

Older Youth 4-H To Place Welcome Signs On Roads

Plans to purchase signs, and for the next meeting program were formulated at the meeting of the Older Youth 4-H Club which was held at the home of David Garland, Morningside Drive, Wednesday.

The signs to welcome people into the county will be placed on the road toward Ellerslie, Pinto and Oldtown Road, with the fourth as a replacement. The club already has placed signs on each approach to Route 40 and Route 220.

It was decided to make a tour of the old Fort Cumberland tunnels at Emmanuel Episcopal Church, visit George Washington's headquarters in Riverside Park and the Allegany County Historical Society building, preceding the meeting May 6. Following the tours Harry Stegmaier will give a talk on local history.

Marlene Clark conducted the meeting. Herbert Heavner reported on attending the citizenship tour to Annapolis. The boys planned to clear the ball park at Pleasant Valley this spring.

Announcement was made of a Older Youth Camp, "The Rocks," which is near Baltimore and will be held in May. Each county is entitled to four representatives. The club named Robert Shubert, Herbert Heavner, Charlotte King, Marlene Clark and Susan Miller to represent Allegany County.

"College Weekend" also was announced. It is for 4-H juniors and seniors and will be held at the University of Maryland in April. Several indicated they plan to attend.

Joseph Minke, regional game warden, was guest speaker and discussed deer hunting. Concluding the meeting refreshments were served by Lois Miltenberger. There were 22 present.

Howard Twigg has returned to his home in Mt. Savage, after being a patient in Sacred Heart Hospital.

Mrs. Florence Wolf, RD 1, Cumberland, is a patient in Johns Hopkins Hospital, Baltimore.

Raymond Reynolds, 101 Park Street, is a patient in Baker VA Hospital, Martinsburg.

Social Chart

The Women's Guild of Holy Cross Church will meet at 7:30 tonight at the parish hall.

A rummage sale will be held by the Grove 11, Supreme Forest Woodmen Circle, tomorrow from 10 until 5 in the WOW hall.

The Owls Auxiliary will meet tonight at the home at 7:30.

Potomac Valley Riding Club will meet Sunday at 7:30 at the club house. Members are asked to attend as there will be nomination of officers.

Jewish Youth of Cumberland will be hosts to the National Federation of Temple Youth from Johnstown, Pa., Sunday noon for a luncheon in B'er Chayim vestry room. A business session will follow.

McKinley Chapter 12, OES, will meet at 8 o'clock tonight at the temple.

Jr. Women Endorse Library

Following a talk by Mrs. Bruce Douglas, president of the Community Council, the Junior Woman's Civic Club agreed to endorse a county library. Mrs. Douglas reported the club calender has proven satisfactory and is available to non-members. Speaking of the beautification of Cumberland, she made suggestions for the club projects. They included flower boxes, yard contests with prizes and a cleanup day.

The slate of officers of the Junior Woman's Civic Club was presented by the nominating committee at the meeting Wednesday evening at the Woman's Civic Club house. Mrs. Arthur Crum presided and Mrs. Edward Sokolowski made the report.

Nominees are Miss Marian Hull, Mrs. Raymond Lapp for president; Mrs. James Preaskorn, Mrs. Ralph Sell Jr., vice president; Mrs. Thomas Golightly, Mrs. Richard Laher, corresponding secretary; Miss Angela Long, Mrs. John Pevear, recording secretary; Mrs. Edwin Everhart, Mrs. Charles Smith, treasurer. Election will be May 6.

Announcement of the Maryland Federation of Women's Clubs meeting in Baltimore, April 19-21 was made by Mrs. Crum; also Junior Day, the 19th; and the First District meeting in Frederick April 29. Mrs. Howard Buchanan reported 18,000 cancelled stamps were collected for the federation's veterans program. Mrs. George Ward and Mrs. Stanley Miller were welcomed as members.

A report on the style show, luncheon and card party May 9 at the club house was given by Mrs. George Hazelwood Jr. Tickets are available from her or any member. Reservations are to be made by May 5.

Miss Mary Wise was guest speaker. Her topic was "Accessories, Gems of the Home." She illustrated her talk with slides. Miss Wise also explained the extension program and sources of information available to clubs or anyone, whether a club member or not. A white elephant sale and social followed. Refreshments were served by Mrs. George Carney Jr., Mrs. William Kirk, Mrs. Harold Hawkins, Mrs. John MacVeigh and Mrs. Edward Mason.

G. Bates Chaires Honored At Dinner

Employes of District 6 of the State Roads Commission entertained with a testimonial dinner in honor of G. Bates Chaires, new director of highway maintenance in Maryland. It was held at the Elks home. William Goldsborough served as toastmaster and presented a gift to Mr. Chaires, who has been district engineer for the past 14 years for the State Roads commission.

Dr., Mrs. Castelle Post Top Score

Finishing with a score of 174, Dr. and Mrs. Paul Castelle had top score in the Master Point game of the Potomac Valley Bridge Club Tuesday evening at the Woman's Civic Club house. The average was 143. Other North-South winners were Richard Dailey, C. William Dailey, 155; Mrs. Emmett Jones, Edgar Dawson, 153½; and a tie between John Wilkinson, William A. Douglas and Miss Loretta Hannon, Harding Monroe, with 152.

With an average of 132 East-West winners were Mrs. Loraine Eisenberg, Mrs. Ray Goetz with 158½; Mrs. Edwin Jones, Russ Minter, 157; Mrs. William Snyder, John Moberly, 153; and Mr. and Mrs. Norman Taylor, 144.

BPW To Elect Delegates To State Convention Here

Election of delegates to the state convention and members to the local club's nominating committee are chief items on the business agenda at Tuesday's 5:30 dinner meeting of the Cumberland Business and Professional Women's Club. Mrs. Kathleen Burke will preside at the meeting to be held at the Central YMCA, and will appoint an auditing committee.

Nine delegates will be elected to represent the Cumberland club officially at the convention of the Maryland Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs to be held in Cumberland on May 1-3. Most of the activities of the convention will take place at the Fort Cumberland Hotel.

Three members will be elected to the nominating committee. Both the nominating committee and the auditing committee will report at the annual meeting in May.

Miss Helene Knippenberg, chairman of the National Security committee, is in charge of the program following the dinner. She will introduce a state trooper, who will give an illustrated talk on, "Home Front Safety Means a Stronger Nation." Miss Mary Walsh is to give the inspirational reading. Others serving with Miss Knippenberg are Mrs. Elizabeth Sewell, Miss Virginia Koegle, Mrs. Helen Johnson, Miss Mildred Twigg and Miss Mildred Ross.

Past presidents and all new members elected this year are to meet at 5:20 Tuesday.

Class To Be April 12

A class for church school officers and teachers of First Presbyterian Church will be conducted by Rev. Maurice Robertson April 12. The class is to be limited to 25. Anyone interested may obtain a booklet for the first discussion period at the church office.

Members Welcomed Home

A "welcome home" breakfast was served by the First Presbyterian Church School Sunday morning in the men's Bible class room, for young adults home for Easter, and members of the class, which is taught by Robert Pence.

Attending were John Cook, Thomas Ward, Neil Phillips, Ann Decker, Janice Burchard, Samuel Durland, Nancy Close, Sharon Growden, Richard Rankin, Harry Miller, Charles Thrasher, William Tubbs, Robert Arthur, Herbert Gaither, John Weatherholt, and Shirley Turley and several guests.

Mr. Pence, Rev. Maurice Robertson, Rev. Emil Teyssier, Herman Smith, Mrs. Ralph Wilson and Mrs. Wallace Close also attended.

Capt. Jobson Leaves For Cambodia

Captain Robert C. Jobson left Tuesday morning for Oakland, Calif., en route to Cambodia, where he has been assigned to the Military Advisory Assistance Group for one year. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. David Jobson, 1702 Bedford Road.

Accompanied by her mother-in-law, Mrs. Jobson left Wednesday for Lake Charles, La., where she will reside while her husband is away.

Nehru Finding His Neutralist Role Difficult

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst

As the years go by, Prime Minister Nehru of India finds the lot of the neutralist more and more difficult.

A decade ago Nehru accepted the idea that he and India had to get along with Red China.

He also had the idea that he might ride out the current world conflict and one day emerge as leader not only of an India which had escaped the worst threats of cold war and possibly hot war, but also of a reviving Asia.

One idea was forced on him by Red China's growing power, the other by his own philosophy.

Acting in a character touched by time spent in British jails, having seen and fought Western imperialism, he took with a grain of salt the charges that international communism designed a new imperialism. He philosophically decided to let time develop the evidence on that score.

Nehru's philosophy has been condoned by the West, which has gone right ahead trying to help India solve her tremendous problems.

Now he learns the bread isn't buttered on both sides.

With their great knack for displaying their clay feet, the Peiping Reds have now turned on him in fury.

The people of India have cultural ties and great sympathy for the Tibetans. Their natural impulse is to go to the aid of the battling patriots of the isolated Himalayan state. Barred from that by circumstance, they would like to offer moral support from which Nehru's diplomacy backs away.

He was embarrassed by the suggestion that the Dalai Lama, if he is alive and could escape, might ask sanctuary in India, which could be granted only against a storm of Communist protest.

Exchanges between Peiping and New Delhi already are becoming bitter because of Red charges that India has provided a base for the Tibetan revolt.

Nehru thus finds himself out of tune with the West, out of tune with the Communists, and for this one time separated from his own people by what he thinks are the necessities of diplomacy.

Barbara Healthy Enough For Quiz On Tax Charges

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—Joseph Barbara Sr. is healthy enough to face federal charges of income tax evasion and questioning about the gangland meeting at his Apalachin home, three heart specialists said Wednesday.

The 53-year-old Barbara's attorney and family claim that Barbara is crippled with a heart condition and that interrogation might prove fatal. Barbara has evaded questioning since state police broke up a gathering of 60 underworld characters and friends at his hilltop mansion Nov. 14, 1957.

The State Investigation Commission has attempted to learn what happened at the meeting. Some investigators have described it as a convention of the Mafia to discuss drugs and other rackets.

Judge James T. Foley ordered Barbara to appear April 27 in U.S. District Court for arraignment on charges that he evaded $14,000 in income taxes.

Steel Talks Like Giant Poker Game

By NORMAN WALKER
Associated Press Labor Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Every time the steel industry and the Steelworkers Union tangle over a new labor contract—as they will again in May—the script is about the same.

First come the carefully prepared arguments from both sides—arguments they hope will be persuasive.

The negotiations then generally fall into deadlock, amid government appeals to avoid an impending "paralyzing strike."

Finally the opponents, sometimes after a strike, put aside most of their earlier economic contentions and reach a compromise settlement.

Seldom is all this accomplished without somebody getting hurt. The economic consequences usually include higher prices and higher wages all along the line.

Let's take a look at some of the cards each side is holding in the giant poker game soon to begin:

For industry — (1) A mounting inventory. (2) An official government holddown on inflationary wage and price increases. (3) Considerable distaste for a strike on the part of the public, including steelworkers now enjoying full pay envelopes after a bad year in 1958. (4) High wages already paid in steel.

For the union—(1) Rising steel productivity. (2) An expected banner industry profit year in 1959. (3) An argument, now supported even among government economists, that steel prices have been too high for some time. (4) A militant union that has staunchly followed its leadership in the past.

Right now the industry is producing more steel than ever before in history. By the time present steel wage contracts run out June 30 there will be an estimated 60-to 90-day inventory. This obviously will be to the industry's advantage. It will have enough steel on hand so a strike of moderate length won't hurt steel customers.

David J. McDonald, the union's president, can be expected to argue that record production will mean record profits, out of which he contends a share should go to the workers.

The 1958 annual report of the United States Steel Corp., just issued, shows this top industry producer operated at less than 60 per cent of capacity last year, yet paid record dividends and had 115 million dollars left over for reinvestment in the business.

Production now is nearing 100 per cent of capacity. That pace probably can't be maintained all year. In fact, even if there is no strike, a letdown may occur later in the year. But 1959 production is going to be high, and so will profits.

The industry says profits should be higher. It now has nearly 150 million tons annual capacity, compared with less than 100 million a decade ago. Steelmen say more profits are needed to assure continued growth.

Both sides in the coming steel dispute have been urged by the government to avoid a wage increase so expensive it will cause another steel price boost. This might put a limit on the poker game.

Washington Monument Is Sinking Faster

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Washington Monument is sinking faster.

In the last year, the 555 foot obelisk has settled three-sixteenths of an inch. The average since its completion in 1884 has been one-sixteenth of an inch annually.

Henry Weeden, national capital parks engineer, did the measuring.

17,340,000 Canadians

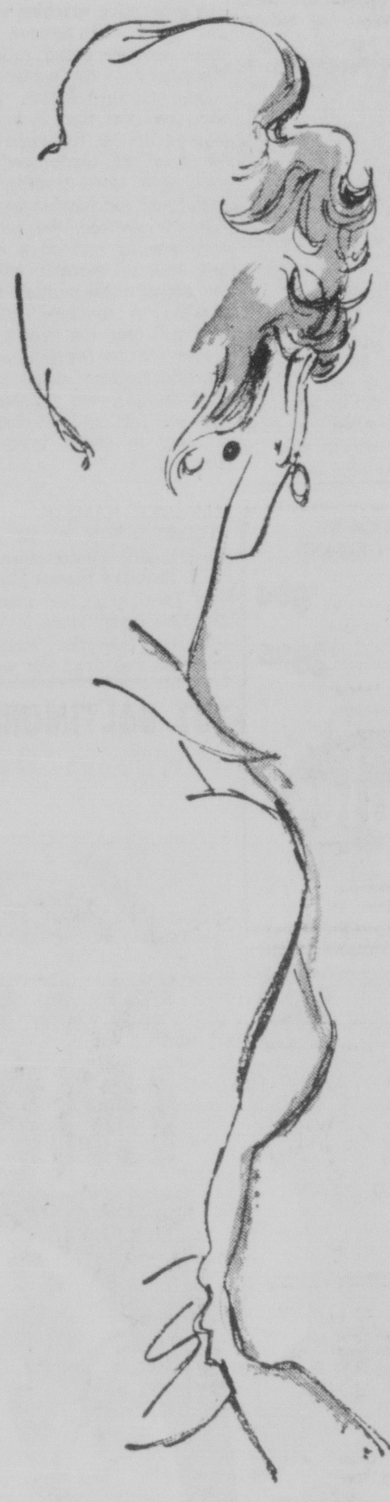

OTTAWA (AP)—Canada's population March 1 was estimated officially at 17,340,000. The current rise has been slightly less than other recent years because of a slowdown on immigration, officials said.

Haney Found Guilty Of Manslaughter In Slaying Of Fellow W. Md. Engineer

FREDERICK (AP)—A veteran railway engineer Thursday was found guilty of manslaughter in the fatal shooting of a fellow engineer with whom he had carried on a long-smoldering quarrel.

Circuit Court Judge Patrick M. Schauffner did not sentence 68-year-old James T. Haney immediately. He called for a report on the case first from the State Department of Parole and Probation.

Haney was convicted of slaying James R. Cuddy Jr., 41, last Nov. 15 at Hagerstown when the men met at a change of work shifts. Both men worked for Western Maryland Railway at Hagerstown.

Judge Schauffner withheld sentence after hearing Dr. S.R.Wells of Hagerstown testify that the accused was "definitely deteriorating mentally" because of a five-months stay in jail awaiting trial.

Haney had been held on a first degree murder change and was not eligible to be released on bail.

An all-male jury had been selected to hear the case. But the prosecution and defense agreed to a manslaughter charge, and the case was tried before Judge Schauffner without a jury.

Testimony showed that one of the roots of dissension that poisoned relations between Haney and Cuddy was the fact Cuddy wanted to see Haney retired to make way for younger men.

Haney took the stand and testified that the differences between the two dated back to 1955. Cuddy, said the defendant, had violently shaken him, threatened him and called him names.

Haney said that on the day of the shooting Cuddy and his father, James R. Cuddy Sr., met him (Haney) near the railway yards. The defendant told the court that the younger Cuddy slapped Haney without provocation, knocking him down.

It was further testified by Haney that he happened to have a .22 caliber pistol with him with which he had been shooting rats at the hog pen on the farm where he stayed.

He said he pulled the gun out of his pocket and — since his glasses had been knocked off by Cuddy — he shot "blindly." He added he did not intend to hit Cuddy, who was shot in the chest.

The senior Cuddy testified that Haney had taken out his pistol and pulled the trigger once. He said Haney cocked the weapon again and fired it. Cuddy Sr.added that Haney turned the pistol toward him (Cuddy) but did not fire.

Haney was represented by attorneys Charles F. Wataman and T. Aubrey Kemp of Hagerstown and William M. Storm of Frederick. Counsel for the state were Washington County State's Atty. James S. Strine, Frederick County State's Atty. Edwin Nikirk and David K. Poole Jr., also of Hagerstown.

U.S. Jet Pilot Killed

WIESBADEN, Germany (UPI)—U.S. Air Force authorities announced Wednesday that Lt. Edward G. Nemer, 26, of Lewiston, N.Y., was killed when his F86D interceptor jet crashed into the Mediterranean Monday night.

Work Begins On Push Button Post Office

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (AP)—Construction of the first U. S. post office to be operated by push buttons and automation was started Thursday.

Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield, launching the project, said the plant will be far ahead of anything in the world. He said it will serve as a model and laboratory for developing automatic post offices in other major cities.

The 20-million-dollar project being built by Intelex Systems, Inc., New York, a subsidiary of International Telephone & Telegraph Corp., will be leased to the federal government in September 1960. It will serve more than a hundred post offices, branches and postal stations in Rhode Island and southeastern Massachusetts.

Crates of unsorted mail, trucked in, will start trips through the three-acre plant on conveyors. A dial setting will send each crate to its special destination. An operator in a control tower will handle routing.

A separating machine with electric cells will remove parcels, large envelopes and rolled mail. Machinery with surface-sensing heads will face letters the same way, and will turn it so that the stamps are in the right position for cancelling. Unstamped mail, or mail with extra stamps, will be tossed out for hand-cancelling.

Neatly stacked, the letters will drop one by one on a conveyor belt and an operator will punch the proper code number for each address. A machine "memory" then will drop the letters into the proper bins for bundling and loading into outgoing sacks. A somewhat similar, but simpler operation will sort and distribute mail arriving in sacks from distant cities.

MANAGER NAMED

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—State Liquor Commissioner Morris C. Shawkey named Edward L. Hurt Tuesday as new manager of the state liquor store in Williamson. Hurt succeeds Wayne Hatfield who was fired last week.

Gunman Robs Loan Company

SILVER SPRING, Md. (AP)—A gunman wearing a blue stocking cap and trench coat held up the National Acceptance Corp., a loan company at 8425 Georgia Ave., Thursday and got away with about $2,000.

Police were told the man entered the office about 1:30 p. m. and ordered the one customer and four employes in the place at the time to gather near the cash drawer.

He then handed a paper bag to Don Roath, an employe, and told him to fill it with money. Roath told police he put about $2,000 into the bag.

Court Reorganization Measure Shelved

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—The state's appellate court system won't be reorganized at this session of the General Assembly.

The Senate Judicial Proceedings Committee decided Thursday that more study should be given to proposals for adding a sixth judge to the Court of Appeals and creating a new Special Court of Appeals.

The committee referred the two bills back to the Maryland Bar Assn. Both measures had passed the House but were expected to hit a snag in the upper chamber.

The bills were drafted by a special committee of the bar association in a move to reduce the workload of Maryland's highest court.

But they were attacked at a hearing by five of the state's leading lawyers and Appellate Judge Hall Hammond. All six men found vices in the proposals and offered alternate plans.

Senate Endorses Bill To Curb Prison Racket

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—The Maryland Senate was told Thursday that some prison inmates are making a profitable racket out of self-inflicted injuries and are using the profits on gambling, bookmaking and hiring of lawyers to obtain their release.

Moments later the senators tentatively approved a bill designed to curb this.

Sen. John-Clarence North (D-Talbot), sponsor of the bill, gave this picture:

Over a three-year period 2,127 claims for workmen's injury compensation have been filed by prisoners in the State Penitentiary, House of Correction, Patuxent Institution and Reformatory for Males.

More than 1,500 of these were filed by inmates of the Reformatory, which has only 3,800 assigned to work details.

This is a six-fold increase and has resulted in State Accident Fund payments totaling $235,343 to prisoners.

The fund was set up as injury liability insurance for employers of persons doing such dangerous work that commercial companies won't insure them. Under the law, the state is classified as an employer and its prisoners as employes. The law also includes virtually all working prisoners—even kitchen help — among those engaged in "extra-hazardous employment."

Officials of the fund have reported cases of apparently intentional self-maiming — such as severed fingertips and crushed hands in door jambs — by prisoners to obtain money from the fund.

The superintendent of prisons said prisoners collecting money as a result of successful claims "are encouraged to take part in gambling and bookmaking" behind bars. They also open small-loan businesses. Many hire lawyers to try to get them pardoned, paroled or released through habeas corpus actions.

"This," said North, "was not the purpose for passage of the Workmen's Compensation Act."

His bill would restrict prisoner claims to those involving permanent disability. Payments on even these claims would be withheld until the prisoner is released.

Eisenhower To Speak At St. John's College

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower will speak informally May 22 at ceremonies at St. John's College, Annapolis, Md.

The occasion will be the decication of the Francis Scott Key Memorial Auditorium at the college.

HEY! WAIT FOR THE TRAINS! The subway through which little underground trains will ply between the brand new Senate Office Building and the Capitol was completed the other day and they started to cover it over. The covering was halted abruptly, however. Someone remembered they still had to get the trains down there.

BLACK-EYED SUSANS HAVE THEIR DAY—On Maryland Day, March 25, I introduced in the U.S. Senate a joint resolution designating the Black-eyed Susan as the National Flower. I proposed Maryland's State Flower for the national honor previously sought for the rose, the marigold, the carnation, and the corn tassel.

In my remarks on the Senate Floor on the observance of Maryland Day, I referred to the reasons we call Maryland the Free State.

SUN-POWERED SPACESHIPS —The scientists who are credited with our progress thus far in space exploration are now "thinking out loud" about the kind of vehicles which will carry earth men about the Solar System. The spaceships envisaged would really be two ships connected by a half-mile cable and swinging around one another in flight, to provide the centrifugal force which they say is necessary for men to live and work in space. They believe the ships would be driven by engines powered by the sun's rays. Necessary in the plan would be a "universe mirror", orbiting at the same speed the earth revolves, to concentrate light and heat from the sun.

By-products of the "universe mirror", the scientists say, would be the melting of icebergs, the freeing of icebound harbors, the giving to cities of night light as bright as day, and the changing of deserts into fertile lands.

COMMITTEE WORK, FULL SCHEDULE — During this past week, our Senate Committee on Banking and Currency held hearings relating to reserve requirements to be maintained by member banks of the Federal Reserve System. A subcommittee of our District Committee considered problems of underfed children in D.C. schools. Our Committee on Armed Services continued hearings on the long list of military construction projects proposed by the President.

DEFENSE PREPAREDNESS — Six launching pads for ballistic missiles are being rushed to completion at Vandenberg Air Force Base in California. Three new antisubmarine weapons have been unveiled by the U.S. Navy: a light-weight, high-speed torpedo capable of seeking out fast subs at great depth; and two new mines that can be dropped from fast, high-flying planes and sink to the bottom to escape detection. Our air defenses are to be directed from underground; the Department of Defense has approved a site in the Cheyenne Mountains for a dug-in combat-operations center, to cost 30 million dollars.

WEAPONS, $1; GOOD WILL, 9 CENTS — Congress will not hesitate to vote a military budget of more than 40 billion dollars, yet voices are raised in protest at spending or lending less than 4 billion for constructive peaceful purposes which could command respect among the uncommitted peoples of the world. We could be the most mighty nation and at the same time lose the battle of the world if we do not help our world neighbors. President Eisenhower said: "Our expenditures for mutual security are fully as important to our national defense as expenditures for our own forces . . . If we are wise, we will consider it not as a cost but as an investment—an investment in our present safety, in our future strength and growth . . ."

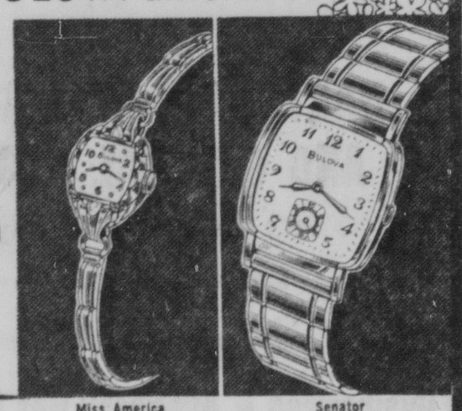

It is sometimes said in derogation of dictators and backward peoples that the only language they understand is force. Shall we Americans lay that indictment against ourselves in our relative treatment of weaponry on one side and a contribution to a civilized world on the other? Will we begrudge less than 10 cents in peace potential for the dollar we spend on war potential?

IS BERLIN A SMOKE SCREEN?—While everybody is worrying about the Berlin "crisis", watch for the Russians to make a grab for Iraq, a strategic Middle East land in the very heart of an area containing 63 per cent of the world's oil reserves. It's a Moscow trick: Start a "crisis" in the one area to

by Sen. J. Glenn Beall

HEY! WAIT FOR THE TRAINS! The subway through which little underground trains will ply between the brand new Senate Office Building and the Capitol was completed the other day and they started to cover it over. The covering was halted abruptly, however. Someone remembered they still had to get the trains down there.

BLACK-EYED SUSANS HAVE THEIR DAY—On Maryland Day, March 25, I introduced in the U.S. Senate a joint resolution designating the Black-eyed Susan as the National Flower. I proposed Maryland's State Flower for the national honor previously sought for the rose, the marigold, the carnation, and the corn tassel.

In my remarks on the Senate Floor on the observance of Maryland Day, I referred to the reasons we call Maryland the Free State.

SUN-POWERED SPACESHIPS —The scientists who are credited with our progress thus far in space exploration are now "thinking out loud" about the kind of vehicles which will carry earth men about the Solar System. The spaceships envisaged would really be two ships connected by a half-mile cable and swinging around one another in flight, to provide the centrifugal force which they say is necessary for men to live and work in space. They believe the ships would be driven by engines powered by the sun's rays. Necessary in the plan would be a "universe mirror", orbiting at the same speed the earth revolves, to concentrate light and heat from the sun.

By-products of the "universe mirror", the scientists say, would be the melting of icebergs, the freeing of icebound harbors, the giving to cities of night light as bright as day, and the changing of deserts into fertile lands.

COMMITTEE WORK, FULL SCHEDULE — During this past week, our Senate Committee on Banking and Currency held hearings relating to reserve requirements to be maintained by member banks of the Federal Reserve System. A subcommittee of our District Committee considered problems of underfed children in D.C. schools. Our Committee on Armed Services continued hearings on the long list of military construction projects proposed by the President.

DEFENSE PREPAREDNESS — Six launching pads for ballistic missiles are being rushed to completion at Vandenberg Air Force Base in California. Three new antisubmarine weapons have been unveiled by the U.S. Navy: a light-weight, high-speed torpedo capable of seeking out fast subs at great depth; and two new mines that can be dropped from fast, high-flying planes and sink to the bottom to escape detection. Our air defenses are to be directed from underground; the Department of Defense has approved a site in the Cheyenne Mountains for a dug-in combat-operations center, to cost 30 million dollars.

WEAPONS, $1; GOOD WILL, 9 CENTS — Congress will not hesitate to vote a military budget of more than 40 billion dollars, yet voices are raised in protest at spending or lending less than 4 billion for constructive peaceful purposes which could command respect among the uncommitted peoples of the world. We could be the most mighty nation and at the same time lose the battle of the world if we do not help our world neighbors. President Eisenhower said: "Our expenditures for mutual security are fully as important to our national defense as expenditures for our own forces . . . If we are wise, we will consider it not as a cost but as an investment—an investment in our present safety, in our future strength and growth . . ."

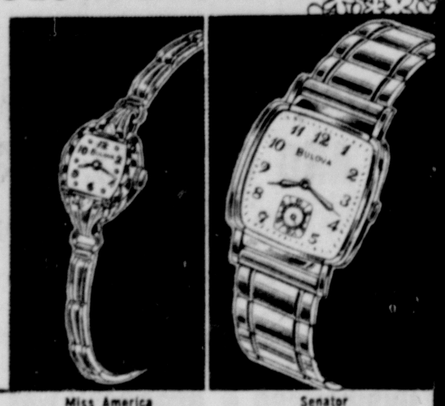

It is sometimes said in derogation of dictators and backward peoples that the only language they understand is force. Shall we Americans lay that indictment against ourselves in our relative treatment of weaponry on one side and a contribution to a civilized world on the other? Will we begrudge less than 10 cents in peace potential for the dollar we spend on war potential?

IS BERLIN A SMOKE SCREEN?—While everybody is worrying about the Berlin "crisis", watch for the Russians to make a grab for Iraq, a strategic Middle East land in the very heart of an area containing 63 per cent of the world's oil reserves. It's a Moscow trick: Start a "crisis" in the one area to

No Charges Are Planned In Fatal Route 220 Crash

No motor vehicle charges will be preferred in the fatal accident which occurred Wednesday along U.S. Route 220 and claimed the life of John D. Llewellyn, 16, of Rawlings.

This decision was reached yesterday by State's Attorney James S. Getty after he had questioned State Police, witnesses and other persons concerned with the collision.

Getty said that according to the investigation conducted by Troopers John Sweitzer and Harry J. Garcia, and statements made by witnesses there was no evidence of neglect on the part of Joseph J. Donahue, 37, Corriganville, or Elmer L. Keefer Jr., of 115 North Allegany Street.

The spectacular crash occurred about 10 miles south of Cumberland along U.S. Route 220 when Llewellyn was northbound and rammed into a dump truck being operated by Donahue. Police said that after the Llewellyn car smashed the dump truck the car continued down the highway and hit the front end of a laundry truck being operated by Keefer.

The victim, who was on his way to Allegany High School after the Easter vacation, was pronounced dead on arrival at Sacred Heart Hospital.

Minister To Attend EUB Convocation

Rev. George S. Widmyer, pastor of Potomac Park and Ridgeley Evangelical United Brethren churches, will attend the eastern area town and country convocation of the denomination's Virginia Conference next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday at Elkton, Va.

West Virginia Expects Bad Year For Polio

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—State Health Director N. H. Dyer says that unless prompt preventative steps are taken, this apparently will be a bad year for polio outbreaks in West Virginia.

Noting that the state already has reported 11 new cases of the disease this year, eight more than were reported during the same last year, Dyer said it was feared that last year's sharp rise in incidence over 1957 was carrying over into 1959.

"We are quite concerned about the posibility of another year of high incidence" he said.

Dyer urged parents to see that their children receive a fourth Salk anti-polio shot within a year after the recommended three injections.

"It is of extreme importance that every child get the polio vaccine injections," he said. "the length of immunity from the vaccine has not been determined and I personally recommend the additional injection."

Dyer also recommended an entire new series of injections for children who received their vaccine in 1954 when tests were initiated.

"It is better to be safe," he asserted. "Certainly the additional shots cannot hurt a child and I believe they should have the protection."

Dyer recommended a booster shot be given children on an annual basis until the length of the three shots' immunity has been definitely determined.

Bluefield State College Adds Pre-engineering

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—Bluefield State College has been given State Board of Education approval to start a two-year pre-engineering curriculum next fall.

Only two other board - supervised schools — Marshall College and West Virginia State — now have pre-engineering facilities.

The board voted to submit Bluefield's proposed pre - engineering curriculum to West Virginia University and West Virginia Tech for approval. The two schools are the state's only full engineering schools.

It also approved Concord College's application for $1,500,000 from the Federal Housing and Home Administration for construction of a combination student union and dining hall on the Athens campus.

In other action before adjourning the two-day meeting, the board:

—Heard a report on the operation procedure of the State Department of Vocational Rehabilitation.

—Approved final plans and specifications for remodeling of men's dormitory at West Liberty.

—Gave its approval for construction of an arts and craft building at the State FFA-FHA Camp at Cedar Lakes, Jackson County.

—Scheduled its next meeting May 4-5 at Romney and Shepherdstown.

The new building at Cedar Lakes, near Ripley, will be paid for by the West Virginia Future Homemakers. The board said it had been informed that the group had enough money now to put the building under roof and it will then be completed one room at a time.

The May meeting will open May 4 at the West Virginia Schools for the Deaf & Blind at Romney and move to Shepherd College the next day.

Local Woman Hurt In Auto Crash

A local woman was hospitalized early yesterday following a one-car accident at the corner of Valley and Columbia streets.

Admitted to Sacred Heart Hospital was Mrs. Virginia Farrin, 43, of 744 Greene Street. Attaches said she sustained a fractured ankle, face injuries and underwent surgery. Her condition is reported as "fair."

City Police Sgt. Gordon Hite, who investigated, reported the accident occurred at 2 a. m. Police said Mrs. Farrin was traveling on Valley Street when she lost control of her car and smashed into a utility pole.

$1,000 Awarded In Damage Suit

A Lonaconing driver was awarded $1,000 for personal injuries sustained in a headon collision last summer when his damage suit was tried Wednesday in Garrett County Circuit Court.

Robert Todd Hadley, the plaintiff and recipient of the $1,000 award, had sued Edwin W. Michaels, who resides in Garrett County just across the line from Barton.

Testimony showed the cars operated by the two men collided headon on Route 657, the Avilton Road, on July 16.

Hadley, his attorneys revealed, suffered a facial disfigurement from a lacerated nose, and a fractured nose and a lacerated knee.

Counsel for Hadley were James S. Getty, Lonaconing, and W. Dwight Stover, Oakland, while Lewis R. Jones and Frederick A. Thayer represented the defendant.

Movie To Be Shown At St. Mark's Church

A movie titled "A Cry in the Night," will be shown Sunday at 9:45 a. m. in the Sunday School of St. Mark's Evangelical and Reformed Church, cornor of Park and Harrison streets, according to Rev. Carl Clapp, pastor.

The film shows scenes from Bali, Seoul, Korea and Tokyo and other Oriental areas where missionary work is conducted.

Court House Has Truck Licenses

A shipment of truck license plates was received at the Allegany County Court House yesterday for sale to owners of those vehicles, J. Wallace Close, county tax collector, reported.

The tax office has 2,623 pairs of regular truck tags and 148 pairs of farm truck plates.

Owners must have these on their vehicles by the deadline, May 1.

"The Cumberland Chamber of Commerce deserves the support of every firm and professional man in this city," Mayor J. Edwin Keech stated today when asked to comment on the present Chamber of Commerce membership campaign.

"The Chamber of Commerce is a voluntary association of business men and civic-minded citizens engaged in a collective effort to promote the welfare of our community," Mayor Keech said. He added, "Civic leaders in every phase of community life take part in the Chamber of Commerce program."

"These business and civic leaders provide the sound judgment, the foresight and aggressiveness that keep the Chamber moving steadily in the right direction. Such a program assures maximum accomplishment."

"But we need more help, more people who are willing to help us carry on the work of the Chamber of Commerce. eW have a good team. We need a better team. We need more players, more substitutes. We need the assistance of all business and professional men in this city."

"Any Chamber of Commerce can assume only as many projects as its budget will allow," the mayor stated, adding, "We hope to take on more projects during the coming months. But we need additional manpower and funds to do this work. We want to develop business for our community, improve our water supply, roads and parks and recreational areas. We need to promote our community as a place where industry is welcome, where the tourist is wanted, where shoppers are well received. Every business and professional man should support this effort."

"The Cumberland Chamber of Commerce deserves the support of every firm and professional man in this city," Mayor J. Edwin Keech stated today when asked to comment on the present Chamber of Commerce membership campaign.

"The Chamber of Commerce is a voluntary association of business men and civic-minded citizens engaged in a collective effort to promote the welfare of our community," Mayor Keech said. He added, "Civic leaders in every phase of community life take part in the Chamber of Commerce program."

"These business and civic leaders provide the sound judgment, the foresight and aggressiveness that keep the Chamber moving steadily in the right direction. Such a program assures maximum accomplishment."

"But we need more help, more people who are willing to help us carry on the work of the Chamber of Commerce. eW have a good team. We need a better team. We need more players, more substitutes. We need the assistance of all business and professional men in this city."

"Any Chamber of Commerce can assume only as many projects as its budget will allow," the mayor stated, adding, "We hope to take on more projects during the coming months. But we need additional manpower and funds to do this work. We want to develop business for our community, improve our water supply, roads and parks and recreational areas. We need to promote our community as a place where industry is welcome, where the tourist is wanted, where shoppers are well received. Every business and professional man should support this effort."

Chrysler Corporation To Make Its Own Glass As A Result Of Recent Strike Of PPG Company

The 142-day strike by the plants of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company has resulted in a direct action by the automotive industry, according to the Wall Street Journal.

A reporter for the business newspaper writes that Chrysler Corporation will go into the glass fabricating business early next year, and ultimately produce 50 per cent of its total requirements.

Chrysler is currently the largest glass buyer in the automotive field, the article points out.

LUNG CANCER INCREASES

TOKYO (UPI) — Japan's death rate from lung cancer increased five times during the 10 years between 1947 and 1957, Japanese doctors reported Wednesday. A group of doctors blamed contaminated air as a possible factor.

The announcement marks the second severe blow to Pittsburgh Plate's auto glass business. The company formerly supplied roughly half of the glass requirements for Ford Motor Company, but this percentage has been cut sharply in the last few years as a result of increased production at Ford's glass-making facilities at Nashville, Tenn.

In addition to the two big automotive independents, Pittsburgh Plate also supplies glass to American Motors Corporation, Studebaker-Packard Corporation and a number of independent truck manufacturers.

The Chrysler announcement was made by L. L. Colbert, president, who said the firm plans to fabricate windshields, backlights, windows and other glass parts in a reconverted plant in Detroit. The plant, Colbert said, has been built since World War II and the reconversion is expected to run into several million dollars.

The decision to fabricate some of its own glass needs, Colbert said, resulted from the long Pittsburgh Plate strike which resulted in layoffs. Chrysler, he said, lost an estimated 100,000 cars in production as a result of the glass shortage caused by the strike.

Colbert explained that Pittsburgh Plate will continue to be a major supplier of glass to Chrysler, but in addition his firm will purchase raw glass for its own to cut, bend, temper and laminate it.

About 400 people will be employed in the Chrysler glass plant when it gets into production early in 1960, Colbert stated. Old equipment is being removed from the Detroit plant and installation of glass fabricating equipment is expected to begin in June.

Apple Mint Ice Cream Pie

3 egg whites
¾ cup sugar
½ teaspoon vanilla extract
½ teaspoon baking powder
14 scalloped buttery salted crackers
¾ cup chopped walnut meats
2½ cups canned apple slices
⅔ cup sugar
10 drops peppermint extract
6 drops red food coloring
1 pint vanilla ice cream

Beat egg whites very stiff. Gradually add ¾ sup sugar, beating constantly. Add vanilla extract and baking powder. Break crackers into large pieces; add with chopped nut meats. Spread mixture into greased 9" pie plate. Preheat oven to 350°F., reduce heat to 325°F., place in pie. Bake 30-35 minutes. Cool. Put into refrigerator 10 hours before serving. Combine sliced apples, ⅔ cup sugar, peppermint extract and red food coloring in saucepan; cook slowly, until apples are slightly transparent; chill. Just before serving, place ice cream in pie shell; top with well-drained apple slices. Serve immediately. Yields 6-8 servings.

Fruit-Cereal-Milk Combos Will Perk Up Appetites

Looking for something to perk up appetites at breakfast time? Add variety to your morning meal by serving new and different fruit, cereal, and milk combos.

Set up a Lazy Susan with several different kinds of fruit and other interesting toppings. Prepare oatmeal according to the directions on the label and keep it warm in a casserole or chafing dish. Each member of your family can "create" his own fruit-cereal-milk combo according to his preference.

Hot oatmeal topped with canned or cooked dried apricots and brown sugar makes a good combination of flavors and textures. Cherry pie filling that has been flavored with cinnamon and a few drops of almond extract is a different topping. Whole cranberry sauce and flaked coconut make another interesting combo.

These are but three combos from the many possible combinations that can be assembled by the ingenious homemaker.

To complete an adequate breakfast menu that will provide quick and lasting energy throughout the late morning hours, add fruit juice (preferably citrus), buttered toast, milk for the beverage, and coffee, if desired.

Week's Food Economies

Scarcely any other class of food offers so great a variety or so rich an opportunity of eating adventure as fish and sea food. Several species of fish are especially good buys this week, says, Virginia McLuckie, Food Economist, Baltimore Office, University of Maryland, Department of Markets.

Fish is one of the easiest, quickest prepared proteins you can serve your family. If you are fond of small whole fish that can be pan-fryed with ease, your choice may be porgies or butterfish. Porgies or scup, are usually marketed in sizes from three fourths to one and one half pounds. Butterfish are only 6 to 8 inches long with the longest running about 10 inches. Rolled in flour, crackers or bread crumbs or corn meal and fryed in shallow fat these fish are a delicious inexpensive dish. Rockfish or striped bass from the Chesapeake is in heavy supply and a favorite fish for baking, frying or broiling. These fish run in size from 2 to 40 pounds. You may select a rock the size to fit family needs. Rock is a lean fish. Bluefish from Florida is another of the best-buys.

Other good protein buys are pork shoulder and eggs. Fresh pork is at its peak in market supply and prices are seasonally low.

March is Egg Month and the supply of large size grade A quality eggs is at seasonal peak. The abundance of eggs makes them an economical food. Grade A eggs are recommended for all purposes, and especially where appearance is important.

At the produce counter the best-buys are cabbage, carrots and celery.

At the fruit counter grapefruit is the best value in fresh citrus. The seedless and pink meat fruit is slightly higher than white grapefruit with seeds and the best values are in the smaller sized fruit. Apples are slightly higher in price but still a reasonably pirced fruit. There are good buys in fresh pineapple which is from Puerto Rico. Bananas seem to be running higher in quality and priced attractively.

Peanut stuffed eggs — Remove yolks of hard cooked eggs; mash yolks, add enough mayonnaise to soften plus a dash of Hot Sauce, a dash of Worcestershire sauce; add finely chopped peanuts, about ½ cup chopped peanuts to 6 stuffed eggs. Blend well; fill egg white halves, chill and serve as hors d'aeuvres or as a salad.

It's The Time For A Beef-Vegetable Loaf

Every homemaker can undoubtedly show off her culinary talents in the preparation of her own distinguished meat loaf.

A beef-vegetable soup is often teamed with sandwiches for a cold day supper or lunch treat. In this case, the soup changes to a loaf . . . ground beef, lima beans, carrots and chopped celery are the main constituents.

A loaf like this featuring 2 pounds of ground beef yields enough for 8 servings. If there is any left over, simply feature the meat loaf in sandwiches the following day.

Beef-Vegetable Loaf

2 pounds ground beef
½ cup milk
1 cup cracker crumbs
2 teaspoons salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1¼ teaspoons onion juice
1 cup cooked baby lima beans
½ cup grated carrots
½ cup finely chopped celery
2 eggs, beaten

Pour milk over cracker crumbs. Add ground beef, salt, pepper, onion juice, lima beans, carrots, celery and eggs. Mix thoroughly. Pack in a 5x9-inch loaf pan. Bake in a moderate oven (350°F.) for 1 hour. Yield: 8 servings.

Scrambled Eggs On Muffins

4 eggs
¼ (No. 1) can condensed cream of celery soup
2⅔ tablespoons milk
¼ teaspoon salt
1/16 teaspoon pepper
1 tablespoon chopped pimiento
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
3 English muffins, cut in half and toasted
6 slices process cheese

Beat eggs slightly; stir in celery soup, milk, salt, pepper and pimiento. Melt butter in a heavy frying pan; add egg mixture and cook over low heat until eggs are just set, stirring occasionally. Spoon scrambled eggs on toasted English muffin halves. Top each one with a cheese slice and broil until cheese melts.

Yield: 6 servings.

Salmon Corn Bread Square

Lunch time will be in no time when you serve this salmon corn bread square. It's an easy luncheon main dish that's perfect for this time of the year and rings with a variety of tempting flavors — crunchy corn bread, salmon and the creamed peas that are spooned over the top.

Salmon corn bread square can be made at a gingham price yet it has silken charm. Just use a package of your favorite corn muffin mix and instead of using the usual muffin tins pour about ⅔ of the batter into an 8-inch square pan. Now add the layer of rosy flaked salmon and pour the remaining batter over the top. While the salmon corn bread square is baking to a golden brown, prepare the creamed peas and relishes. How's that for little time spent in the kitchen!

Consomme just plain from the can is delightful drinking. Canned condensed consomme also acts as the perfect base for a brilliant soup made by combining the consomme with a can of water and 1 cup mixed vegetables. Cook the vegetables until tender and serve to 2 or 3.

If you are serving this main dish for a luncheon for guests, you might like to serve a fancy refrigerator pie for dessert. If it's something homey you are looking for, try a dessert of chilled canned peach slices and oatmeal cookies.

Salmon Corn Bread Square

Makes 9 servings

One 12-oz. pkg. corn muffin mix
1 egg
⅔ cup milk
One 7-¾ oz. can salmon, drained and flaked
Creamed peas

Heat oven to hot (400° F.). Empty contents of corn muffin mix package into bowl; add egg and milk. Blend only until dry ingredients are thoroughly moistened, but not smooth.

Pour two-thirds of batter into bottom of greased 8-inch square pan. Place pieces of salmon on top of batter. Pour remainder of batter over salmon. Bake in preheated oven (400°F.) about 20 minutes. Loosen corn bread with knift. Turn out; invert on platter.

Serve hot creamed peas over squares of corn bread.

Use Hot Wheat Cereal For Inexpensive Pilaf

Pilaf (spelled pilaf, pilaff, or pilau according to the dictionary) has recently gained popularity as a meat accompaniment. Of Persian or Turkish origin, this flavorful dish combines the good grain flavor with meat flavor. In this version hot whole wheat cereal is used in place of rice, groats, or cracked wheat.

The rich nutlike flavor of hot whole wheat cereal combines with beef bouillon to make a satisfying and interesting dish. Unlike so many complicated gourmet recipes, this pilaf is quick and easy to prepare, utilizing readily available inexpensive ingredients.

For a far eastern meal serve pilaf of hot whole wheat cereal with shish kabobs made with veal or lamb according to your favorite recipe. Garnish the highly spiced shish kabobs with canned figs. To complete the far eastern motif, prepare a salad of pineapple slices, kumquats, and dates. This menu would be especilly suitable for an informal buffet type meal. The pilaf keeps well in a chafing dish.

Pilaf is but one interesting use of breakfast cereals as an ingredient. New flavors, textures, and increased variety are possible by the use of versatile breakfast cereals in recipes. In addition to these advantages, they make a worthwhile contribution of protein, B vitamins, essential minerals, and quickly available food energy.

Pilaf of Hot Whole Wheat Cereal

1 cup hot whole wheat cereal, instant or regular, uncooked
1 egg, slightly beaten
3 tablespoons butter, margarine, or drippings
½ cup chopped onions
4 bouillon cubes
4 cups hot water

Spread cereal over bottom of large fry pan. Pour egg over cereal and mix well. Cook over very low heat, stirring constantly, until cereal grains puff and mixture resembles coarse meal. Push to one side of pan. Melt fat; add onion and cook, stirring until brown. Mix with cereal. Dissolve bouillon cubes in hot water. Stir bouillon into cereal; cover and cook until liquid is absorbed and cereal is tender, about 5 minutes. Serve hot as a meat accompaniment. If desired ½ cup drained, canned, sliced mushrooms may be added to cereal with bouillon. Yield: 6 to 8 servings.

Hint In Purchasing

When buying spareribs, remember this handy suggestion . . . 1 side of ribs is equal to approximately 2 pounds.

Bright as a dollar, and much less expensive is this colorful soup. Combine 1 can condensed chicken noodle soup with 1 soup can water. Heat and stir in a bit of chopped spinach, diced pimiento and whole basil. Simmer a minute or two before serving to 2 or 3.

Frost Mansion Ownership Is Cleared In Court Here

An order of the court in Allegany County Circuit Court cleared the way for the transfer of the ownership of historic Frost Mansion in Frostburg to a niece of the deceased owner.

Mrs. Alice Hitchins Fry, who resides at the dwelling at 56 Frost Avenue, was the recipient of the property.

Mrs. Rosina Hitchins, widow of William Arthur Jenkins, died in 1957, the testimony revealed. She had agreed during her lifetime that the property would revert to Mrs. Fry, her niece, in return for caring for her.

However, Mrs. Fry's attorney, James A. Avirett, revealed yesterday that when Mrs. Hitchins died she left a will dated in 1914 leaving all her estate to her husband.

William Arthur Hitchins preceded his wife in death by about 40 years, and as a result an agreement was effected by his heirs conveying their interest in the property to Mrs. Fry.

However, when the time came to execute the deed, Avirett explained, one of the heirs, Mrs. Kathryn DeNaouley Mathews, Mt. Kisco, N. Y., withdrew her agreement.

Then Mrs. Fry filed a suit for specific performance of the agreement against Mrs. Mathews. This hearing was held this morning and Avirett was named by the court as trustee to convey the Mathews interest to Mrs. Fry.

In a case last spring, the trust fund left by Mrs. Rosina Hitchins was divided under court order in 21 parts to the heirs of her husband, including both parties to the suit today.

The other heirs of William Arthur Hitchins who participated in the agreement are Clayton Stanley Hitchins Jr., Florence J. S. Hitchins, Margaret H. McLane, Charles M. McLane; W. S. Hitchins Jr. Nancy Hitchins, Marjorie H. Stuart, Walter Stuart, Regina H. Bantley, Dr. H. C. Bantley, Margaret DeNaouley Avant, Frederick Avant, Robert E. Hitchins Jr., Elaine J. Hitchins, Paul L. Hitchins, Ivan M. Hitchins, Park Hitchins and E. A. Hitchins.

The old Frost mansion is one of the county's landmarks. The large residence is located on an expansive lot in the heart of the Frostburg residential district.

To Repair Property

The city engineer's office has granted a permit to the Frank Wilson estate for repairs to the front of property at 40-44 North Centre Street.

ELECTRONIC SUBWAY

LONDON (UPI) — Russian engineers are building an electronically-controlled subway in Leningrad, radio Moscow said Thursday. The trains will operate without motormen and new - type boarding areas will replace regular station platforms, the broadcast said.

ONE-THIRD OF YOUR INCOME, MAYBE MORE — Once, someone said publicly something about one-third of our people being ill-housed, ill-clothed, ill-fed. Then, things began to happen! The so-called "Haves" were taxed and taxed to take care of the so-called "Have-Nots". The result is indicated in two items:

(1) A survey shows that the average American family with an annual income of $4,500 probably pays about $1,425 in taxes, or just under one-third of its total income. While some taxes are well publicized, hundreds more are hidden. The Tax Research Institute dug up some interesting facts: on a man's suit, 116 taxes; on a woman's hat, 150 taxes; on a loaf of bread, 151 taxes; and so on.

(2) My colleague, Senator Byrd of Virginia, has discovered that the U.S. Treasury issues regular checks to nearly 40,000 people. Inasmuch as a large percentage of these might be considered heads of families, it is quite possible that half of our total population are receiving income from the Federal government.

GOODWILL EMBASSY TOUR —A visit in an Islamic mosque! plus a little bit of Chile, Vietnam, Egypt, and other exotic places! as reflected in their embassies; add tea at the embassies of Turkey and the Union of South Africa!—all this equals a never-to-be-forgotten experience which is to be yours, for the price of $4.

A group of Congressional and Cabinet wives (including Maryland's Margaret Beall), in interesting themselves in a worthy cause, came up with a unique and interesting project. In order to help the Goodwill Industries in its work of rehabilitation for the physically handicapped, the ladies devised a tour of interesting embassies of foreign countries.

The time of the tour this year: the afternoon of April 25th.

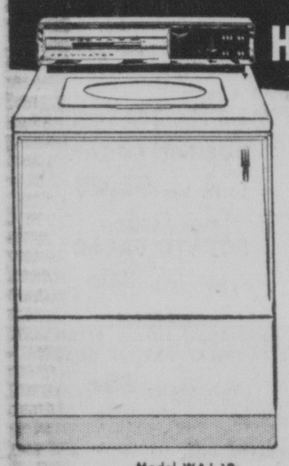

Mrs. Roy E. James is President of the Goodwill Guild. The General Chairman of this year's Embassy Tour and Tea is Mrs. Everett McKinley Dirksen. Tickets are being handled by Mrs. John G. Ladd, 2819 45th Street, N. W., Washington, telephone EMerson 3-3746.

Frost Mansion Ownership Is Cleared In Court Here

An order of the court in Allegany County Circuit Court cleared the way for the transfer of the ownership of historic Frost Mansion in Frostburg to a niece of the deceased owner.

Mrs. Alice Hitchins Fry, who resides at the dwelling at 56 Frost Avenue, was the recipient of the property.

Mrs. Rosina Hitchins, widow of William Arthur Jenkins, died in 1957, the testimony revealed. She had agreed during her lifetime that the property would revert to Mrs. Fry, her niece, in return for caring for her.

However, Mrs. Fry's attorney, James A. Avirett, revealed yesterday that when Mrs. Hitchins died she left a will dated in 1914 leaving all her estate to her husband.

William Arthur Hitchins preceded his wife in death by about 40 years, and as a result an agreement was effected by his heirs conveying their interest in the property to Mrs. Fry.

However, when the time came to execute the deed, Avirett explained, one of the heirs, Mrs. Kathryn DeNaouley Mathews, Mt. Kisco, N. Y., withdrew her agreement.

Then Mrs. Fry filed a suit for specific performance of the agreement against Mrs. Mathews. This hearing was held this morning and Avirett was named by the court as trustee to convey the Mathews interest to Mrs. Fry.

In a case last spring, the trust fund left by Mrs. Rosina Hitchins was divided under court order in 21 parts to the heirs of her husband, including both parties to the suit today.

The other heirs of William Arthur Hitchins who participated in the agreement are Clayton Stanley Hitchins Jr., Florence J. S. Hitchins, Margaret H. McLane, Charles M. McLane; W. S. Hitchins Jr. Nancy Hitchins, Marjorie H. Stuart, Walter Stuart, Regina H. Bantley, Dr. H. C. Bantley, Margaret DeNaouley Avant, Frederick Avant, Robert E. Hitchins Jr., Elaine J. Hitchins, Paul L. Hitchins, Ivan M. Hitchins, Park Hitchins and E. A. Hitchins.

The old Frost mansion is one of the county's landmarks. The large residence is located on an expansive lot in the heart of the Frostburg residential district.

Quote The Odds On The Weather?

Have you ever had a grudge against the weather? If you haven't, the Weather Bureau wishes it could pin a medal on you. It gets plenty of complaints from other people.

For decades, the bureau simply bowed its head to the stormy complaints. It knew that weather forecasting is far from being an exact science. Some predictions are sure to go wrong. If the Weather Bureau hits the ball five times out of six, it considers it has about as good a batting average as anybody can expect.

It was inevitable, the bureau knew, that the weather would sometimes take an unexpected turn which could not have been predicted by meteorology in its present stage of development. And it was inevitable that people would complain when a forecast went sour.

Just recently, however, it has occurred to the weather man that he doesn't have to take this fatalistic view about complaints. He had been saying flatly in his forecasts that it would be fair, or it would rain, when he knew all along that he was stating, not a certainty — as his language implied—but a mere probability. Why not call it a mere probability, then?

A weather prediction is now issued somewhat in this form: "Cloudy today; light rain tonight; clearing tomorrow." Yet all the time the weather man may know that there is a 40 per cent chance that it may rain "today," a 20 per cent chance of escaping rain. "tonight," and a 30 per cent chance of being wrong about "tomorrow." So why not say so? Like this: Rain probability 40 per cent today, 80 per cent tonight, 30 per cent tomorrow."

Soon there may be an old-style forecast, followed by a new type of percentage statement giving the probabilities of its being right or wrong.

But only an optimist would expect that to stop people from complaining.

These Days

Buddhism And Tibet

Among the religions which the Soviet Universal State finds it necessary to destroy is Buddhism which prevails in such countries as Tibet, China, India, Mongolia, Korea, Japan and other countries including parts of Soviet Russia. The influence of Buddhism has been enormous in these countries, particularly in the form of Lamaism which is centered in Tibet and whose votaries accept the Dalai Lama as God.

The method by which this person becomes a god is called metempsychosis which simply means that we are all constantly passing through a succession of lives; that the soul of man never dies but finds refuge in some living body at the moment which we call death. So, when a Dalai Lama dies, his soul takes refuge in the body of a babe born at that moment. It is a doctrine of the eternity, the everlastingness, to coin a word, of life.

There have been many Buddhas, but the ones most revered are Sakyamuni (Gotama), the founder of Buddhism, and Amitabha (in Chinese, Omito Fuh) who is especially worshipped in Mongolia and northern China. Another god-person is Kuan Yin, the goddess of mercy, who in distant history was a male but is now universally a female. She is often represented with a child in her arms.

Buddhism is a product of the life, the conduct, the theories of a person who was born, as some say, in 623 B.C., a prince of a small kingdom near Nepal. His name was Gotama, although his clan name is often given as Sakyamuni. At the age of 25, he decided to become a recluse; he left his father's court; lived an ascestic life for five years. He became a beggar and "he entered into a state of reverie, emitting a bright light and reflecting on the four modes of truth."

He gathered disciples whom he trained according to his ideas and whom he sent far and wide to preach his doctrine. Monasteries were established and monastic vows were binding. His teachings are contained in the sutras, or laws, which all Buddhists accept and the possession of copies not only brings knowledge but health and good luck.

Gotama died in 543 B.C. and at the time of his death, his religion was well established throughout India. The central point, sociologically, of his religion was self-denial and good works. Religiously, the central principle of Buddhism is not a god, as the West understands God, but rather the soul of man, which by prayers, alms, austerities and other virtues so perfects itself that it finds lodgings in higher and higher beings until it becomes a god. In a word, Buddhism is a humanistic form of religion. Of course, over the centuries, rites and rituals, idols and other manifestations of gods (Buddhas) and saints or prospective Buddhas (Bodhisattva) have appeared in the various forms of Buddhism.

Many customs of Buddhism and both Roman Catholic and Greek Orthodox Christianity are similar. Abbe Huc, a Roman Catholic priest, who travelled in China and Tibet in the 1840s, described this similarity as he witnessed it at that time, as follows:

"The cross, the mitre, the dalmatica, the cope which the lamas wear on their journeys, or when performing some ceremony out of the temple; the service with double choirs, the psalmody, the exorcisms, the censer suspended from five chains, which you can open or close at pleasure; the benedictions given by extending the right hand over the heads of the faithful; the rosary, ecclesiastical celibacy, spiritual retirement, worship of the saints; the fasts, processions, litanies, and holy water—all these are analogies between ourselves and the Buddhists."

The form of Buddhism prevailing in Tibet and Mongolia and in many parts of China is known as Lamaism. The headquarters of this sect is Lhasa and the head of the church, the Dalai Lama, lives there in the magnificent Potala which is a combined fortress and monastery. It is from the Potala that the Chinese Communists have recently driven the Dalai Lama.

Because of Tibet's inaccessibility, no Chinese government has ever really ruled Tibet, and other foreigners were forbidden to enter it. The government was by monks in the monasteries at the head of whom was the Dalai Lama. Lhasa, where the Dalai Lama resided, was often referred to as "The Forbidden City." This city is now in the hands of the Chinese Communists.

'Wonder Which Did Come First'

Exiled Dictator Batista Calls Fidel Castro 'Butcher, Madman'

By Drew Pearson

(Editor's note—Drew Pearson today interviews ex-President Batista, now in exile in the Dominican Republic.)

CIUDAD TRUJILLO, Dominican Republic — The last time I saw Fulgencio Batista was at Sancti Spiritus in the interior of Cuba, when he was still a hero. For miles down the road, traffic was jammed. In front of the reviewing stand, a parade milled and saluted the President of Cuba. Batista had come through that crowd, his white suit mussed and mauled by friendly hands that reached out to greet him.

That was in the late summer of 1955.

Four years later, I saw Batista walking in the garden of the Hotel Jaragua, in this city, in exile and very much alone. A lot of people have interviewed Fidel Castro, but no one the man he replaced. So for two hours I talked to the ex-President of Cuba.

I remarked that he was looking thin.

"These days are very sad ones and I cannot eat or sleep too well," he said.

"The last time I saw you, the crowds were saluting you with great enthusiasm," I reminded. "You were a hero. What happened in between?"

"You are a newspaperman," replied Batista. "You know what the press can do. When the press continually calls a man a dictator—people eventually believe it. We have a saying that the 'press is the fourth power'—and the press of both Cuba and the United States is powerful.

"Most of the people of Cuba were with me even at the end," Batista continued. "Three times Castro called for a general strike and ther was no strike. Workers' living standards had reached the highest point in history—according to your own Department of Commerce. I had built more hospitals and opened more schools than any president in history. You were there. You saw those schools.

U.S. Cuts Arms Supply

"Finally," he said, "the impression prevailed that the United States was against me. And you would be surprised what happens in a country when people believe the United States is against you. You have no idea the power the United States can wield by cutting off the supply of arms. I could not buy arms; Castro was smuggling them from Venezuela, from Mexico and from the United States."

"But how do you explain the great crowds that welcomed Castro in Havana and all along the road to Havana?" I asked.

"He was the winner. Crowds always hail the winner. Crowds are fickle."

"But didn't you make the mistake of staying in office too long?" I inquired. "Wouldn't you have gone down in history a great president if you had remained out of office when you first retired from the presidency in 1944?"

"Maybe. A man can always look back and figure that he should have things differently. But in 1950 I was asked three times to lead a coup d'etat. I refused. People were fed up with the graft. The army was ready to rebel. I still refused. Finally they wrote my name on the ticket for senator and I was elected to the Senate while still absent. It was only then that I came back to Havana and took over the government in March 1952 without one man being killed.

"But maybe I shouldn't have come back. Maybe I stayed too long. I don't know."

Castro Called "Butcher"

Batista talked about other revolutions. As a sergeant he had led the revolt against the hated dictator Machado in 1933.

"There were only 100 killed in that revolution," he said. "And in 1933 we abolished the death penalty. Between that time and the day Castro took over only one man was executed—a German spy who gave signals to Nazi submarines right after Pearl Harbor.

"Even when Castro led the first coup against me on July 26, 1953, and killed six policemen in Oriente Province, we captured him, tried him, and he got 18 years. Then after one year I gave him amnesty.

"However, Castro is a butcher." Batista's eyes snapped. "He killed two of his own roommates in the university, one of them in front of his own mother—merely to get control of a rival student faction. And he led the massacre in Bogota. All his life he has been a killer. Yet, not knowing this, I gave him amnesty."

"What about the reports of mass executions by your troops?" I asked.

"I would like to get all the widows and orphans killed by Castro," Batista's eyes blazed, "and put them side by side with those killed by us. Of course there were some killed by us. This was war. But we did not go in for torture and mass murder.

"This is a butcher," Batista repeated. "When the court did not immediately sentence Sosa Blanco, Castro announced 'I'll shoot the trial court.' So Blanco was sentenced to death.

"When 43 pilots were absolved from bombing cities, Castro proclaimed, 'They should be sentenced to death.' And he stripped the officer who had defended them, of his uniform.

"At that point, Carlos Pena Justiz, the lawyer who had defended Castro when he killed six policemen in Oriente Province, came to Castro and asked one favor — a fair trial for the 43 fliers.

"But Castro ignored him. He ordered the Defense Minister to try them again. They were given 40 years in the swamps outside Matanzas—the Cuban Siberia.

"Yet your newspapers build this man up as a great liberator, a Christian," said Batista. "You will find that he is a madman."

Political 'Missile-Rattling' Can Be Dangerous

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — They used to call it "saber-rattling." But since the saber is outmoded, the appropriate term nowadays would be "missile-rattling."

The idea is to scare another government which might be thinking of an attack on your country, though the justification is always supposed to be reassurance to one's own people.

But, so far as the United States is concerned, there is an altogether different reason why the military chiefs and the Secretary of Defense find it necessary to go around the country these days telling the people we can "flatten Russia." It has to do with the low state of American politics.

For months now, the American people have been told that the Soviets are "ahead of us" or that there is a "dangerous gap." This might make pleasant reading in Moscow, but the ostensible purpose of the politician is patriotic. He has convinced himself that he is not thinking of his own ambitions, that he is not playing politics with human fears, and that he is alerting his country to its own lack of preparedness. But, unfortunately, this is not the whole story. A careful examination of the facts, as developed in testimony before Congressional committees, would indicate that all the military chiefs have agreed that our armed forces and weapons today are capable of administering incredible destruction on the potential enemy and that plans have been made to maintain adequate strength for the future.

It has been easy enough to get these military facts, but this wouldn't satisfy political ambition. It might be thought that in free America, whose proud claim has always been that "partisan politics ends at the water's edge," there would be more restraint on the part of public men in issuing deprecatory statements which, on the one hand, accuse the incumbent Administration of neglect, but which, on the other hand, inevitably result in counterassertions by the military chiefs themselves in phrases that naturally arouse bad feeling between peoples theoretically preparing to fight each other.

If the Soviet people think they are doomed to destruction, they will tend to forget the hardships imposed by their tyrannical government and will rally behind it in desperation.

When Khrushchev, in one of his vodka outbursts, said to Western diplomats in Moscow a few months ago, "We will bury you," his boast was reported by the press of the world. It aroused, particularly in the United States, a feeling that we were being threatened.

The same reaction can ensue within the Soviet Union from the reading of many of the comments on our defense capabilities which are being printed rather widely this week. Our military men and the Secretary of Defense have been describing in their public statements the terrible destruction which our own military apparatus can inflict on the enemy, if attacked. The Soviet press usually omits the words "if attacked."

No nation likes to be threatened by any other nation. Threats produce a jingoistic spirit and tend to arouse patriotic feelings. Khrushchev, of course, did not do the cause of peace any service by his recent ultimatum demanding that the Western troops be withdrawn from West Berlin by May 27. He has since modified his position in the face of worldwide condemnation.

President Eisenhower has handled himself superbly. He has uttered no words of bluster about our military power. He has simply said we would not retreat an inch and would fight only if we were attacked. This is not only the proper phrasing for diplomatic purposes, but it also serves to keep the argument on the wave lengths of peace so far as America itself is concerned.

Somehow the people behind the Iron Curtain ought to be informed that the debate inside the United States is primarily political and that there isn't the remotest intention here of attacking them. America, to be sure—in case of attack—does not intend to wait until the "first blow" arrives before putting into effect its interceptive devices far distant from our own territory. This can be said without any threats or bluster. There is, moreover, a legitimate need for outlining to the American people the military capacity of this country to inflict retaliatory blows. Congress must be given the facts upon which to base its judgment, but there is no need for politicians to assail the expert judgment of America's military leaders and to engage in a debate in terms of international threats.

The current debate in Congress has much to do with nondefense spending. For, if those who are arguing for more and more deficits can convince public opinion that all that has been said about a balanced budget is irrelevant, the end result will be to open the gates to further spending. It is not unrealistic to say that the "spenders" are using the alleged inadequacy of defense appropriations to obscure their real purpose, which is to increase nondefense spending. This category of expenditures, by the way, has been steadily increasing in recent years. It's too bad that, to offset political sniping, there has to be "missile-rattling." For it makes difficult the task of winning the peoples behind the Iron Curtain to our point of view on world peace.

Detroit has come in for a large measure of criticism for its new car designs of recent years which are considered to have built-in hazards to safety. Now an official arm of the federal government has added its voice to the clamor for more sensible design, even at the cost of eye appeal to the potential customer.

The Federal Bureau of Public roads has reported to Congress that "changing automobile design sometimes eliminates one hazard only to find a new one in its place."

The bureau lauded greater visibility provided by large rear windows, but found that this greater visibility potential was destroyed by sweeping tail fins which "tend to obscure rear vision." It criticized the new wrap-around windshields because "in bad weather the wipers fail to clean the end and central area of such windshields" causing blind spots when maximum vision is needed.

But its sharpest criticism was reserved for modern-day bumpers and fender ornaments, which it held were "largely non-functional and needless hazards to pedestrians."

After closely scanning the new members of Congress who have become embroiled in nepotism in their Congressional staffs, the Republican National committee has issued a blast against the practice.

GOP Chairman Meade Alcorn issued a sharp broadside on the practice of hiring one's relatives at what sometimes seemed excessive salaries for the work they performed.

But Alcorn interspersed his serious remarks with some biting humor. He observed, for instance, that "the realization is brewing that the voters last November 4 threw the rascals in."

Was Pilgrims' Epidemic A Virus Disease?

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

The first epidemic among white settlers in North America at Plymouth may have been due to a virus. It struck the immigrants during their first winter in Massachusetts. For all we know, it could have been influenza or one of the ECHO viruses that is making the rounds today.

That it was lethal is evident from reading Governor Bradford's notes: " this day (Dec. 24) died Solomon Martin, sixth and last who dies this month. Jan. 29 dies Rose, the wife of Captaine Standish. N. B.: This month eight of our number die. Feb. 21. Die Mr. William White, Mr. William Mullins, with two more; and the 25 dies Mary, wife of Mr. Isaac Allerton. N. B.: This month 17 of our number die. March 24 dies Elizabeth, wife of Mr. Edward Winslow. N. B.: This month 13 of our number die. And in three months past dies halfe of our company.

"Of 100 persons, scarce 50 remain, the living scarce able to bury the dead . . ."

According to Dr. John J. Byrne of Boston, the nature of the illness is obscure but it had all the earmarks of an acute, highly contagious disease. He doubts if it was typhoid, typhus, or smallpox because the two physicians present—Samuel Fuller and Giles Heale — would have recognized these maladies.

The Pilgrims had better than average health when they left Europe; only two deaths occurred during the long sea voyage. The group arrived in mid-winter and were fatigued, exposed to cold, and forced to live under insanitary conditions. In addition, their diet was poor.

All these factors lowered resistance and made them susceptible to infection. Those who survived the epidemic had a long, slow convalescence, which is in keeping with a severe viral disease.

TOMORROW: Sad sacks.

HIDEBOUND SKIN

S. K. writes: Is the cause of scleroderma known?

REPLY

No. In this condition, the skin becomes smooth and tight due to thickening or inflammation of the connective tissue beneath the outer layers of the epidermis. We do not know why this occurs.

PUFFY FROM CORTISONE

Mrs. R. L. writes: Our 16-year-old daughter has rheumatic fever and the doctor is giving her cortisone. This has caused her body to puff up so that she looks like a balloon. The doctor says not to be concerned but we can't help it. Can you offer some advice?

REPLY

Puffiness will disappear when cortisone is discontinued. I assume your physician has the girl on the least amount of the hormone needed to keep rheumatic fever under control and that she is on a low salt diet.

TOOTH GRINDER

Mrs. S. writes: My husband grinds his teeth at night. How can this habit be discouraged?

REPLY

Your dentist can supply you with a Hawley retainer which fits into the mouth and prevents the jaws from coming together. This should be done because grinding the teeth is one cause of pyorrhea, which in turn leads to tooth loss.

BLOOD NOT AFFECTED

H. L. writes: Do hemorrhoids affect the entire blood stream?

REPLY

No. Involvement is local, except for the disposition.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

Dorothy Sims tells this story with a moral worth remembering. There was once a lady named Mabel Jullup who had taste. She bought a lovely vase at an auction and put it on her table. It was Ming, and very elegant, but it made the rest of her furniture look tacky. So she sold the rest of the furniture, and had an expensive interior decorator re-do her entire apartment. That made Mr. Jullup look cheap. So she got a divorce from Mr. Jullup, and married a Mr. Preston Potter, of the Social Register.

But here's the sad ending to the story. Mr. Preston Potter made HER look cheap!

"What are you reading?" a mother demanded of her seven-year-old. "A story about a cow jumping over the moon," was the answer. "Throw that book away at once," commanded the mother. "How often have I told you you're too young to read science fiction?"

The first movie queen was Pearl White. She was a short, trim blonde. Miss White completed her last picture in 1922. Like the others, it was a serial and one episode was shown each week at the local bijou. Each reel closed with Miss White screaming silently as she was dragged toward a buzzsaw, a cliff, railroad tracks.

The patrons had to return the following week—panting and unnerved—to see how Miss White could possibly escape sudden death. She always did. In the final reel, the brave, virtuous girl always triumphed over the forces of evil.

Miss White was born Pearl Fay White on March 4, 1889. The place was Greenridge, Missouri. Her father was a farmer. He had three daughters and two sons. He sent Pearl to high school in 1903, but she quit and played small parts at the Diemer Theatre in Springfield, Missouri.

Her father objected, but the attractive girl paid little attention. At 18, she left home to join a stock company. At 20, she was performing in the New York area when her voice began to fail. The best she could do in volume was a little more than a whisper.

Pearl White accepted small parts working in Powers Films, which had a studio in a stable on 241st Street, In the Bronx. This was in 1910, and the movie nickelodeons offered little money and less prestige. Love scenes were almost nonexistent. The motion picture stories were built around adventure, and a heroine had to know how to run along the top of a moving train, how to drive a car off a cliff, how to draw a gun, and ride a horse.

The kiss was reserved for the final fadeout. Miss White did so well at Powers that she got a job with Pathe Freres, in Jersey City. This meant more money. They tried her in broad comedy, and, for a while, she tossed pies and closed her eyes and waited for them.

In 1914, she turned out her first, and most famous, serial: The Perils of Pauline. It made Miss White America's Heroine before Mary Pickford became America's Sweetheart. From 1914 to 1919, Pearl White starred in The Exploits of Elaine, The Iron Claw, Pearl of the Army, The Fatal Ring, The House of Hate, The Lightning Raider and The Black Secret.

Each consisted of 15 episodes, and each episode was a two-reeler. Pearl was filmed on flaming yachts, trapped in rising water in dungeons, jumping from trains, toppling into volcano cones, wing walking from one biplane to another, at the mercy of opium smokers in Chinatown.

The lady performed her own feats until she became famous. Then Pathe felt that she was too valuable to risk. A male double (with wig) executed most of the dangerous stunts in the later films. In Perils of Pauline, Miss White fell down a flight of stairs and sustained a permanent injury to her spine.

In 1919, she tired of serials and signed a rich contract with Fox Films to star in drawing room dramas. In two years, she made ten pictures and few went to see them. In 1922, Pearl White made a final serial, Plunder, and retired. Her earned income for the final eight years was $2,000,000.

Her life had not been devoid of romance. On October 12, 1907, she had married a Mississippi actor named Victor Sutherland. She divorced him in 1914 and, five years later, married Wallace McCutcheon, actor. Pearl White divorced him after two years.

There were no children. Miss White bought a villa near Paris and spent much of her time on the Riviera. She was seldom photographed, and was known to her small circle of friends as a warm-hearted, shrewd person with a fine sense of humor.

When motion pictures began to talk, no one asked Pearl White what she thought of them. No one cared. Everyone thought that the old movies serials were very funny.

In July 1938, Pearl White checked into the American Hospital in Paris. She was vaguely ill. When the illness became serious, she summoned a priest. She died of a liver ailment on August 4, 1938 and was buried in Paris.

A man weighing only 100 pounds would weigh only 38 pounds on Mars—Factographs. Hmmpf!—a man weighing only 100 pounds has no business taking a trip like that!

Though Venus is, of course, a sister planet she is 56 million miles out in space. A sort of distant relative, that is.

The sending of the "message" to Venus consumed only 10 cents worth of electricity. Golly, that's cheaper than air mail, special delivery.

The old-fashioned windjammer has all but disappeared, according to a magazine article. The reference, however, is to boats—and not members of Congress.

Quote The Odds On The Weather?

Have you ever had a grudge against the weather? If you haven't, the Weather Bureau wishes it could pin a medal on you. It gets plenty of complaints from other people.

For decades, the bureau simply bowed its head to the stormy complaints. It knew that weather forecasting is far from being an exact science. Some predictions are sure to go wrong. If the Weather Bureau hits the ball five times out of six, it considers it has about as good a batting average as anybody can expect.

It was inevitable, the bureau knew, that the weather would sometimes take an unexpected turn which could not have been predicted by meteorology in its present stage of development. And it was inevitable that people would complain when a forecast went sour.

Just recently, however, it has occurred to the weather man that he doesn't have to take this fatalistic view about complaints. He had been saying flatly in his forecasts that it would be fair, or it would rain, when he knew all along that he was stating, not a certainty — as his language implied—but a mere probability. Why not call it a mere probability, then?

A weather prediction is now issued somewhat in this form: "Cloudy today; light rain tonight; clearing tomorrow." Yet all the time the weather man may know that there is a 40 per cent chance that it may rain "today," a 20 per cent chance of escaping rain "tonight," and a 30 per cent chance of being wrong about "tomorrow." So why not say so? Like this: Rain probability 40 per cent today, 80 per cent tonight, 30 per cent tomorrow."

Soon there may be an old-style forecast, followed by a new type of percentage statement giving the probabilities of its being right or wrong.

But only an optimist would expect that to stop people from complaining.

Buddhism And Tibet

Among the religions which the Soviet Universal State finds it necessary to destroy is Buddhism which prevails in such countries as Tibet, China, India, Mongolia, Korea, Japan and other countries including parts of Soviet Russia. The influence of Buddhism has been enormous in these countries, particularly in the form of Lamaism which is centered in Tibet and whose votaries accept the Dalai Lama as God.

The method by which this person becomes a god is called metempsychosis which simply means that we are all constantly passing through a succession of lives; that the soul of man never dies but finds refuge in some living body at the moment which we call death. So, when a Dalai Lama dies, his soul takes refuge in the body of a babe born at that moment. It is a doctrine of the eternity, the everlastingness, to coin a word, of life.

There have been many Buddhas, but the ones most revered are Sakyamuni (Gotama), the founder of Buddhism, and Amitabha (in Chinese, Omito Fuh) who is especially worshipped in Mongolia and northern China. Another god-person is Kuan Yin, the goddess of mercy, who in distant history was a male but is now universally a female. She is often represented with a child in her arms.

Buddhism is a product of the life, the conduct, the theories of a person who was born, as some say, in 623 B.C., a prince of a small kingdom near Nepal. His name was Gotama, although his clan name is often given as Sakyamuni. At the age of 25, he decided to become a recluse; he left his father's court; lived an ascetic life for five years. He became a beggar and "he entered into a state of reverie, emitting a bright light and reflecting on the four modes of truth."

He gathered disciples whom he trained according to his ideas and whom he sent far and wide to preach his doctrine. Monasteries were established and monastic vows were binding. His teachings are contained in the sutras, or laws, which all Buddhists accept and the possession of copies not only brings knowledge but health and good luck.

Gotama died in 543 B.C. and at the time of his death, his religion was well established throughout India. The central point, sociologically, of his religion was self-denial and good works. Religiously, the central principle of Buddhism is not a god, as the West understands God, but rather the soul of man, which by prayers, alms, austerities and other virtues so perfects itself that it finds lodgings in higher and higher beings until it becomes a god. In a word, Buddhism is a humanistic form of religion. Of course, over the centuries, rites and rituals, idols and other manifestations of gods (Buddhas) and saints or prospective Buddhas (Bodhisattva) have appeared in the various forms of Buddhism.

Many customs of Buddhism and both Roman Catholic and Greek Orthodox Christianity are similar. Abbe Huc, a Roman Catholic priest, who travelled in China and Tibet in the 1840s, described this similarity as he witnessed it at that time, as follows:

"The cross, the mitre, the dalmatica, the cope which the lamas wear on their journeys, or when performing some ceremony out of the temple; the service with double choirs, the psalmody, the exorcisms, the censer suspended from five chains, which you can open or close at pleasure; the benedictions given by extending the right hand over the heads of the faithful; the rosary, ecclesiastical celibacy, spiritual retirement, worship of the saints; the fasts, processions, litanies, and holy water—all these are analogies between ourselves and the Buddhists."

The form of Buddhism prevailing in Tibet and Mongolia and in many parts of China is known as Lamaism. The headquarters of this sect is Lhasa and the head of the church, the Dalai Lama, lives there in the magnificent Potala which is a combined fortress and monastery. It is from the Potala that the Chinese Communists have recently driven the Dalai Lama.

Because of Tibet's inaccessibility, no Chinese government has ever really ruled Tibet, and other foreigners were forbidden to enter it. The government was by monks in the monasteries at the head of whom was the Dalai Lama. Lhasa, where the Dalai Lama resided, was often referred to as "The Forbidden City." This city is now in the hands of the Chinese Communists.

'Wonder Which Did Come First'

Exiled Dictator Batista Calls Fidel Castro 'Butcher, Madman'

By Drew Pearson

(Editor's note—Drew Pearson today interviews ex-President Batista, now in exile in the Dominican Republic.)

CIUDAD TRUJILLO, Dominican Republic — The last time I saw Fulgencio Batista was at Sancti Spiritus in the interior of Cuba, when he was still a hero. For miles down the road, traffic was jammed. In front of the reviewing stand, a parade milled and saluted the President of Cuba. Batista had come through that crowd, his white suit mussed and mauled by friendly hands that reached out to greet him.

That was in the late summer of 1955.

Four years later, I saw Batista walking in the garden of the Hotel Jaragua, in this city, in exile and very much alone. A lot of people have interviewed Fidel Castro, but no one the man he replaced. So for two hours I talked to the ex-President of Cuba.

I remarked that he was looking thin.

"These days are very sad ones and I cannot eat or sleep too well," he said.

"The last time I saw you, the crowds were saluting you with great enthusiasm," I reminded. "You were a hero. What happened in between?"

"You are a newspaperman," replied Batista. "You know what the press can do. When the press continually calls a man a dictator—people eventually believe it. We have a saying that the 'press is the fourth power'—and the press of both Cuba and the United States is powerful.

"Most of the people of Cuba were with me even at the end," Batista continued. "Three times Castro called for a general strike and ther was no strike. Workers' living standards had reached the highest point in history—according to your own Department of Commerce. I had built more hospitals and opened more schools than any president in history. You were there. You saw those schools.

U.S. Cuts Arms Supply

"Finally," he said, "the impression prevailed that the United States was against me. And you would be surprised what happens in a country when people believe the United States is against you. You have no idea the power the United States can wield by cutting off the supply of arms. I could not buy arms; Castro was smuggling them from Venezuela, from Mexico and from the United States."

"But how do you explain the great crowds that welcomed Castro in Havana and all along the road to Havana?" I asked.

"He was the winner. Crowds always hail the winner. Crowds are fickle."

"But didn't you make the mistake of staying in office too long?" I inquired. "Wouldn't you have gone down in history a great president if you had remained out of office when you first retired from the presidency in 1944?"

"Maybe. A man can always look back and figure that he should have things differently. But in 1950 I was asked three times to lead a coup d'etat. I refused. People were fed up with the graft. The army was ready to rebel. I still refused. Finally they wrote my name on the ticket for senator and I was elected to the Senate while still absent. It was only then that I came back to Havana and took over the government in March 1952 without one man being killed.

"But maybe I shouldn't have come back. Maybe I stayed too long. I don't know."

Castro Called "Butcher"

Batista talked about other revolutions. As a sergeant he had led the revolt against the hated dictator Machado in 1933.

"There were only 100 killed in that revolution," he said. "And in 1933 we abolished the death penalty. Between that time and the day Castro took over only one man was executed—a German spy who gave signals to Nazi submarines right after Pearl Harbor.

"Even when Castro led the first coup against me on July 26, 1953, and killed six policemen in Oriente Province, we captured him, tried him, and he got 18 years. Then after one year I gave him amnesty.

"However, Castro is a butcher." Batista's eyes snapped. "He killed two of his own roommates in the university, one of them in front of his own mother—merely to get control of a rival student faction. And he led the massacre in Bogota. All his life he has been a killer. Yet, not knowing this, I gave him amnesty."

"What about the reports of mass executions by your troops?" I asked.

"I would like to get all the widows and orphans killed by Castro," Batista's eyes blazed, "and put them side by side with those killed by us. Of course there were some killed by us. This was war. But we did not go in for torture and mass murder.

"This is a butcher," Batista repeated. "When the court did not immediately sentence Sosa Blanco, Castro announced 'I'll shoot the trial court.' So Blanco was sentenced to death.

"When 43 pilots were absolved from bombing cities, Castro proclaimed, 'They should be sentenced to death.' And he stripped the officer who had defended them, of his uniform.

"At that point, Carlos Pena Justiz, the lawyer who had defended Castro when he killed six policemen in Oriente Province, came to Castro and asked one favor — a fair trial for the 43 fliers.

"But Castro ignored him. He ordered the Defense Minister to try them again. They were given 40 years in the swamps outside Matanzas—the Cuban Siberia.

"Yet your newspapers build this man up as a great liberator, a Christian," said Batista. "You will find that he is a madman."

Political 'Missile-Rattling' Can Be Dangerous

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — They used to call it "saber-rattling." But since the saber is outmoded, the appropriate term nowadays would be "missile-rattling."

The idea is to scare another government which might be thinking of an attack on your country, though the justification is always supposed to be reassurance to one's own people.

But, so far as the United States is concerned, there is an altogether different reason why the military chiefs and the Secretary of Defense find it necessary to go around the country these days telling the people we can "flatten Russia." It has to do with the low state of American politics.

For months now, the American people have been told that the Soviets are "ahead of us" or that there is a "dangerous gap." This might make pleasant reading in Moscow, but the ostensible purpose of the politician is patriotic. He has convinced himself that he is not thinking of his own ambitions, that he is not playing politics with human fears, and that he is alerting his country to its own lack of preparedness. But, unfortunately, this is not the whole story. A careful examination of the facts, as developed in testimony before Congressional committees, would indicate that all the military chiefs have agreed that our armed forces and weapons today are capable of administering incredible destruction on the potential enemy and that plans have been made to maintain adequate strength for the future.

It has been easy enough to get these military facts, but this wouldn't satisfy political ambition. It might be thought that in free America, whose proud claim has always been that "partisan politics ends at the water's edge," there would be more restraint on the part of public men in issuing deprecatory statements which, on the one hand, accuse the incumbent Administration of neglect, but which, on the other hand, inevitably result in counterassertions by the military chiefs themselves in phrases that naturally arouse bad feeling between peoples theoretically preparing to fight each other.

If the Soviet people think they are doomed to destruction, they will tend to forget the hardships imposed by their tyrannical government and will rally behind it in desperation.

When Khrushchev, in one of his vodka outbursts, said to Western diplomats in Moscow a few months ago, "We will bury you," his boast was reported by the press of the world. It aroused, particularly in the United States, a feeling that we were being threatened.

The same reaction can ensue within the Soviet Union from the reading of many of the comments on our defense capabilities which are being printed rather widely this week. Our military men and the Secretary of Defense have been describing in their public statements the terrible destruction which our own military apparatus can inflict on the enemy, if attacked. The Soviet press usually omits the words "if attacked."

No nation likes to be threatened by any other nation. Threats produce a jingoistic spirit and tend to arouse patriotic feelings. Khrushchev, of course, did not do the cause of peace any service by his recent ultimatum demanding that the Western troops be withdrawn from West Berlin by May 27. He has since modified his position in the face of worldwide condemnation.

President Eisenhower has handled himself superbly. He has uttered no words of bluster about our military power. He has simply said we would not retreat an inch and would fight only if we were attacked. This is not only the proper phrasing for diplomatic purposes, but it also serves to keep the argument on the wave lengths of peace so far as America itself is concerned.

Somehow the people behind the Iron Curtain ought to be informed that the debate inside the United States is primarily political and that there isn't the remotest intention here of attacking them. America, to be sure—in case of attack—does not intend to wait until the "first blow" arrives before putting into effect its interceptive devices far distant from our own territory. This can be said without any threats or bluster. There is, moreover, a legitimate need for outlining to the American people the military capacity of this country to inflict retaliatory blows. Congress must be given the facts upon which to base its judgment, but there is no need for politicians to assail the expert judgment of America's military leaders and to engage in a debate in terms of international threats.

The current debate in Congress has much to do with nondefense spending. For, if those who are arguing for more and more deficits can convince public opinion that all that has been said about a balanced budget is irrelevant, the end result will be to open the gates to further spending. It is not unrealistic to say that the "spenders" are using the alleged inadequacy of defense appropriations to obscure their real purpose, which is to increase nondefense spending. This category of expenditures, by the way, has been steadily increasing in recent years. It's too bad that, to offset political sniping, there has to be "missile-rattling." For it makes difficult the task of winning the peoples behind the Iron Curtain to our point of view on world peace.

Was Pilgrims' Epidemic A Virus Disease?

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

The first epidemic among white settlers in North America at Plymouth may have been due to a virus. It struck the immigrants during their first winter in Massachusetts. For all we know, it could have been influenza or one of the ECHO viruses that is making the rounds today.

That it was lethal is evident from reading Governor Bradford's notes: " this day (Dec. 24) died Solomon Martin, sixth and last who dies this month. Jan. 29 dies Rose, the wife of Captaine Standish. N. B.: This month eight of our number die. Feb. 21. Die Mr. William White, Mr. William Mullins, with two more; and the 25 dies Mary, wife of Mr. Isaac Allerton. N. B.: This month 17 of our number die. March 24 dies Elizabeth, wife of Mr. Edward Winslow. N. B.: This month 13 of our number die. And in three months past dies halfe of our company.

"Of 100 persons, scarce 50 remain, the living scarce able to bury the dead . . ."

According to Dr. John J. Byrne of Boston, the nature of the illness is obscure but it had all the earmarks of an acute, highly contagious disease. He doubts if it was typhoid, typhus, or smallpox because the two physicians present—Samuel Fuller and Giles Heale — would have recognized these maladies.

The Pilgrims had better than average health when they left Europe; only two deaths occurred during the long sea voyage. The group arrived in mid-winter and were fatigued, exposed to cold, and forced to live under insanitary conditions. In addition, their diet was poor.

All these factors lowered resistance and made them susceptible to infection. Those who survived the epidemic had a long, slow convalescence, which is in keeping with a severe viral disease.

TOMORROW: Sad sacks.

HIDEBOUND SKIN

S. K. writes: Is the cause of scleroderma known?

REPLY

No. In this condition, the skin becomes smooth and tight due to thickening or inflammation of the connective tissue beneath the outer layers of the epidermis. We do not know why this occurs.

PUFFY FROM CORTISONE

Mrs. R. L. writes: Our 16-year-old daughter has rheumatic fever and the doctor is giving her cortisone. This has caused her body to puff up so that she looks like a balloon. The doctor says not to be concerned but we can't help it. Can you offer some advice?

REPLY

Puffiness will disappear when cortisone is discontinued. I assume your physician has the girl on the least amount of the hormone needed to keep rheumatic fever under control and that she is on a low salt diet.

TOOTH GRINDER

Mrs. S. writes: My husband grinds his teeth at night. How can this habit be discouraged?

REPLY

Your dentist can supply you with a Hawley retainer which fits into the mouth and prevents the jaws from coming together. This should be done because grinding the teeth is one cause of pyorrhea, which in turn leads to tooth loss.

BLOOD NOT AFFECTED

H. L. writes: Do hemorrhoids affect the entire blood stream?

REPLY

No. Involvement is local, except for the disposition.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

Dorothy Sims tells this story with a moral worth remembering. There was once a lady named Mabel Jullup who had taste. She bought a lovely vase at an auction and put it on her table. It was Ming, and very elegant, but it made the rest of her furniture look tacky. So she sold the rest of the furniture, and had an expensive interior decorator re-do her entire apartment. That made Mr. Jullup look cheap. So she got a divorce from Mr. Jullup, and married a Mr. Preston Potter, of the Social Register.

But here's the sad ending to the story. Mr. Preston Potter made HER look cheap!

"What are you reading?" a mother demanded of her seven-year-old. "A story about a cow jumping over the moon," was the answer. "Throw that book away at once," commanded the mother. "How often have I told you you're too young to read science fiction?"

You're Telling Me!

By William Ritt

A man weighing only 100 pounds would weigh only 38 pounds on Mars—Factographs. Hmmpf!—a man weighing only 100 pounds has no business taking a trip like that!

Though Venus is, of course, a sister planet she is 56 million miles out in space. A sort of distant relative, that is.

The sending of the "message" to Venus consumed only 10 cents worth of electricity. Golly, that's cheaper than air mail, special delivery.

The old-fashioned windjammer has all but disappeared, according to a magazine article. The reference, however, is to boats—and not members of Congress.

Mt. Savage K. C. Council To Confer Degree Sunday

MT. SAVAGE—James J. Brailer, grand knight of Mt. Savage Council No. 1058 has announced that a class of candidates will receive the first degree of the Order Sunday at 11 a.m. All candidates are requested to report to the K. of C. Hall at 10:30 a.m.

Following the first degree, the second degrees are scheduled in Cumberland at 2 p.m. April 5 and Thursday, April 9 in Mt. Savage, at 8 p.m.

District Deputy Carl L. Firlie, as well as other out-of-town guests plan to attend. All members of Mt. Savage Council are being requested to attend.

The committee on arrangements includes Edward J. Conway, James Brannon, Joseph Carter, Edward Malloy, James Gillespie, Gregory King and Walter Meade.

Frostburg Police Cruiser Grounded; Using Old Plates

FROSTBURG—Someone goofed, and because of it the Frostburg Police Department cruiser is 'grounded.'

When the 1958 license plate deadline expired at midnight Tuesday the cruiser was parked since no new 1959 plates were available. Since then, members of the department have had to get around either by walking or through the use of private cars.

Frostburg City Clerk William Vogtman claims he recalls receiving the plates and checking to make certain they carried the official star — designating the vehicle as a city-owned car. Vogtman said he placed the license plates in the police station, but a search has failed to locate them.

The State Police has placed a tracer with the Department of Motor Vehicles to make certain the plates were shipped to Frostburg, but no reply has been received.

In the meantime, the town officers will continue to use the 'shank's mare' and private automobiles.

Between 40 and 45 per cent of the medical discharges from the Army during World War II were for psychiatric disabilities.

Northern High PTA Will Meet April 9

ACCIDENT — The Northern High School PTA will meet next at 8 p. m. Thursday, April 9, in the school cafeteria.

C. O. Bender, the president, invites all parents, patrons and friends to attend the meeting.

A discussion on "scheduling for 1959-60" will follow the business session. During this discussion details concerning subject offerings, and courses required will be explained to those interested.

Refreshments will be served during the social hour.

Woman's Club Plans Election

MOOREFIELD—The Woman's Club of Moorefield will hold its next meeting in the home of Mrs. D. J. Baker, April 6, at 8 p.m.

At this meeting, officers for the new year will be elected and other organizational matters handled.

Hostesses with Mrs. Baker will be Mrs. Francis Baker, Mrs. Edward Baker, Mrs. Oscar Bean, Mrs. Wendell Hester, Mrs. Thurmond Reynolds.

Medical Patient

LONACONING—Harold Nicols, Lonaconing, is a medical patient in Sacred Heart Hospital, Cumberland.

Hardy County Starts New Jail

MOOREFIELD — Work has started on Hardy County's new $65,000 jail on the rear of the court house yard. Dirt has been excavated for the basement. Irvin Wratchford has been named contractor and general foreman for the work.

The plumbing, heating and wiring will be let by contract.

Patti Nolan Gives Birthday Party

LONACONING — Miss Patti Nolan, East Main street, was honored on her ninth birthday with a party at the VFW home by her aunt, Mrs. William Foley.

Games were played and refreshments served. Those attending were Billy Foley, Kathy Rowan, Debbie and Alan Trenum, Linda Robertson, Rose Ann Grove, Timmy Miller, Linda and Carol Struck, Diane Duckworth, Rose Mary O'Rourke, Diane Burns, Colleen Foote, Mary Nolan, Rod Morgan, Pat and Mary H. McManon, Pat Eagan, Tommy Dawson, Mary DiUbaldo, Debbie and Gail Barnard.

Mike O'Rourke, Helen and Tom Taylor, Mary Ann Coleman, Mary L. McElivee, Margaret Meyers, Janice and Larry Ferrens, Mary M. Thrasher, Lynn and Sandy Gowans, Joe Hughes, James Farrell, Donald Cook, Peggy and Patty Mooney, John Brant, Rosalind Stafford, Coletta Youngblood, Winnie and Boots Miller.

Mrs. Rose Esther Nolan, Mrs. Anna Lee Rowan, Mrs. Margaret McDonough, Mrs. Gertie Cave, Mrs. Rosie Grove, Mrs. Deloris Miller, Mrs. Mary Jane Thrasher, Mrs. Colleen Rowan, Mrs. Elizabeth Cook and Mrs. James Farrell.

Piedmont Moose To Elect Tonight

PIEDMONT—The annual election of officers for Piedmont Lodge No. 1120 Loyal Order of Moose will be held this evening at the lodge hall.

The candidates submitted by the nominating committee recently include, F. L. Mellon, O. L. Young and Carroll Jeffries, for governor; Clyde Michael, junior governor; M. A. High and Junior Ashby, treasurer; T. A. Collins, prelate and Vause Adams, Raymond Lee and Elmer VanPelt, trustee.

Moorefield Reports $952 In Heart Fund

MOOREFIELD—Irvin B. Bowman, chairman for the local Heart Fund Drive, reports contributions amounting to $952.03. This amount is slightly more than than was given last year.

Mr. Bowman says the success of the drive, which was held to one day in Moorefield, was due to the cooperation of the solicitors. Farm Women's Clubs assisted in the rural areas and solicited when they saw people, rather than making a house-to-house drive on Heart Sunday.

4-H To Give Program

ECKHART — The Eckhart Homemakers Club will meet Monday at 7:30 p. m. in the Square Circle club house. The 4-H Club will give a demonstration and program. Refreshments will be served by the nutrition chairman.

Bridge Drops Into Creek

SOMERSET, Pa. (AP) — Part of a small bridge dropped 15 feet into a creek here Tuesday and carried a six-ton dump truck with it after the truck had crashed into a bridge girder.

The driver, Gaither L. Lewis, 38, of Hagerstown, Md., was admitted to Somerset Community Hospital, suffering from head cuts and a possible skull fracture.

State Police said Lewis' empty truck clipped a girder, causing the entire right side of the bridge to fall into the water.

The 20-foot wide bridge has a steel frame and wood floor. It spans Cox's Creek and leads to a residential area on the southern outskirts of Somerset.

Bruce Alumni Planning Dance

WESTERNPORT — Plans will be made for the annual banquet and dance at a meeting of the Bruce High School Alumni Association, tonight, at 7:30 o'clock at the school according to Eldridge Guy, president. The dance and banquet will be held Saturday, June 6.

A representative from each class is requested to attend. Any class planning to hold a reunion this year should make reservations.

Return Home

FROSTBURG—Prof. and Mrs. Louis A. Potter Jr., and son John have returned to their home in East Lansing, Mich., after spending Easter holidays with Mrs. Potter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alex G. Close, Frostburg. Mr. Potter is on the faculty, music department, of Michigan State University.

Aid Association Meets April 7

ARTEMAS, Pa. — The Fairview Helping Aid Association will hold their annual meeting at 7:30 p.m. on April 7 at Miller Grove school house in Purcell. Nellie Clingerman, secretary said all members are requested to attend.

Legion Units Meet Sunday

WESTERNPORT — Cecil Randolph Unit, American Legion at Frostburg, will be host to Mountain District American Legion Auxiliaries, Sunday at 2:30 p.m. according to Mrs. Cleda Stewart, district vice president.

Announce Birth

WESTERNPORT — Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Alexander, 310 Walnut Street, announce the birth of a son at Potomac Valley Hospital, Keyser.

Stan Leonard's 69 Paces Masters

Harper, Burke, Palmer Trail By 2 Strokes

Ben Hogan Shoots 73 And Snead 74 In First Round

By MILTON RICHMAN

AUGUSTA, Ga. (UPI) — Stan Leonard of Vancouver, B.C., refusing to allow a tricky wind or rain-soaked greens to get in his hair, fashioned an opening round three-under-par 69 Thursday to take a two-stroke lead in the Masters golf tournament.

The 44-year-old Leonard, whose putter proved smoother than bonded Canadian whisky, put together a 33 going out and a 36 coming back in a near - flawless, eye-catching exhibition achieved under extremely difficult weather conditions.

Only four players, including Leonard, were able to break par 72 on Augusta National's 6,980-yard course, which played unusually long due to an early morning rain and frequent gusts of wind up to 30 miles per hour.

Closest pursuers to Leonard were defending champion Arnold Palmer of Latrobe, Pa.; Jackie Burke of Kiamesha Lake, N.Y., and Chandler Harper of Portsmouth, Va., all of whom had 71's.

Five Equal Par

Five others — Tommy Bolt of Paradise, Fla., Jay Hebert of Sanford, Fla., Gene Littler of Singing Hills, Calif., Peter Thomson of Melbourne, Australia, and Angel Miguel of Madrid, Spain—were able to equal par among the 87 who teed off.

Ben Hogan, far from satisfied with his 73, commented that the wind gusts "made the course three or four shots harder" and wryly added that Leonard "must have practiced playing in the cold winds up in Canada" to come in as well as he did.

Little Gary Player of South Africa, Mike Souchak of Grossinger, N.Y., and Dick Mayer of St. Petersburg, Fla., also were bracketed with Hogan at 73 while pretourney favorite Sam Snead, Cary Middlecoff and Lloyd Mangrum, all veterans of the tournament trail, had 74's.

Ken Venturi, putting poorly all day, tied with Julius Boros of Mid Pines, N.C., and Bo Wininger of Oklahoma City, Okla., at 7 while Billy Casper of Apple Valley, Calif., and Doug Ford of Paradise, Fla., checked in with 76's.

Took 30 Putts

Leonard, a six-time Canadian PGA champ making his sixth appearance in the Masters, took only 30 putts during his round. He one-putted six greens and came in with three birdies and 15 pars.

Mount Union Plays Bobcats

Ashland-Teachers Finale Rained Out

Rain knocked out the final game of the series yesterday at Frostburg between Ashland (Ohio) College and Frostburg State but the Bobcats hope the weather changes for the better so they can play Mount Union College, of Alliance, Ohio, today at 1:30 p. m., at Beall High School Field.

Coach Jackson Rafeld's Purple Raiders will be meeting the State Teachers for the eighth time since 1952 and will be gunning for their sixth victory. The Ohioans have won five of seven games played to date.

Ashland moved to Shepherdstown, W. Va., last night to play the Shepherd College Rams today and Saturday.

Fort Hill High's Sentinels and Fred "Tack" Clark's Keyser High Golden Tornado will clash in another practice game today at 4 p. m., at Fort Hill Field. Keyser won the first game on Wednesday by the score of 11-4.

Coach John J. "Bobby" Cavanaugh plans to start Melvin Nines on the rubber and will have John Price, Gary Henry and Kenny Deatelhauser available for relief duty.

John "Joker" Boyle and Russ Minnicks will be the umpires.

Cleveland Wins, 4-2

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Tito Francona's two-run double broke an eighth-inning tie and gave the Cleveland Indians a 4-2 victory over the Chicago Cubs in the exhibition finale Thursday.

Chicago	000 000 020—2 5 2
Cleveland	100 000 120—4 7 1

Drabowsky, Hobbie (6) and Neeman; Perry, Woodeshick (7) and Nixon, Brown (7). W—Woodeshick. L—Hobbie.

Home runs — Chicago, Averill. Cleveland, Minoso.

Bucs Farm Six

FORT MYERS, Fla. (UPI)—The Pittsburgh Pirates cut their squad to the 28-player limit on Thursday by sending six men to the Jacksonville farm club camp for re-assignments.

Those leaving the Bucs are pitchers Don Williams, George Perez, Laurin Pepper and Jim Hardison; catcher Bill Hall and outfielder Joe Christopher.

Bill Skowron Wrenches Back

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (UPI) —Bill Skowron of the New York Yankees wrenched his back in a pre-game workout Thursday and probably will not be able to play when the world champions open the American League season against the Boston Red Sox next Friday.

The injury - prone first baseman slipped in the mud during a "pepper" game before the Yanks met the St. Louis Cardinals in an exhibition game and wrenched his back on the lower left side.

Ed Schwarz will make his debut as track and field mentor at Allegany High School tomorrow when the Camper thinclads launch their campaign in a dual meet with the West Virginia School for the Deaf at 3:30 p. m., in Romney.

Schwarz succeeds Lawrence Becker as track and field coach of the Campers after having made his debut as head football coach at the Campobello school last fall. Bob Hutcheson is junior high coach.

Other meets on the Allegany schedule are as follows:

April 9 — Triangular meet with Berkeley Springs and Charles Town at Berkeley Springs (3:30).

April 16 — Dual meet at Beall.

April 28 — Ridgeley at Allegany.

May 9 — County Meet at Fort Hill.

May 23 — State Meet at College Park.

Loes Has Sore Arm, May Be Returned

ORLANDO, Fla. (UPI) — Billy Loes, traded for pitcher Vito Valentinetti to the Washington Senators by Baltimore only Wednesday, has a sore arm and may be returned to the Orioles, it was learned Thursday.

The 29 - year - old right-hander was sent back to Washington Thursday night and will be examined Friday by George A. Resta, the Senators' team doctor. If Dr. Resta thinks Loes' sore arm is chronic, the pitcher, according to Washington club President Calvin Griffith, will be returned to Baltimore.

Meet Is Postponed

The dual track and field meet scheduled for today between Fort Hill High School and Beall High School at Frostburg has been postponed on account of wet grounds.

The event has been rescheduled for Monday afternoon.

MAY RETURN — Vito Valentinetti, above, Washington Senators hurler, was traded to the Baltimore Orioles for Billy Loes on Wednesday but the trade will be called off if it can be proved that Loes has a sore arm. Loes was sent back to Washington last night and will be examined today. (AP Photofax)

Waivers Asked On Sal Maglie

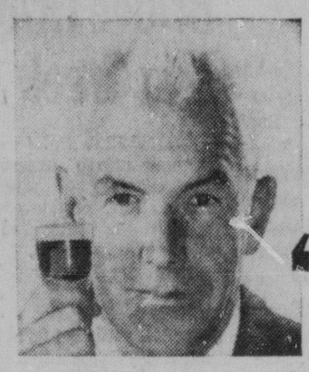

Giants Reported To Be Interested

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (UPI) —Sal Maglie, a key figure in three National League pennant championships with the Giants and Dodgers, approached the end of his major league career when the St. Louis Cardinals announced Thursday they were giving him his unconditional release.

Before releasing him, the Cardinals put the 42-year-old right hander's name on the waiver list, and there was a faint chance that another club might sign him. There were reports the San Francisco Giants were interested in Maglie.

If another club does hire him, this probably will be the last season in the majors for the crafty former Mexican League jumper who returned to become one of the major leagues' outstanding pitchers well after he had seen age 30. He helped pitch the New York Giants to pennants in 1951 and 1954 and the Dodgers to the league championship in 1956 when he threw a no-hitter at the age of 40.

The Cardinals also announced that they are sending Julio Gotay, the 19-year-old Puerto Rican shortstop, who succumbed to rookie "jitters" after getting off to a brilliant start this spring, to their triple-A minor league camp at Daytona Beach, Fla., along with five pitchers.

Stan Leonard's 69 Paces Masters

Harper, Burke, Palmer Trail By 2 Strokes

Ben Hogan Shoots 73 And Snead 74 In First Round

By MILTON RICHMAN

AUGUSTA, Ga. (UPI) — Stan Leonard of Vancouver, B.C., refusing to allow a tricky wind or rain-soaked greens to get in his hair, fashioned an opening round three-under-par 69 Thursday to take a two-stroke lead in the Masters golf tournament.

The 44-year-old Leonard, whose putter proved smoother than bonded Canadian whisky, put together a 33 going out and a 36 coming back in a near - flawless, eye-catching exhibition achieved under extremely difficult weather conditions.

Only four players, including Leonard, were able to break par 72 on Augusta National's 6,980-yard course, which played unusually long due to an early morning rain and frequent gusts of wind up to 30 miles per hour.

Closest pursuers to Leonard were defending champion Arnold Palmer of Latrobe, Pa.; Jackie Burke of Kiamesha Lake, N.Y., and Chandler Harper of Portsmouth, Va., all of whom had 71's.

Five Equal Par

Five others — Tommy Bolt of Paradise, Fla., Jay Hebert of Sanford, Fla., Gene Littler of Singing Hills, Calif., Peter Thomson of Melbourne, Australia, and Angel Miguel of Madrid, Spain—were able to equal par among the 87 who teed off.

Ben Hogan, far from satisfied with his 73, commented that the wind gusts "made the course three or four shots harder" and wryly added that Leonard "must have practiced playing in the cold winds up in Canada" to come in as well as he did.

Little Gary Player of South Africa, Mike Souchak of Grossinger, N.Y., and Dick Mayer of St. Petersburg, Fla., also were bracketed with Hogan at 73 while pretourney favorite Sam Snead, Cary Middlecoff and Lloyd Mangrum, all veterans of the tournament trail, had 74's.

Ken Venturi, putting poorly all day, tied with Julius Boros of Mid Pines, N.C., and Bo Wininger of Oklahoma City, Okla., at 7 while Billy Casper of Apple Valley, Calif., and Doug Ford of Paradise, Fla., checked in with 76's.

Took 30 Putts

Leonard, a six-time Canadian PGA champ making his sixth appearance in the Masters, took only 30 putts during his round. He one-putted six greens and came in with three birdies and 15 pars.

Mount Union Plays Bobcats

Ashland-Teachers Finale Rained Out

Rain knocked out the final game of the series yesterday at Frostburg between Ashland (Ohio) College and Frostburg State but the Bobcats hope the weather changes for the better so they can play Mount Union College, of Alliance, Ohio, today at 1:30 p. m., at Beall High School Field.

Coach Jackson Rafeld's Purple Raiders will be meeting the State Teachers for the eighth time since 1952 and will be gunning for their sixth victory. The Ohioans have won five of seven games played to date.

Ashland moved to Shepherdstown, W. Va., last night to play the Shepherd College Rams today and Saturday.

Fort Hill High's Sentinels and Fred "Tack" Clark's Keyser High Golden Tornado will clash in another practice game today at 4 p. m., at Fort Hill Field. Keyser won the first game on Wednesday by the score of 11-4.

Coach John J. "Bobby" Cavanaugh plans to start Melvin Nines on the rubber and will have John Price, Gary Henry and Kenny Deatelhauser available for relief duty.

John "Joker" Boyle and Russ Minnicks will be the umpires.

Cleveland Wins, 4-2

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Tito Francona's two-run double broke an eighth-inning tie and gave the Cleveland Indians a 4-2 victory over the Chicago Cubs in the exhibition finale Thursday.

Chicago	000 000 020—2 5 2
Cleveland	100 000 120—4 7 1

Home runs — Chicago, Averill. Cleveland, Minoso.

Bucs Farm Six

FORT MYERS, Fla. (UPI)—The Pittsburgh Pirates cut their squad to the 28-player limit on Thursday by sending six men to the Jacksonville farm club camp for re-assignments.

Those leaving the Bucs are pitchers Don Williams, George Perez, Laurin Pepper and Jim Hardison; catcher Bill Hall and outfielder Joe Christopher.

Bill Skowron Wrenches Back

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (UPI)—Bill Skowron of the New York Yankees wrenched his back in a pre-game workout Thursday and probably will not be able to play when the world champions open the American League season against the Boston Red Sox next Friday.

Romney High's Bill Maphis Named On All-State Squad

Princeton's Thorn Heads 15 Players Selected By UPI

Bill Maphis, Romney High School junior, who hung up several all-time area scoring records during the 1958-59 season, has been named to the 15-member United Press International all-West Virginia basketball squad it was announced yesterday by Jerry Gould, of the Charleston Bureau of the U.P.I.

Rod Thorn of Princeton High School was the only repeater.

12 Seniors Named

Twelve of the 15 players are seniors. Nine are from the southern portion of the state and six hail from the north.

In addition to Thorn the other seniors are:

Carl Ward, South Charleston; Don Jones, Sherrard; Len Pavlic, Wheeling Central; Gay Elmore, Stonewall Jackson; Roy Phillips, Matewan; Charles Terry, Fairmont West; Corky Layman, Huntington High; Fred Burns, Milton; Jimmy Gaskins, Parkersburg; Donny Weir, Oceana, and Joe Haught, Huntington East.

There were many other outstanding players in the state this year. This "honorable mention" list included Dave Shuck, Lookout, and Warren (Tex) Young, Athens, both 6-foot-8; Carl Pennington, Welch; Joe Hornyak, Masontown Valley.

Steve Yambro, Fairmont St. Peter's; Bob Schneider, Victory; Rudy Tapia, Northfork - Elkhorn; Tom Caveny, Clarksburg Notre Dame; Delmer Gentry, Glen Rogers; Ned (Buzzy) Ragland, Beckley.

John Allen, Fayetteville; Charles Taylor, Montgomery; Joe Hicks, Richwood; Poncho Flores, Wheeling Central; Mike Wolfe, DuPont, and Bob Hardman, St. Albans.

Thorn Is Captain

Thorn was the state's second leading scorer this season with a 30.6 average and captains the UPI squad in his third appearance in as many seasons.

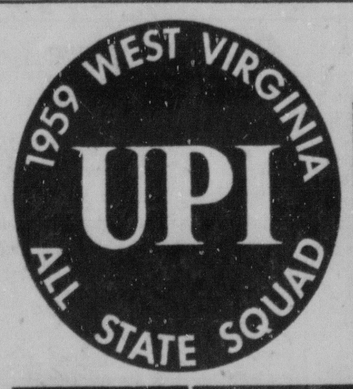

The 6-foot-5 "Lightnin' Rod" led Princeton to a 20-2 record and is one of the most sought-after high school players in the nation. More than 60 colleges have offered scholarships to the son of a Princeton police officer.

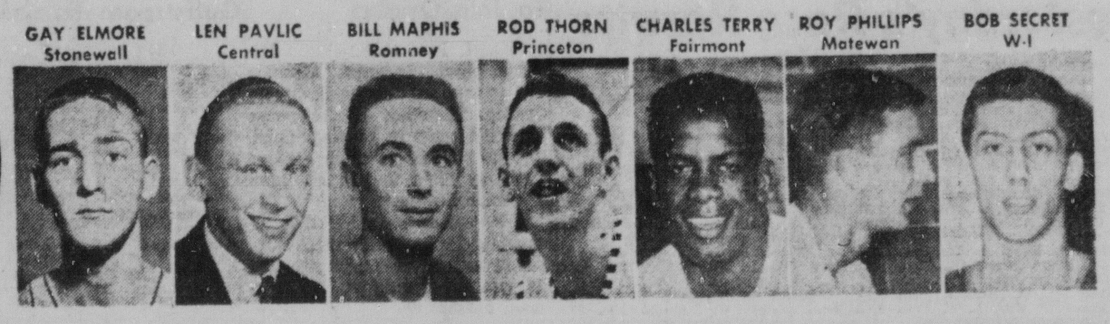

An "A" student, Rod scored 674 points and led the Tigers in both rebounding and assists as they annexed their second UPI regular-season title in a row.

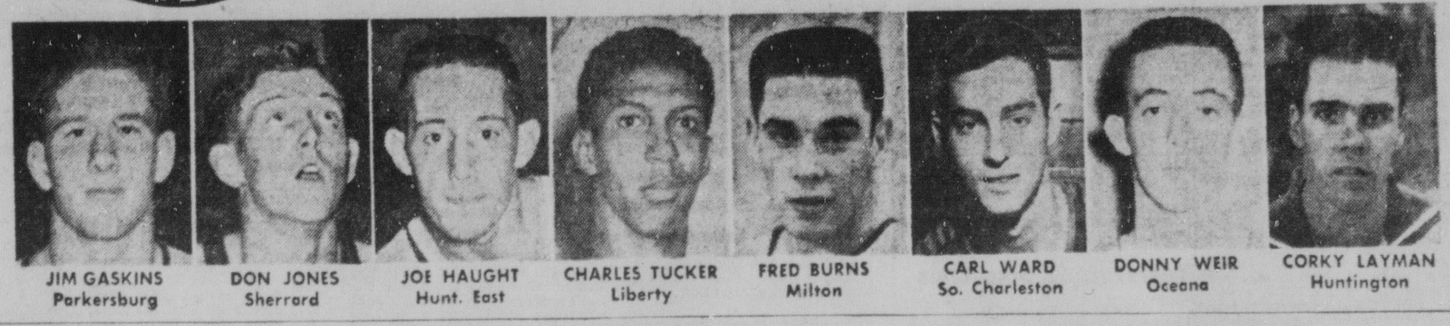

Maphis Tops Scorers

Maphis, like Thorn, a regular since his freshman year, led all scorers with a 31.4 average for Coach Clyde (Hardtimes) Green at Romney, who termed him "one of the greatest prospects I have ever seen."

At 6-foot-5, the 170-pound junior scored 30 or more points in 14 games this season with a single-game high of 52 markers. His P.V.C. average shattered a 29-point area mark set in 1951 by Carl Hartman of Ridgeley who later starred at Alderson-Broaddus.

Patterson-Johansson Bout Has Top Of $100

Fight Set June 25 At Yankee Stadium; May 1 Scrap On TV

By NORMAN MILLER

These two announcements involving a pair of lucrative paydays for the 24-year-old heavyweight titleholder were made Thursday at separate press conferences:

Promoter Bill Rosensohn confirmed the June 25 date at Yankee Stadium for Patterson's title defense against Johansson of Sweden and said the tickets would be scaled to $100 top, aimed at a $1,500,000 gate.

Madison Square Garden officials disclosed they have relinquished the Friday night May 1 television date so that Patterson's "tuneup" title defense against Brian London of England could be shown nationally from Las Vegas, Nev. The sponsor's TV fee for this bout will be $225,000.

Rosensohn announced that fans with $100 to spare would be offered "special deluxe red-carpet treatment" among 2,000 seats in the first 10 ringside rows at Yankee Stadium for the Johansson bout.

There have been only two previous $100-priced fights in boxing history. Back in 1892, first-row seats for the John L. Sullivan-James J. Corbett bout sold for $100, although all other ringside locations went for $25 each.

The latest $100 ringside fight was Joe Louis' eighth - round knockout victory over Billy Conn at the stadium on June 19, 1946. That bout drew a gross of $1,925,564.

In addition to the "deluxe" locations for the Patterson-Johansson fight, there will be 8,000 seats immediately behind these in the "ringside" section priced at $50 each. General admission for the fight will be $5, with reserved seats starting at $10.

Rosensohn said no television arrangements have yet been completed for this match. He said he has conferred with CBS officials but not yet with the NBC. He added it probably would be several weeks before TV matters would be settled. Training sites for the fighters also have not yet been determined.

Logart, Scott Fight Tonight

WASHINGTON (AP) — Isaac Logart risks welterweight prestige Friday night against newcomer Charley Scott, an upset victor the first time they met.

Logart, 25, fifth-ranked contender, is a 9-5 favorite to avenge the earlier defeat when he comes up against unranked Scott in a 10-rounder at Capitol Arena.

The fight will be televised nationally (NBC, 10 p.m. EST).

Scott, 22-year-old Philadelphian, made a farce of the odds three weeks ago by taking a split decision from Logart.

Two judges and the referee will score the fight by the 10-point-must system. This allows the winner of each round 10 points and the loser 9 or fewer.

Yanks Cop Final From Cards, 2-1

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (UPI) — The New York Yankees beat the St. Louis Cardinals, 2 to 1 Thursday and closed out their annual series with a 4 to 1 advantage. The Bombers now have won 12 and lost 10, with a tie, while the Redbirds are 7 and 14.

Whitey Ford pitched eight innings for the Yankees and did not appear to press himself too hard. St. Louis made nine hits off him, the longest a wasted triple by Bill White in the eighth.

Larry Jackson went all the way, and in those eight innings also allowed nine hits. The Yankees won in the sixth when Hank Bauer walked and advanced on Gil McDougald's single and scored on a hit by Mickey Mantle.

Romney High's Bill Maphis Named On All-State Squad

Princeton's Thorn Heads 15 Players Selected By UPI

Bill Maphis, Romney High School junior, who hung up several all-time area scoring records during the 1958-59 season, has been named to the 15-member United Press International all-West Virginia basketball squad it was announced yesterday by Jerry Gould, of the Charleston Bureau of the U.P.I.

Rod Thorn of Princeton High School was the only repeater.

12 Seniors Named

Twelve of the 15 players are seniors. Nine are from the southern portion of the state and six hail from the north.

In addition to Thorn the other seniors are:

Carl Ward, South Charleston; Don Jones, Sherrard; Len Pavlic, Wheeling Central; Gay Elmore, Stonewall Jackson; Roy Phillips, Matewan; Charles Terry, Fairmont West; Corky Layman, Huntington High; Fred Burns, Milton; Jimmy Gaskins, Parkersburg; Donny Weir, Oceana, and Joe Haught, Huntington East.

There were many other outstanding players in the state this year. This "honorable mention" list included Dave Shuck, Lookout, and Warren (Tex) Young, Athens, both 6-foot-8; Carl Pennington, Welch; Joe Hornyak, Masontown Valley.

Steve Yambro, Fairmont St. Peter's; Bob Schneider, Victory; Rudy Tapia, Northfork - Elkhorn; Tom Caveny, Clarksburg Notre Dame; Delmer Gentry, Glen Rogers; Ned (Buzzy) Ragland, Beckley.

John Allen, Fayetteville; Charles Taylor, Montgomery; Joe Hicks, Richwood; Poncho Flores, Wheeling Central; Mike Wolfe, DuPont, and Bob Hardman, St. Albans.

Thorn Is Captain

Thorn was the state's second leading scorer this season with a 30.6 average and captains the UPI squad in his third appearance in as many seasons.

The 6-foot-5 "Lightnin' Rod" led Princeton to a 20-2 record and is one of the most sought-after high school players in the nation. More than 60 colleges have offered scholarships to the son of a Princeton police officer.

An "A" student, Rod scored 674 points and led the Tigers in both rebounding and assists as they annexed their second UPI regular-season title in a row.

Maphis Tops Scorers

Maphis, like Thorn, a regular since his freshman year, led all scorers with a 31.4 average for Coach Clyde (Hardtimes) Green at Romney, who termed him "one of the greatest prospects I have ever seen."

At 6-foot-5, the 170-pound junior scored 30 or more points in 14 games this season with a single-game high of 52 markers. His P.V.C. average shattered a 29-point area mark set in 1951 by Carl Hartman of Ridgeley who later starred at Alderson-Broaddus.

Patterson-Johansson Bout Has Top Of $100

Fight Set June 25 At Yankee Stadium; May 1 Scrap On TV

By NORMAN MILLER

NEW YORK (UPI) — Heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson scored a pair of financial knockouts Thursday with a $100 ticket-top for his June 25 title defense against Ingemar Johansson and a victory over the "boxing trust."

These two announcements involving a pair of lucrative payweight titleholder were made Thursday at separate press conferences:

Promoter Bill Rosensohn confirmed the June 25 date at Yankee Stadium for Patterson's title defense against Johansson of Sweden and said the tickets would be scaled to $100 top, aimed at a $1,500,000 gate.

Madison Square Garden officials disclosed they have relinquished the Friday night May 1 television date so that Patterson's "tuneup" title defense against Brian London of England could be shown nationally from Las Vegas, Nev. The sponsor's TV fee for this bout will be $225,000.

Rosensohn announced that fans with $100 to spare would be offered "special deluxe red-carpet treatment" among 2,000 seats in the first 10 ringside rows at Yankee Stadium for the Johansson bout.

There have been only two previous $100-priced fights in boxing history. Back in 1892, first-row seats for the John L. Sullivan-James J. Corbett bout sold for $100, although all other ringside locations went for $25 each.

The latest $100 ringside fight was Joe Louis' eighth - round knockout victory over Billy Conn at the stadium on June 19, 1946. That bout drew a gross of $1,925,564.

Corle Finished "In The Money" 81 Times At Bowie

Corle, who resumed riding at Bowie, after suffering a broken leg last November, had 31 winners, 31 seconds and 19 thirds at the Bowie session.

"Bobby" finished second to Howard Grant who set the pace with a 51-20-18 record in 135 mounts.

Larry Reynolds, the classy apprentice from Ohio, who led the riders at Fairgo last year, finished in third place at Bowie with 24-29-16 in 208 mounts.

To Join Orioles

MIAMI, Fla. (UPI)—Willy Miranda, baseball's longest absentee this spring, notified the Baltimore Orioles Thursday by telephone from his home in Havana, Cuba, that he planned to catch a plane Thursday night to join his team in training camp.

The veteran shortstop did not explain why he is 35 days AWOL, but he said several days ago that he was being held up by "personal reasons."

Battle Neck Takes Feature At Laurel

LAUREL, Md., April 2 (AP)—Jockey Raul Sterling held Battle Neck back from the blistering early pace, then sent his mount ahead late in the stretch for victory in the featured Georgetown Purse at Laurel Race Course today.

Battle Neck, owned and trained by Thomas A. Caulk, was in razor-sharp condition for his seasonal debut as he turned the six furlongs in 1.12 4/5 over a sloppy track.

The 4lyear-old son of Battle Morn and Little Neck paid $15, $8.80 and $5.60. He finished three parts of a length ahead of Harold G. Bensing's Satan Helper, who was a head in front of Hal Bishop's Sea Hymn.

Satan Helper paid $5 and $3.40 and Sea Hymn, $2.80.

Lakers Will Head For Boston Today

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — The Minneapolis Lakers, losers in 18 straight games with the Boston Celtics, weren't acting Thursday like a team being led to the executioner.

"We may have a couple of surprises for them brewed up," said Coach Johnny Kundla. "The trick is to knock about 10 or 12 points off their 116-point average against us."

The Laker coach appeared to be hinting at a slowdown offense which Minneapolis used to unsettle the St. Louis Hawks in the National Basketball Assn.'s Western Division finals.

The Lakers leave for Boston Friday for the opening two games of the NBA's title playoffs Saturday and Sunday afternoon.

Not since March 1957 has Minneapolis beaten the Celtics.

Corle Finished "In The Money" 81 Times At Bowie

Corle, who resumed riding at Bowie, after suffering a broken leg last November, had 31 winners, 31 seconds and 19 thirds at the Bowie session.

"Bobby" finished second to Howard Grant who set the pace with a 51-20-18 record in 135 mounts.

Larry Reynolds, the classy apprentice from Ohio, who led the riders at Fairgo last year, finished in third place at Bowie with 24-29-16 in 208 mounts.

To Join Orioles

MIAMI, Fla. (UPI)—Willy Miranda, baseball's longest absentee this spring, notified the Baltimore Orioles Thursday by telephone from his home in Havana, Cuba, that he planned to catch a plane Thursday night to join his team in training camp.

The veteran shortstop did not explain why he is 35 days AWOL, but he said several days ago that he was being held up by "personal reasons."

Battle Neck Takes Feature At Laurel

LAUREL, Md., April 2 (AP)—Jockey Raul Sterling held Battle Neck back from the blistering early pace, then sent his mount ahead late in the stretch for victory in the featured Georgetown Purse at Laurel Race Course today.

Battle Neck, owned and trained by Thomas A. Caulk, was in razor-sharp condition for his seasonal debut as he turned the six furlongs in 1.12 4/5 over a sloppy track.

The 4lyear-old son of Battle Morn and Little Neck paid $15, $8.80 and $5.60. He finished three parts of a length ahead of Harold G Bensing's Satan Helper, who was a head in front of Hal Bishop's Sea Hymn.

Satan Helper paid $5 and $3.40 and Sea Hymn, $2.80.

Lakers Will Head For Boston Today

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — The Minneapolis Lakers, losers in 18 straight games with the Boston Celtics, weren't acting Thursday like a team being led to the executioner.

"We may have a couple of surprises for them brewed up," said Coach Johnny Kundla. "The trick is to knock about 10 or 12 points off their 116-point average against us."

The Laker coach appeared to be hinting at a slowdown offense which Minneapolis used to unsettle the St. Louis Hawks in the National Basketball Assn.'s Western Division finals.

The Lakers leave for Boston Friday for the opening two games of the NBA's title playoffs Saturday and Sunday afternoon.

Not since March 1957 has Minneapolis beaten the Celtics.

Three Persons Found Guilty Of Delinquency

Two young men and a girl who were arrested early Wednesday morning by City Police were found guilty of delinquency charges yesterday at a hearing in Juvenile Court.

Magistrate Fred H. Anderson imposed jail sentences on William Russell Bittner, 23, of Willowbrook Road, and William H. Harmon, 19, of 218 Glenn Street, for contributing to the delinquency of a 17-year-old local girl.

Harmon was sentenced to six months in the House of Correction and Bittner was given 60 days in the County Jail and was fined $50. Magistrate Anderson suspended Bittner's jail term but committed him until he can pay the fine.

Magistrate Anderson found the girl a delinquent minor and sent her to Montrose School for Girls. The girl had been before the court on two other occasions.

The three were arrested in a car which was parked behind a local service station. They told the arresting officers that they had been sleeping in the car.

The court noted Harmon was the youth the Allegany County Board of Commissioners helped find a home for in February. His father is a patient in a VA hospital and his mother, who is separated from his father, lives in Arizona. The youth was given a home on a farm but because of some trouble the farmer was forced to ask him to leave several weeks ago.

In another hearing yesterday in Juvenile Court, Magistrate Anderson ordered a 14-year-old girl committed to the House of Good Shepherd in Baltimore. She was found guilty of being a delinquent minor as a result of being truant from school.

Kress Co. Buys Third Of Grafton Glass Factory

GRAFTON, W. Va. (UPI) — The F. J. Kress Co., a Pittsburgh paper box-making firm, announced Thursday it had completed purchase of about one-third of the idle Hazel-Atlas glass plant here.

The Pittsburgh firm had operated the box factory before the glass plant was closed by Hazel-Atlas late last year. Kress had kept a skeleton force on since then and now plans to expand employment.

Meanwhile, it was announced Hazel-Atlas has turned over ownership of the remainder of the plant to a newly-formed group called Tygart Valley Charitable Trust Inc. This group will try to get a new industry to locate in the glass plant facilities.

Entrance Tests Slated May 2 At LaSalle High

On Saturday, May 2, LaSalle High School will hold its annual entrance examinations for those who desire to be enrolled in the local high school in September this year.

Brother G. Paulian, F.S.C., principal of the high school, said last night that due to the lack of facilities only 80 freshmen will be admitted in September.

All applicants wishing to enter the school next fall must take the examinations and their admission will be determined by their success in these examinations.

As in the past, Brother Paulian said, two tuition-free, four-year scholarships will be awarded to the two Catholic boys highest in the graduating classes of the parochial schools of Cumberland and Western Maryland.

The tests to be given at LaSalle High School will consist of a mental ability test at 9 a. m. followed by a general ability test at 10 a. m.

Brother Paulian stressed that all boys wishing to enter LaSalle in September must take the tests and all Catholic graduates of the parochial schools of Cumberland and Western Maryland are eligible for the scholarships.

Acceptance at the high school in September will depend on the results of these tests, he said.

Letters have been forwarded to principals of St. Mary's, St. Patrick's and SS. Peter and Paul schools in Cumberland; St. Michael's School, Frostburg; St. Patrick's, Mt. Savage; St. Joseph's, Midland; St. Peter's in Westernport and St. Peter's in Oakland.

Troop To Begin Cookie Sale

Girl Scout Troop 3 is to pick up cookies from its leader, Mrs. Dorothy Heavner, Saturday at 10 a. m.

A combination meeting and egg hunt was held recently at Constitution Park, under the direction of Mrs. Heavner, assisted by Mrs. Kate Miller and Mrs. June Stimmel. Virginia Murphy, Nancy Diane Weber, Debra Rowley and Barbara Gray won prizes for the number of eggs found; Winners in the prettiest egg contest were Susan Johnson, Pamela Miller, Patricia Ellis and Linda Roy.

Patrol balloon contests were won by Glenda John, Rose patrol; Susan Grafton, Cockleshells; Diane Deneen, Pink Carnation patrol.

The meeting will be held at 1:15 p. m. in the office of Mayor J. Edwin Keech, chairman.

Air pollution will be the first topic and will be discussed by Dr. Ton van Strien, county health officer, and Dr. Ralph Ballin, medical member of the board.

Members will be briefed on fire hazards in the city by Fire Chief Virgil Parker and J. B. Dowling, sanitarian, will report on blight areas in Cumberland.

Progress on sanitation will be aired by Dr. van Strien and Mr. Dowling, and William R. Carsaden, city attorney, will speak on housing in the city.

Other subjects on the agenda are control of city swimming pools and weed and mosquito control.

Minister Attending Lutheran Conference

Rev. Russell E. Fink, pastor of St. John's Lutheran Church, is attending the study conference at Pocono Manor, Pa., sponsored by the Board of Parish Education of the United Lutheran Church in America.

The conference will study the materials prepared by the denominational Board of Parish Education in connection with the long-range educational development program. Rev. Mr. Fink and seven others have been chosen from among the 4,000 pastors of the denomination to study the materials as they relate to a local congregation.

Pension Bill For Teachers Passes House

A bill which would allow the County Commissioners to pay a $50 supplementary pension to retired school teachers receiving less than $175 regular monthly retirement allowance was passed by the House last night.

The bill was introduced as which would permit trucks carrying glass to be 13 feet, six inches high.

The bill would legalize some shipments of glass from the House Bill 772 by Delegate Thomas F. Conlon Jr.

The House also passed Delegate Conlon's House Bill 893, Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company here by truck.

The House last night passed a bill to revise state laws on strip mining.

The House Bill 538, sponsored by Allegany County Delegate Conlon and Garrett County Delegate Bray gives additional powers to the director of the Bureau of Mines and increases bond whch must be posted by operators.

$50 Fine Suspended In Door Breaking

A local man involved in the breaking of a large glass door early yesterday morning at the entrance of the Cadillac Cocktail Lounge, 25 North Mechanic Street, was fined $50 by Trial Magistrate J. Milton Dick in Police Court.

William Cassell pleaded not guilty to three charges including disturbance of the peace and resisting arrest. The fine was suspended by Magistrate Dick on condition that Cassell make restitution. He was arrested about 1:40 a.m.

Two Dwelling Permits Issued

Among new April building permits issued by the Allegany County assessing department are two for new dwellings costing a total of $9,100.

James E. Hymes obtained a permit for a $5,000 cedar shingle dwelling on Heavner Street in LaVale, Election District 29. Alton L. James, RFD 2, Frostburg, obtained a permit for a $4,100 frame dwelling in Election District 21 at Gross in the Baltimore Pike area.

To Attend Convention

Members of SS. Peter and Paul Catholic Church who are planning to attend the Holy Name convention Sunday in Baltimore are requested to meet at the monastery Sunday at 8:15 a. m., according to Rev. DePaul Ripko, OFM Cap., spiritual director.

Order Of Ahepa Elects Delegates

Fort Cumberland Chapter 301, Order of Ahepa, has elected delegates and alternates to attend district and international conventions, according to Christ G. Charuhas, local president.

Mr. Charuhas was elected delegate to the international convention to be held in Hollywood, Calif., in August. Named as alternate is Anthony D. Antonakos.

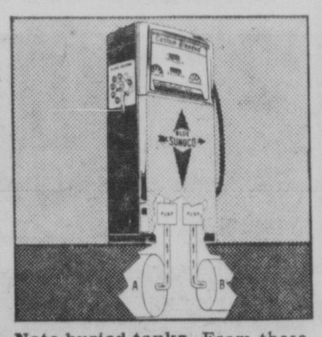

Delegates to the district convention to be held in Washington at the Statler Hotel in July include Mr. Charuhas, John Diamond. Richard Diamond and Louis Parsenios. Alternates elected are Pete Charuhas, George Pappas, Chris J. Parsoudis and Harry Curtis.

Mr. Charuhas, who is sailing next week to visit relatives and friends in Greece, said yesterday he will return in time to participate in both conventions.

Three Persons Found Guilty Of Delinquency

Two young men and a girl who were arrested early Wednesday morning by City Police were found guilty of delinquency charges yesterday at a hearing in Juvenile Court.

Magistrate Fred H. Anderson imposed jail sentences on William Russell Bittner, 23, of Willowbrook Road, and William H. Harmon, 19, of 218 Glenn Street, for contributing to the delinquency of a 17-year-old local girl.

Harmon was sentenced to six months in the House of Correction and Bittner was given 60 days in the County Jail and was fined $50. Magistrate Anderson suspended Bittner's jail term but committed him until he can pay the fine.

Magistrate Anderson found the girl a delinquent minor and sent her to Montrose School for Girls. The girl had been before the court on two other occasions.

The three were arrested in a car which was parked behind a local service station. They told the arresting officers that they had been sleeping in the car.

The court noted Harmon was the youth the Allegany County Board of Commissioners helped find a home for in February. His father is a patient in a VA hospital and his mother, who is separated from his father, lives in Arizona. The youth was given a home on a farm but because of some trouble the farmer was forced to ask him to leave several weeks ago.

In another hearing yesterday in Juvenile Court, Magistrate Anderson ordered a 14-year-old girl committed to the House of Good Shepherd in Baltimore. She was found guilty of being a delinquent minor as a result of being truant from school.

The Osmosis Of Ideologies

During the course of recent hearings before the Joint Economic Committee, more than one economic theorist suggested that we must strive for a rate of growth approximating five per cent a year in order that we might maintain our position in the competitive struggle with the Russians. Whether the rate of growth should be two, five or ten per cent, it must be measured in physical units and not in dollars. Physical units in this sense are intended to mean greater production of goods and services, better tools and equipment, improved methods and managerial techniques, more advanced research and in the last analysis, a keener dedication to thrift and hard work by everyone. Otherwise, if the wage-price spiral and its inevitable inflationary by-products continue, the Communists will have achieved their expressed goal — to conquer the world without having fired a shot!

In his book entitled "The Economic Consequences of the Peace," the widely-known British economist, John Maynard Keynes, commented: "Lenin is said to have declared that the best way to destroy the Capitalist system was to debauch its currency." Then, after detailing some of the harmful effects of inflation and money debasement, Keynes added: "Lenin was certainly right. There is no subtler, no surer means of overturning a society than to debauch the currency. The process engages all the hidden forces of economic law on the side of destruction, and does it in a manner which not one man in a million is able to diagnose." Some of Keynes' economic theories are highly unacceptable to me, but it would be extremely difficult for anyone to put up a valid argument against his statement just quoted.

Among the hidden forces to which Keynes alludes would most certainly be the incentive of the individual, or more precisely, the lack of it. In this regard, the public accounts of his eight-hour conference last December note that Senator Humphrey asked the Soviet Premier about Red China's experiments with compulsory communal living. Mr. Khrushchev is said to have replied: "They are old fashioned, they are reactionary. We tried that right after the revolution. It just doesn't work . . . You know, Senator, what those communes are based on? They are based on that principle, 'From each according to his abilities, to each according to his needs.' You know that won't work. You can't get production without incentive."

Incredibly, the tables are being turned. The Russians are adopting capitalistic concepts while we slowly embrace Marxism, pure Socialism. Incentives are the essence of free competitive enterprise. Government paternalism, excessive taxation, deficit financing and an inflationary economy are no substitutes.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD — Remember I told you a few weeks ago that Sam Spiegel had been in contact with Montgomery Clift about playing opposite Elizabeth Taylor in "Suddenly Last Summer." Well, after several conferences in New York between Monty, Sam and Director Joe Mankiewicz, Monty, who is well again has agreed to make the picture, based on the Tennessee Williams play.

Monty is an old friend of Liz. They were in "Raintree County" and "A Place in the Sun" together and when he was sick she was very good to him.

Sam tells me that he and Joe Mankiewicz leave in a day or so for London to make arrangements for production, which starts the middle of May. Liz, currently in Las Vegas with Eddie Fisher, and Clift will report in London about May 15.

Heather Sears, who made such a big splash when she was seen with Joan Crawford in "Esther Costello," gets here April 7 to start rehearsals for "The Corner of the Garden," which will be on Playhouse 90 April 23.

This is Heather's first visit to America. Her last British picture, "Room at the Top," is strictly for adults. In fact, policemen are stationed at the New York theatre to be sure that no under-age youngsters get in. She won a British award on the strength of this censorable epic and the picture will be shown at the Cannes Festival.

Anna Kashfi has moved to North Roxbury Drive, in a much more pretentious house than she formerly occupied. She can well afford it because in her settlement with Marlon Brando she received $2,000 a month support for herself and a trust fund was set up for their son, Christian.

Anna is now sporting a white Thunderbird car, buying herself new clothes and trying to get Marlon out of her system. Meantime he telephones France Nuyen practically every day.

Marlon's picture, "One - Eyed Jacks" is now going into its twentieth week of shooting. He expects to have it finished in May. This is the longest production schedule of any of the current pictures.

A note from Joe Steele, who was Ingrid Bergman's press agent at the time of the Rossellini mess, tells me that his book called. "Ingrid Bergman: An Intimate Portrait," is being made ready for May publication by David McKay Co. of New York.

Joe says, "I want to thank you for coming to my defense several months ago when certain of your colleagues, armed with misinformation, stigmatized me as having betrayed Ingrid to you in the hour of her greatest trial, in December of 1949."

I want to reiterate again that Joe Steele never knew I had the story until he read it in the Los Angeles Examiner and then he told me he didn't believe it. I hope he has success with his book.

"Some Like It Hot" has taken in as much money in one day in Detroit, Boston and Chicago as other films earn in a week. Apparently people like to laugh.

Marilyn Monroe, in taking a percentage of this picture, proved that she is an astute business woman. She can conceivably earn as much as $1,200,000, since the picture seems headed for a $12,000,000 gross. Even with all this money coming in I can't see Marilyn retiring to the quiet home life she says she longs for so much.

"Shaggy Dog," Walt Disney's comedy which everyone loves, has given Fred MacMurray a whole new future as a comedian. He's amazingly good.

And when he was called to pinch hit for Dan Rowan in the Martin and Rowan scenes on the Chevvy Show he was excellent. The whole show was good, Janet Blair, Edie Adams, Dorothy Kirsten, John Raitt and Rhonda Fleming.

June Haver told me that Fred is spending all of his time at the studios these days he's been on so many shows.

Television and Radio

Much Martin

Mary Martin is still first lady of television, after the two-hour saturation programming on Sunday—but only by an eyelash. The afternoon program billed for children and their parents, was pretty close to a disaster. The evening program, billed for parents and their children, was an extravagant hour of song and Mary Martin, always gay and charming and sometimes luminous.

Miss Martin's evening show was more or less a review of the lustrous Martin career. She started with herself as a child singer carolling a song about "tying apples on the lilac tree" which her mother had taught her and which she sang at the Weatherford Fire Department ball. We traced the lustrous Martin career through the sweet-little-Alice-blue period to Hollywood where she became known as "audition Mary," through the night clubs where she learned to keep singing "no matter what," and finally to "My Heart Belongs To Daddy" or manifest destiny period on Broadway.

It dragged a bit, this first half hour, but there were fine elfin moments of charm and humor. The second half hour in which Miss Martin recreated some of the high spots of her triumphant parade through some great shows—"One Touch of Venus," "Annie Get Your Gun," "Lute Song," "South Pacific," and "Peter Pan" — soared uninterruptedly to a great finish in mid-air. Of course, this is what you might call Nostalgia, Inc. The impact of these songs is generated largely by their associational value with past glories. And what, you may well ask, is the matter with that? If it hits you in the stomach, it is all that you can decently ask of a show of this nature. But I keep thinking that, if our entertainers keep rolling around in past glories, future generations will have not much to get nostalgic about.

The show was live and you can't hardly get that kind any more in this era of tape. That meant Miss Martin was singing and dancing and changing costumes and narrating—all in the allotted time before our entranced eyes and this still has its own kind of magic. The Martin voice has been better—she's been troubled with a virus—but it still has a wonderful warmth and clarity and unexpected power. I will never know what it is that makes one person a star as opposed to simply a fine performer—but I think it has something to do with the ability to make the audience suddenly breathless with the wonder of the occasion and Miss Martin still possesses that magic quality to a superior degree.

So much for Miss Martin's evening show. On her afternoon show, to get straight at the bald and distressing facts, Miss Martin at one point played Rodgers and Hammerstein's "Cinderella." She played the fairy godmother. She played Cinderella. She played the Prince. She played the three ugly sisters. Then she played a substantial part of the female population of the rest of the kingdom. Some people might call this virtuosity. Others might call it megalomania. In any case, it was all pretty tedious for a story that has been pretty audience proof up to now.

The afternoon was a sort of monstrously coy audience participation bit between Miss Martin and a gaggle of kids whom she kept urging to sing "real loud" with her, at whom she kept winking and flirting, and being, in general, cute.

"This girl," muttered a horrified witness, "is going to bring back June Allyson."

"What age group you suppose she's aiming at?" I said. "Certainly not my kids."

"The age group she is aiming at will be born in about two years," said my fellow witness.

I think it is wrong to talk down to kids. In fact, exposed as they are to television and movies and their fellow juvenile delinquents, it's hard even to keep up to their level of sophistication.

All I can add is that I love Mary Martin not because of this show but in spite of it.

Opening lead: King of ♥.

When a hand appears to be "in the bag," that is the time to exercise caution. One should ask, "What quirk of fate can prevent success?" and, if possible, to protect against it.

South became declarer today at a contract of six spades. West opened the bidding with one heart and North overcalled in clubs. East gave his partner a free raise, though this department would have favored an immediate leap to four hearts. Such action would have placed South under considerable pressure.

North's cue bid of three hearts may appear somewhat drastic, but in view of South's free bid and the prospect of developing the club suit, it is not subject to criticism. When South showed the ace of diamonds North was tempted to bid six spades but feared to act so violently in view of his previous aggressive steps. Nevertheless, it was easy for South to bid slam himself.

The king of hearts was opened and with the spread of the dummy the hand appeared to be a cinch for seven. Declarer, giving no thought to any possible mishap, drew trumps and then tried the clubs. When they broke badly the whole hand fell in a heap. He was heard to mutter some oath anent the preachings of mathematicians "five cards outstanding are supposed to break 3-2" he complained.

True, indeed, but in behalf of the mathematicians, it should be pointed out that their sign does not read "positively." Furthermore, probabilities should not be looked upon as anything in the nature of a tidal wave.

The proper play is to cash the ace of clubs at trick two and trump a small club with an honor. Dummy is re-entered with a trump and another small club trumped with an honor. This establishes the clubs for the discard of three diamonds. Since trumps have broken, South can ruff out dummy's bad diamond making all 13 tricks.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

The Whole Perfection Of Your Appearance

What good is the most romantic, strapless dress of the most striking low-cut decolletage if your arms and shoulders fail to top the magnificance of your gown with a magnificence of their own . . . a flawless skin, paraded with a flawless carriage?

In evening dress, even your smallest defect of carriage is magnified. A curved back, a round shoulder and an awkward arm will mar the whole perfection of your appearance. But this doesn't have to happen to you!

Make sure that it doesn't by testing the posture of your back and shoulders now. Stand up against the flat surface of a wall so your heels, hips, the curve of your back and the back of your head are touching it.

Check the position of your upper back and shoulders. If your shoulders are not flat against the wall but curve out from it, chances are you are holding those two, winged bones in your upper back in an incorrect position. They're actually forcing your shoulders roundly forward and giving a bony look to your back. You can fix this immediately by lifting your chest slowly as you pull those two wings together firmly. Do not strain your shoulders backward. Relax them and let them fall back in their correct place against the wall as your back flattens. If you make this position a habit, your shoulders and back will look a lot smoother in that strapless dress and every other dress!

Now how can you give your arms a super dressing of grace? You'll attain it easily if you know what never to do:

Never let your arms dangle in front of you. Hold one arm a little behind you while the other falls against your body a little in front of you.

Never extend your elbows or wrists stiffly. Allow them to relax in a graceful curve.

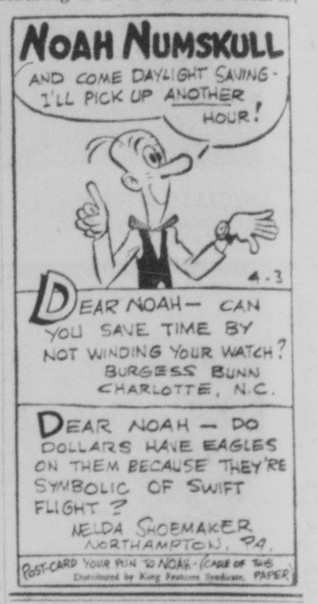

Never display the flat width of your hands. Keep them turned so that the thumbs and fingers are outward, the other fingers genily curved.

Never carry an evening purse under your arm. Hold it waist level with your finger tips.

Never worry about the movements of your hands when you are in company. The place for that is before the privacy of your own mirror. Instead, give them something to do to keep them from making awkward gestures.

Another thing — I needn't remind you, but your weight is an important factor when you dress formally. "Your Beauty Diet," a 10c booklet, will provide a pattern of sensible, interesting menus to follow, according to your need. Just send the coin, with a stamped, return envelope, to "Secrets of Charm," c/o this paper.

Anna is now sporting a white Thunderbird car, buying herself new clothes and trying to get Marlon out of her system. Meantime he telephones France Nuyen practically every day.

Marlon's picture, "One - Eyed Jacks" is now going into its twentieth week of shooting. He expects to have it finished in May. This is the longest production schedule of any of the current pictures.

A note from Joe Steele, who was Ingrid Bergman's press agent at the time of the Rossellini mess, tells me that his book called, "Ingrid Bergman: An Intimate Portrait," is being made ready for May publication by David McKay Co. of New York.

Joe says, "I want to thank you for coming to my defense several months ago when certain of your colleagues, armed with misinformation, stigmatized me as having betrayed Ingrid to you in the hour of her greatest trial, in December of 1949."

I want to reiterate again that Joe Steele never knew I had the story until he read it in the Los Angeles Examiner and then he told me he didn't believe it. I hope he has success with his book.

"Some Like It Hot" has taken in as much money in one day in Detroit, Boston and Chicago as other films earn in a week. Apparently people like to laugh.

Marilyn Monroe, in taking a percentage of this picture, proved that she is an astute business woman. She can conceivably earn as much as $1,200,000, since the picture seems headed for a $12,000,000 gross. Even with all this money coming in I can't see Marilyn retiring to the quiet home life she says she longs for so much.

"Shaggy Dog," Walt Disney's comedy which everyone loves, has given Fred MacMurray a whole new future as a comedian. He's amazingly good.

And when he was called to pinch hit for Dan Rowan in the Martin and Rowan scenes on the Chevvy Show he was excellent. The whole show was good, Janet Blair, Edie Adams, Dorothy Kirsten, John Raitt and Rhonda Fleming.

June Haver told me that Fred is spending all of his time at the studios these days he's been on so many shows.

Television and Radio

by John Crosby

Much Martin

Mary Martin is still first lady of television, after the two-hour saturation programming on Sunday—but only by an eyelash. The afternoon program billed for children and their parents, was pretty close to a disaster. The evening program, billed for parents and their children, was an extravagant hour of song and Mary Martin, always gay and charming and sometimes luminous.

Miss Martin's evening show was more or less a review of the lustrous Martin career. She started with herself as a child singer carolling a song about "tying apples on the lilac tree" which her mother had taught her and which she sang at the Weatherford Fire Department ball. We traced the lustrous Martin career through the sweet-little-Alice-blue period to Hollywood where she became known as "audition Mary," through the night clubs where she learned to keep singing "no matter what," and finally to "My Heart Belongs To Daddy" or manifest destiny period on Broadway.

It dragged a bit, this first half hour, but there were fine elfin moments of charm and humor. The second half hour in which Miss Martin recreated some of the high spots of her triumphant parade through some great shows—"One Touch of Venus," "Annie Get Your Gun," "Lute Song," "South Pacific," and "Peter Pan" — soared uninterruptedly to a great finish in mid-air. Of course, this is what you might call Nostalgia, Inc. The impact of these songs is generated largely by their associational value with past glories. And what, you may well ask, is the matter with that? If it hits you in the stomach, it is all that you can decently ask of a show of this nature. But I keep thinking that, if our entertainers keep rolling around in past glories, future generations will have not much to get nostalgic about.

The show was live and you can't hardly get that kind any more in this era of tape. That meant Miss Martin was singing and dancing and changing costumes and narrating—all in the allotted time before our entranced eyes and this still has its own kind of magic. The Martin voice has been better—she's been troubled with a virus—but it still has a wonderful warmth and clarity and unexpected power. I will never know what it is that makes one person a star as opposed to simply a fine performer—but I think it has something to do with the ability to make the audience suddenly breathless with the wonder of the occasion and Miss Martin still possesses that magic quality to a superior degree.

So much for Miss Martin's evening show. On her afternoon show, to get straight at the bald and distressing facts, Miss Martin at one point played Rodgers and Hammerstein's "Cinderella." She played the fairy godmother. She played Cinderella. She played the Prince. She played the three ugly sisters. Then she played a substantial part of the female population of the rest of the kingdom. Some people might call this virtuosity. Others might call it megalomania. In any case, it was all pretty tedious for a story that has been pretty audience proof up to now.

The afternoon was a sort of monstrously coy audience participation bit between Miss Martin and a gaggle of kids whom she kept urging to sing "real loud" with her, at whom she kept winking and flirting, and being, in general, cute.

"This girl," muttered a horrified witness, "is going to bring back June Allyson."

"What age group you suppose she's aiming at?" I said. "Certainly not my kids."

"The age group she is aiming at will be born in about two years," said my fellow witness.

I think it is wrong to talk down to kids. In fact, exposed as they are to television and movies and their fellow juvenile delinquents, it's hard even to keep up to their level of sophistication.

All I can add is that I love Mary Martin not because of this show but in spite of it.

The bidding:

1 ♥	2 ♣	2 ♥	2 ♠
Pass	3 ♥	Pass	4 ♦
Pass	5 ♠	Pass	6 ♠
Pass	Pass	Pass

Opening lead: King of ♥.

When a hand appears to be "in the bag," that is the time to exercise caution. One should ask, "What quirk of fate can prevent success?" and, if possible, to protect against it.

South became declarer today at a contract of six spades. West opened the bidding with one heart and North overcalled in clubs. East gave his partner a free raise, though this department would have favored an immediate leap to four hearts. Such action would have placed South under considerable pressure.

North's cue bid of three hearts may appear somewhat drastic, but in view of South's free bid and the prospect of developing the club suit, it is not subject to criticism. When South showed the ace of diamonds North was tempted to bid six spades but feared to act so violently in view of his previous aggressive steps. Nevertheless, it was easy for South to bid slam himself.

The king of hearts was opened and with the spread of the dummy the hand appeared to be a cinch for seven. Declarer, giving no thought to any possible mishap, drew trumps and then tried the clubs. When they broke badly the whole hand fell in a heap. He was heard to mutter some oath anent the preachings of mathematicians "five cards outstanding are supposed to break 3-2" he complained.

True, indeed, but in behalf of the mathematicians, it should be pointed out that their sign does not read "positively." Furthermore, probabilities should not be looked upon as anything in the nature of a tidal wave.

The proper play is to cash the ace of clubs at trick two and trump a small club with an honor. Dummy is re-entered with a trump and another small club trumped with an honor. This establishes the clubs for the discard of three diamonds. Since trumps have broken, South can ruff out dummy's bad diamond making all 13 tricks.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

The Whole Perfection Of Your Appearance

What good is the most romantic, strapless dress of the most striking low-cut decolletage if your arms and shoulders fail to top the magnificance of your gown with a magnificence of their own . . . a flawless skin, paraded with a flawless carriage?

In evening dress, even your smallest defect of carriage is magnified. A curved back, a round shoulder and an awkward arm will mar the whole perfection of your appearance. But this doesn't have to happen to you!

Make sure that it doesn't by testing the posture of your back and shoulders now. Stand up against the flat surface of a wall so your heels, hips, the curve of your back and the back of your head are touching it.

Check the position of your upper back and shoulders. If your shoulders are not flat against the wall but curve out from it, chances are you are holding those two, winged bones in your upper back in an incorrect position. They're actually forcing your shoulders roundly forward and giving a bony look to your back. You can fix this immediately by lifting your chest slowly as you pull those two wings together firmly. Do not strain your shoulders backward. Relax them and let them fall back in their correct place against the wall as your back flattens. If you make this position a habit, your shoulders and back will look a lot smoother in that strapless dress and every other dress!

Now how can you give your arms a super dressing of grace? You'll attain it easily if you know what never to do:

Never let your arms dangle in front of you. Hold one arm a little behind you while the other falls against your body a little in front of you.

Never extend your elbows or wrists stiffly. Allow them to relax in a graceful curve.

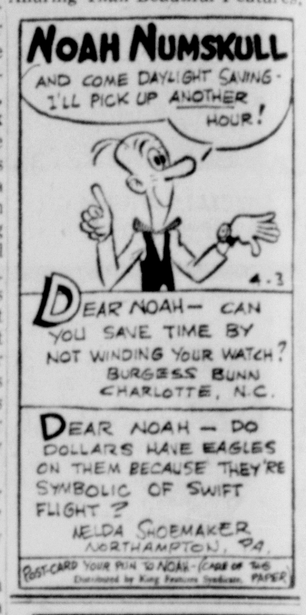

Never display the flat width of your hands. Keep them turned so that the thumbs and fore-fingers are outward, the other fingers genily curved.

Never carry an evening purse under your arm. Hold it waist level with your finger tips.

Never worry about the movements of your hands when you are in company. The place for that is before the privacy of your own mirror. Instead, give them something to do to keep them from making awkward gestures.

Another thing — I needn't remind you, but your weight is an important factor when you dress formally. "Your Beauty Diet," a 10c booklet, will provide a pattern of sensible, interesting menus to follow, according to your need. Just send the coin, with a stamped, return envelope, to "Secrets of Charm," c/o this paper.

Tri-State YFC Will Observe Church Month

April has been named church month for the Tri-State Youth for Christ. Guest speaker this week will be Rev. Ralph E. Godwin, assistant pastor of the Christian and Missionary Church, Pittsburgh.

Rev. Mr. Godwin is the founder and was the first director of the Savannah, Ga., Youth For Christ.

Music will be by the Bedford County YFC girls' trio, and Meyersdale, Allegany and Hyndman quiz teams will compete. A pre-rally quiz with Fort Hill, Salisbury, and Hyndman teams will be conducted at 7:15 p. m.

Because of a tie between Gary Durr, Cresaptown, and Kenneth Korns, Wellersburg, in the election of YFC king, a repeat election will be conducted to break the tie. The announcement of the YFC king and queen will be made at the crowning April 10 at the anniversary banquet.

Other rallies during April will include teen talent nights April 11 and 25, and the regular YFC rally April 18, when Bishop Derstine of the Mennonite Church in Kitchener, Ontario, will speak.

The inter-denominational rallies are held each week at 7:45 p. m. at 115 North Mechanic Street.

Daylight Time Goes Into Effect April 26

BALTIMORE (AP) — Late Sunday sleepers will get short-changed one hour of slumber on April 26. That's when daylight savings time goes into effect.

Clocks will be set ahead one hour in virtually all of Maryland, with the possible exception of Garrett County. Residents of the Western Maryland county have not yet decided whether to accept the fast time.

Last year most Garrett County communities accepted daylight savings time, although county offices did not.

Daylight savings time stays in effect until Oct. 25.

'Grounded' Drivers Still Buying Tags

Although midnight Tuesday was the deadline for use of the old Maryland license tags on private automobiles, nearly 400 "grounded" drivers have come to the tax collector's office at the Court House since the deadline to obtain new tags.

About 250 sets were sold Wednesday and another 140 yesterday. The first 50 sets of regular truck tags for privately-owned vehicles were sold yesterday at the Court House. The collector's office received 2,623 sets of regular truck tags and 148 sets of farm truck plates. The deadline for use of old truck tags is midnight April 30.

Court Probates Annetta Hensel Will

The will of Miss Annetta Hensel, who was 79 and lived at 407 Beall Street at the time of her death March 1, has been admitted to probate in Allegany County Orphans Court.

She left her entire estate to a half-sister, Mrs. Alcesta H. Purdham, Hyattsville. The Second National Bank of Cumberland qualified as executor under a $15,000 bond. The will was dated January 9, less than two months before her death.

Visitors

WESTERNPORT — Mr. and Mrs. Jack Cridler and children of Baltimore, visited Mrs. Cridler's mother, Mrs. Viola McDaniels, Keyser, and relatives in the Tri-Towns.

Film To Be Shown

The film "The Missing Christians" will be shown Sunday at 7:30 p.m. at the World Tabernacle Pentecostal Holiness Church.

Caseys Stage Late Rally But Lose To Peck's By Point

The Knights of Columbus staged a great comeback last night to defeat Peck's Cafe by the margin of 44 points (95-51) in the last three games of their playoff series with Peck's Cafe of Frostburg but the latter won the six-game set by the margin of a single point and advanced to the finals in the American Division of the Allegany County Men's Shuffleboard League.

Peck's held a 45-point lead going into last night's match and that was enough to knock the Caseys out of the running. Final totals were: Peck's 142, K. of C. 141.

Bollino led Peck's with 15 points and Norm Sell paced the Knights with 20 tallies.

The Cumberland Eagles became the other American Division finalist by defeating Southern Bar by a total of 51 points in six games. The Eagles won the last three games last night by the margin of 38 points. Final totals were: Eagles 152, Southern Bar 101. Lou Riehl's 23 was high for the Eagles while McGreevy headed Southern Bar with 19.

Fisher and Robinette and Purple Heart Club forged to finals in the National Division last night.

The F.&R. team beat Hann's Tavern by a total of 63 points in six games, 197 to 134, and took last night's match by the score of 106-74. Palmer and Saum topped Fisher & Robinette with 23 points each and Jones led Hann's with 25.

Sweitzer's Restaurant won by three points, 62-59, last night, but was unable to overcome the Purple Heart Club's 12-point lead in the opening match and the latter took the six game series by nine tallies, 135-126. Joe Burkey and Phil Feaga scored 15 points each to spark Purple Heart Club while Max Stangle's 19 was high for Sweitzer's.

Johnny Longden, 52, Has Four Winners

SAN BRUNO, Calif. (UPI)— Jockey Johnny Longden, the crinkled face "pumper" who is thinking about retiring, booted home four winners today at Tanforan just to show that life begins at 52.

Longden, who now has made a total of 5,279 trips to the winner's circle, scored his most important victory of the day aboard Seaneen in the six-furlong feature race. The five year old son of Royal Charger came within one-fifth of a second of the track record while beating out Tyhawk for first money by a neck.

Leafs Win, 4-1, Lead In Series

BOSTON (AP) — The Toronto Maple Leafs, aroused to fever pitch, took command of its Stanley Cup hockey playoff series with Boston, winning 4-1 Thursday on Johnny Bower's fine goaltending.

The Leafs took a 3-2 edge, just one victory shy of wrapping up the best-of-seven semifinal series.

Montreal Wins, 4-2

MONTREAL (AP) — The Montreal Canadiens bunched all of their scoring in the first period and then held off the Chicago Black Hawks for a 4-2 victory Thursday night and a 3-2 lead in their best-of-seven semifinal playoff for the National Hockey League's Stanley Cup.

Casselman Valley Club To Meet

OAKLAND — The Casselman Valley Homemakers Club will meet at the home of Mrs. Kenneth Edwards at 8 p. m. April 7. Mrs. Edwards assisted by Mrs. Dale Glass will give the demonstration on "A Study of Color accents — proportions and uses. Mrs. Neil Yommer will give the information on "Safety" which features falls.

Tri-State YFC Will Observe Church Month

April has been named church month for the Tri-State Youth for Christ. Guest speaker this week will be Rev. Ralph E. Godwin, assistant pastor of the Christian and Missionary Church, Pittsburgh.

Rev. Mr. Godwin is the founder and was the first director of the Savannah, Ga., Youth For Christ.

Music will be by the Bedford County YFC girls' trio, and Meyersdale, Allegany and Hyndman quiz teams will compete. A pre-rally quiz with Fort Hill, Salisbury, and Hyndman teams will be conducted at 7:15 p. m.

Because of a tie between Gary Durr, Cresaptown, and Kenneth Korns, Wellersburg, in the election of YFC king, a repeat election will be conducted to break the tie. The announcement of the YFC king and queen will be made at the crowning April 10 at the anniversary banquet.

Other rallies during April will include teen talent nights April 11 and 25, and the regular YFC rally April 18, when Bishop Derstine of the Mennonite Church in Kitchener, Ontario, will speak.

The inter-denominational rallies are held each week at 7:45 p. m. at 115 North Mechanic Street.

Daylight Time Goes Into Effect April 26

BALTIMORE (AP) — Late Sunday sleepers will get shortchanged one hour of slumber on April 26. That's when daylight savings time goes into effect.

Clocks will be set ahead one hour in virtually all of Maryland, with the possible exception of Garrett County. Residents of the Western Maryland county have not yet decided whether to accept the fast time.

Last year most Garrett County communities accepted daylight savings time, although county offices did not.

Daylight savings time stays in effect until Oct. 25.

'Grounded' Drivers Still Buying Tags

Although midnight Tuesday was the deadline for use of the old Maryland license tags on private automobiles, nearly 400 "grounded" drivers have come to the tax collector's office at the Court House since the deadline to obtain new tags.

About 250 sets were sold Wednesday and another 140 yesterday. The first 50 sets of regular truck tags for privately-owned vehicles were sold yesterday at the Court House. The collector's office received 2,623 sets of regular truck tags and 148 sets of farm truck plates. The deadline for use of old truck tags is midnight April 30.

Court Probates Annetta Hensel Will

The will of Miss Annetta Hensel, who was 79 and lived at 407 Beall Street at the time of her death March 1, has been admitted to probate in Allegany County Orphans Court.

She left her entire estate to a half-sister, Mrs. Alcesta H. Purdham, Hyattsville. The Second National Bank of Cumberland qualified as executor under a $15,000 bond. The will was dated January 9, less than two months before her death.

Visitors

WESTERNPORT — Mr. and Mrs. Jack Cridler and children of Baltimore, visited Mrs. Cridler's mother, Mrs. Viola McDaniels, Keyser, and relatives in the Tri-Towns.

Film To Be Shown

Caseys Stage Late Rally But Lose To Peck's By Point

The Knights of Columbus staged a great comeback last night to defeat Peck's Cafe by the margin of 44 points (95-51) in the last three games of their playoff series with Peck's Cafe of Frostburg but the latter won the six-game set by the margin of a single point and advanced to the finals in the American Division of the Allegany County Men's Shuffleboard League.

Peck's held a 45-point lead going into last night's match and that was enough to knock the Caseys out of the running. Final totals were: Peck's 142, K. of C. 141.

Bollino led Peck's with 15 points and Norm Sell paced the Knights with 20 tallies.

The Cumberland Eagles became the other American Division finalist by defeating Southern Bar by a total of 51 points in six games. The Eagles won the last three games last night by the margin of 38 points. Final totals were: Eagles 152, Southern Bar 101. Lou Riehl's 23 was high for the Eagles while McGreevy headed Southern Bar with 19.

Fisher and Robinette and Purple Heart Club forged to finals in the National Division last night.

The F.&R. team beat Hann's Tavern by a total of 63 points in six games, 197 to 134, and took last night's match by the score of 106-74. Palmer and Saum topped Fisher & Robinette with 23 points each and Jones led Hann's with 25.

Sweitzer's Restaurant won by three points, 62-59, last night, but was unable to overcome the Purple Heart Club's 12-point lead in the opening match and the latter took the six game series by nine tallies, 135-126. Joe Burkey and Phil Feaga scored 15 points each to spark Purple Heart Club while Max Stangle's 19 was high for Sweitzer's.

Johnny Longden, 52, Has Four Winners

SAN BRUNO, Calif. (UPI)—Jockey Johnny Longden, the crinkled face "pumper" who is thinking about retiring, booted home four winners today at Tanforan just to show that life begins at 52.

Longden, who now has made a total of 5,279 trips to the winner's circle, scored his most important victory of the day aboard Seaneen in the six-furlong feature race. The five year old son of Royal Charger came within one-fifth of a second of the track record while beating out Tyhawk for first money by a neck.

Leafs Win, 4-1, Lead In Series

BOSTON (AP) — The Toronto Maple Leafs, aroused to fever pitch, took command of its Stanley Cup hockey playoff series with Boston, winning 4-1 Thursday on Johnny Bower's fine goaltending.

The Leafs took a 3-2 edge, just one victory shy of wrapping up the best-of-seven semifinal series.

Montreal Wins, 4-2

MONTREAL (AP) — The Montreal Canadiens bunched all of their scoring in the first period and then held off the Chicago Black Hawks for a 4-2 victory Thursday night and a 3-2 lead in their best-of-seven semifinal playoff for the National Hockey League's Stanley Cup.

Casselman Valley Club To Meet

OAKLAND — The Casselman Valley Homemakers Club will meet at the home of Mrs. Kenneth Edwards at 8 p. m. April 7. Mrs. Edwards assisted by Mrs. Dale Glass will give the demonstration on "A Study of Color accents — proportions and uses. Mrs. Neil Yommer will give the information on "Safety" which features falls.

Three equity suits have been filed in Allegany County Circuit Court. The bills of complaint were titled Mae Jane Patricia Zollner vs. Grant Eugene Zollner, Mary Clarissa Andrews vs. Robert Charles Andrews and Geraldine A. Kidwell vs. J. Marshall Kidwell.

Rally By Rails Features Big Advance By Market

NEW YORK (UPI) — Stock market values were boosted another $1,500,000,000 in an active advance which featured quality issues in the chemical, electronic, steel, metal and rail groups.

When it appeared Wednesday's rise—the first in two weeks—was no April Fool's joke, volume increased and prices were lifted all around. Tickers were running late at the close with prices at the day's best levels.

Virtually all industrial groups showed wide improvement and rails had their best rise in a month as Chesapeake & Ohio, Rock Island, Illinois Central, Kansas City Southern, New York Central, Southern Pacific, Pennsylvania, Union Pacific, Balitmore & Ohio rose around a point to 2.

Only utilities were neglected, holding virtually unchanged on the day.

Volume picked up to 3,220,000 shares from 2,980,000 on Wednesday.

There was nothing specific to cite for the upturn. The business outlook generally is bright, with an excellent second quarter in prospect. A pick-up in carloadings helped stimulate interest in rails and the rise in this group was viewed favorably since a new high here still is needed to confirm the bull market in industrials, according to chart followers.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. each day the code letters are different.

Chicago Grains

CHICAGO (UPI)—May wheat and corn closed strong, but other grains were about steady Thursday on the Chicago Board of Trade.

Brisk activity pushed the May wheat contract up 1⅜ cents at the close and May corn up ⅝ a bushel.

Wheat was up 1⅜ to off ⅛, corn up ¾ to off ⅛; oats up ⅛ to off ½; new oats off ⅜ to ⅝; rye unchanged to off ¾; soybeans off ⅜ to ⅝.

May topped at $2.12 in trade Thursday, leaving a day-old seasonal high behind. Local longs, however, began a selling movement which slowed down trade and caused prices to decline slightly. Southwestern terminals reported fewer offerings.

In corn, prices remained firm for nearby May and July deliveries. May gained ⅝ cent, and July ½. Export houses and cash interests did the buying, and concentrated on the early positions.

With only moderate receipts, oats maintained a steady tone. In generally quiet activity, export interests took some May. Soybeans went down the scale. Losses of ⅝ cent were noted in September, November and January. Futures took their cue from the downtrend in meal and oil.

In slight export activity, no sales were reported in wheat.

Rally By Rails Features Big Advance By Market

NEW YORK (UPI) — Stock market values were boosted another $1,500,000,000 in an active advance which featured quality issues in the chemical, electronic, steel, metal and rail groups.

When it appeared Wednesday's rise—the first in two weeks—was no April Fool's joke, volume increased and prices were lifted all around. Tickers were running late at the close with prices at the day's best levels.

Virtually all industrial groups showed wide improvement and rails had their best rise in a month as Chesapeake & Ohio, Rock Island, Illinois Central, Kansas City Southern, New York Central, Southern Pacific, Pennsylvania, Union Pacific, Balitmore & Ohio rose around a point to 2.

Volume picked up to 3,220,000 shares from 2,980,000 on Wednesday.

There was nothing specific to cite for the upturn. The business outlook generally is bright, with an excellent second quarter in prospect. A pick-up in carloadings helped stimulate interest in rails and the rise in this group was viewed favorably since a new high here still is needed to confirm the bull market in industrials, according to chart followers.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D I L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints, each day the code letters are different.

Chicago Grains

CHICAGO (UPI)—May wheat and corn closed strong, but other grains were about steady Thursday on the Chicago Board of Trade.

Brisk activity pushed the May wheat contract up 1⅜ cents at the close and May corn up ⅝ a bushel.

May topped at $2.12 in trade Thursday, leaving a day-old seasonal high behind. Local longs, however, began a selling movement which slowed down trade and caused prices to decline slightly. Southwestern terminals reported fewer offerings.

In corn, prices remained firm for nearby May and July deliveries. May gained ⅝ cent, and July ½. Export houses and cash interests did the buying, and concentrated on the early positions.

With only moderate receipts, oats maintained a steady tone. In generally quiet activity, export interests took some May. Soybeans went down the scale. Losses of ⅝ cent were noted in September, November and January. Futures took their cue from the downtrend in meal and oil.

Swanton Man Dies In Crash At Terra Alta

Boyd M. Bowser Killed Instantly

Boyd M. Bowser, 25, of Swanton, was killed instantly early yesterday morning when the automobile he was driving collided headon with a truck in front of Hopemont Sanitarium near Terra Alta.

A passenger in the car, Donnie Friend, of Oakland, was admitted to Garrett County Memorial Hospital where his condition last night was reported as "satisfactory." He suffered head injuries and cuts, police said.

The accident occurred about 1:10 a.m. yesterday on West Virginia State Route 7. Police said the auto was traveling toward the Maryland line and the truck, loaded with empty crates used in transporting chickens, was traveling into West Virginia.

The death of Bowser brought to five the number of traffic deaths this year in Preston County as compared to one for all of 1958.

Former ABL Manager Is Promoted

E. St. Pierre Bellinger, who managed ABL in 1945 and 1946, has been plant manager at Ketona Chemical Corporation, a firm owned jointly by Hercules and by Alabama By-Products Corporation, near Tarrant, Ala.

Mr. Bellinger, a native of Charleston, S. C., graduated from Virginia Military Institute in 1927 with a degree in chemistry. He joined Hercules the same year as a chemist in the experiment station then located in Kenvil, N. J.

He later worked in the Wilmington, Del., home office, and was sent to the Bessemer, Ala., plant in 1929 as a chemist. He became chief chemist and then acid supervisor there before his transfer in 1934 to the Hercules, Calif., plant as assistant acid supervisor.

He became assistant superintendent at the Ishpeming, Mich., plant in 1937, and returned to Hercules, Calif., in 1939 as amonia supervisor and later as assistant superintendent.

During World War II, Mr. Bellinger was a captain in the Army Ordnance Department, served in Europe and rose to the rank of lieutenant colonel by the end of the war.

Then he became manager of ABL before becoming works manager at Bessemer and later at Hercules, Calif. In 1957 he became plant manager at Ketona, and later became a vice president of that company.

Army To Continue Testing Recruits Here Each Week

In the interest of economy, the Army has been sending a team of interviewers and examiners here each Wednesday to test young men and women interested in enlistment.

Instead of transporting these potential recruits to Fairmont, it was decided it might be more economical to conduct examinations here one day each week, and the idea was tried the past three Wednesdays. The first week, 17 took tests, the second week, 18, and yesterday nine were examined.

The recruiting service has decided that local facilities in the Post Office building are adequate, and now plans to continue the program on a permanent basis.

M/Sgt. Virgil M. Smith, recruiter in charge of the local substation, said the next step in this program will be to transport enlistees to Fairmont one day a week, instead of the present "anytime" basis.

Those screened here on Wednesday can be processed in time for shipment the following Wednesday, and time, effort and money can be saved on transportation. It will also reduce the number of trips a recruit must make between here and Fairmont before he is finally inducted, Sgt. Smith said.

265 Applicants Seek Licenses For Beverages

New Petitioners Request Four Permits

That number represents 92.6 per cent of the 286 licenses which are now in effect in this county. Now in effect are 29 Class A beer licenses for off-premises consumption; 115 Class D beer licenses; nine Class A beer and wine licenses for off-premises consumption; 16 Class D beer and wine licenses, nine Class A beer, wine and liquor licenses for off-premises consumption; 59 Class D beer, wine and liquor licenses for taverns and 49 Class C beer, wine and liquor licenses for clubs.

Four of the applicants for Class D beer licenses are new petitioners. They are Anna Broadwater for premises on Legislative Road in Barton where Eldred Mayhew now holds the license; Harry R. Lancaster, Mt. Savage Road, in premises where Clara B. Reckley now holds the license; Nellie G. Boone, for premises at 305 Baltimore Avenue where Michael Savarese now holds the license, and Ruth G. Metz, 315 Springdale Street, where Dolly Jean Tyree surrendered the license March 30.

There will be no general hearings by the Board of Alcoholic Beverages License Commissioners for the renewal applications. Only in the changes will hearings be necessary.

License applicants will be able to get their licenses between April 21 and April 30. They first must pick up the approved application from the office of the liquor board on the third floor of the Court House and then obtain the license from the office of Joseph E. Boden, clerk of Circuit Court.

Rifle Club Plans Dinner

The first annual award banquet sponsored by the Fort Cumberland Rifle and Pistol Club will be held Sunday at 7 p. m. at the club rooms, South George Street, according to Jack Fulk, president.

Awards will be made to four teams who competed in the Allegany Rifle League competition during the past season, and presentations to others are also planned.

Former Policeman Faces Trial Today

James J. Mason, a former city policeman, is scheduled for trial before Chief Judge Morgan C. Harris in Allegany County Circuit Court at 10 a.m. today on a four-count criminal information charging that he assaulted a 21-year-old local woman on January 25.

The information filed Monday by State's Attorney James S. Getty charges that Mason assaulted Eleanor Virginia Williams with intent to maim, disfigure and disable her.

Mason was discharged from the police force January 26 for "conduct unbecoming an officer." The dismissal was sustained March 10 by the City Civil Service Commission. Harold E. Naughton is his attorney.

Poster Contest Winners To Get Washington Trip

A trip to Washington and a program of entertainment while in the nation's capital is in store for the three top finalists in the poster contest being held in Allegany County in conjunction with National Library Week, April 12-18.

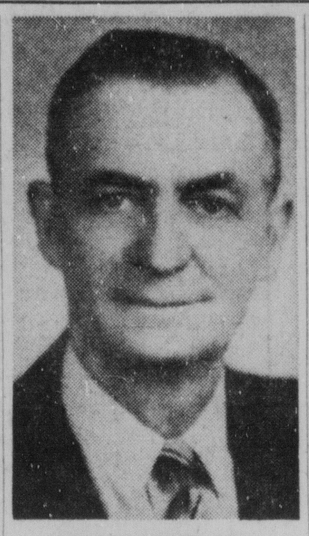

The project is under the supervision of the Cumberland Junior Association of Commerce. The competition is divided into three groups—elementary pupils, junior high and high school students.

The top winner in each division will be given a trip to Washington. The deadline for submitting posters is April 7, and the winners will be displayed at the Jaycee Home Show later this month.

The poster subject is "Wake Up and Read," or "Read And Wake Up." Members of the Jaycees and Cumberland Chamber of Commerce will be judges of the posters, which are to measure 17 inches by 22 inches.

The name of the student, his school, and his poster number are to be written on an accompanying three-by-five-inch card. The Jaycees request that each school submit the best posters in each division. Entries are to be taken to the nearest library in the county.

Chaperons will accompany the winners to Washington. Miss Mary G. Walsh, librarian at the Cumberland Free Public Library, is cooperating in the project, known as "Operation Library."

HENRY W. BLOSS

Retired B&O Foreman Dies At Home Here

Mr. Bloss retired from the B&O in 1946 after completing 50 years service.

A native of Trenches, W. Va., Mr. Bloss came to the North Branch area as a young boy. He began his service with the railroad as a timekeeper in 1896 after attending the Commercial Business School here.

He was a member of the Methodist Church and had been a member of Aerie 245, FO Eagles, since August 1912. He also was a member of Local 489, Plumbers and Steam Fitters Association. Mr. Bloss was a member of the B&O Veterans Association, Cumberland Division, for 29 years and had served as president and recording secretary of the association.

Mr. Bloss was a son of the late Charles and Mary (Hoover) Bloss and is survived by his widow, Mary (Blasi) Bloss. His first wife, Nellie (Cowden) Bloss, died in 1949.

The body is at the George Home, where the family will receive friends from 2 to 4 p. m. and 7 to 9 p. m.

COD Beer Bill Is Entered

Graduated Tax Study Is Asked

The COD plan was introduced as House Bill 899 under the sponsorship of Delegates Noel Speir Cook, Thomas F. Conlon Jr., Delegation Chairman Fred B. Driscoll and Delegate William Walsh.

It would provide that "in Allegany County no manufacturer or wholesaler shall sell any beer to any retail dealer except for cash on delivery."

The plan is one of the items sought by the Legislative committee of the Western Maryland Central Labor Council, AFL-CIO.

Rises With Income

The resolution says that the income tax structure of Maryland has been found to be inequitable to persons in the lower income groups and that a complete study of the graduated tax system should be made to help the General Assembly legislate properly on the subject.

Sponsors include Allegany County Delegates Reed, Kelley and Walsh and Garrett County Delegate Bray.

The AFL-CIO here said the plan calls for a base tax of two per cent, less deductions, for incomes from zero to $5,000, three per cent $5,001 to $10,000, four per cent from $10,001 to $15,000, and five per cent tax for $15,000 and over.

The formula should be set high enough, the labor council said, so the sales tax could be dropped the following year.

Ask Weights Study

Also of area interest is House Resolution 55, sponsored by Delegate Carlton R. Sickles (D-Prince George's).

It calls for the appointment of a committee to study the weights and measures standards and enforcement in Maryland. Laws relating to the weight of coal deliveries have been the subject of considerable study in this county.

House Bill 901, by Del. Cannon, would require all children entering public schools to be immunized against polio.

Youth Fined In Crash

A local 21-year-old man was fined $166.50 on two motor vehicle charges when he was tried yesterday in Trial Magistrate's Court in connection with an accident here last month.

Ronald Lee Shanholtzer, 119 Oak Street, appealed his case to Allegany County Circuit Court and was released under $250 bond by Magistrate Morris Baron.

The accident occurred last month on Greene Street. Two other cars were damaged.

Police Solve West Side School Entry

Four local youths, ranging in age from 14 to 18 years, have admitted to city police that they broke into West Side School Sunday night and took $31 from two glass containers in the school cafeteria.

Detective Lt. James E. Van said the youths, who were placed in the custody of their parents, will be taken to Juvenile Court next week.

The breaking and entering was discovered Wednesday morning by William Chappell, custodian at the school. Lt. Van said he talked to the four youths and they admitted breaking into the school and taking the cash.

A window on the south side of the school building was broken. One of the youths climbed into the school and opened the door to let the three others in. They went from room to room. One climbed onto a metal cart, pulled a screen off a transom door leading to the cafeteria and gained entrance. A cabinet was opened and the money was taken from the containers

After leaving by a side door, they went to a West Side alley and divided the money. One of the youths got a $10 bill changed at a business place on West Side, Lt. Van said, in order that the money could be evenly split up.

Jackson Elected Governor Of Moose

Lonnie Jackson was elected governor of Cumberland Lodge 271, Loyal Order of Moose, at a meeting last night.

He defeated Donald Lilya, who was seeking re-election. Other officers who were elected last night were John Angellatta, junior governor; Fred Wilson, prelate, and George Thomas, treasurer.

Frank Williams was elected as a three-year trustee and Kenneth Wise was elected trustee for one year. Donald Lilya was named delegate to the national convention and Russell Minnicks was named alternate delegate.

The new officers will be installed at ceremonies Thursday, April 16, at the home.

Wiley Ford Church To Dedicate Building

Wiley Ford Church of the Brethren will hold dedication services for its new educational building Sunday at 2:30 p.m., according to Rev. Connell T. Chaney, pastor.

Guest speaker for the event will be Rev. Allen Pugh, pastor of the Eglon (W.Va.) Church of the Brethren. Special music will be provided by the choir of Westernport Church of the Brethren and the Tear Coat Men's Quartet.

House Breaks With Tradition In Court Fight

Party Call Quashes Committee Report

By GEORGE BOWEN

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—The Maryland House of Delegates under strong and unremitting pressure from Gov. Tawes, who watched the proceedings personally until 11:30 p m., enacted a Baltimore City Court organization bill Thursday night.

The House voted 89-20 for the reorganization in the face of an overwhelming unfavorable report by the city delegation. It was predicted this sounded the death knell of the old tradition of self-rule.

While delegates stalled off action on the bill for hours with a series of eight amendments, the Senate was also engaged in a two-hour filibuster on another regional bill creating a Washington Metropolitan Transit Authority.

The city delegation had voted 27-8 against the bill to replace appointive magistrates with 11 full-time elected judges.

It has been traditional that other delegations follow the decisions of the majority on local matters and it was emphasized on the House floor less than 24 hours earlier.

Reads From Platform

The call for an upset was proclaimed to the House by Majority Leader Boone (D-Balto County) by reading a plank from last year's Democratic campaign platform pledging support of the court reorganization.

Earlier, while the House was in session, Boone was joined by a platoon of Tawes' lieutenants in urging delegates on the floor to go along with the governor.

Going from delegation to delegation were Lloyd Simpkins, executive escretary, Thomas B. Finan, secretary of state, and Dels. Quinn (D-Somerset) and Hanna (D - Wicomico). Quinn is considered unofficial spokesman for the governor in the House. Simpkins, a former delegate from Somerset, sat in a delegate's chair at times during the debate.

The response was overwhelming. Only five Democratic County delegates, Mitchell of Charles, Huyett and McElwee of Washington, and Lee and Walker of Montgomery, sided with the majority of the city delegation.

Reed Sparks Opposition

Even Minority Leader Reed (R-Allegany) urged the six other Republican delegates to oppose the city majority and they did.

The unusual maneuver and debate of more than an hour shunted aside for the time being legislative thoughts on the burning question of state pay raises for school teachers.

It was not entirely forgotten, however. Del. Nowakowski (D-Balto 1st) caustically asked Boone while he was reading the Democratic campaign platform to quote the plank on teacher salaries.

"I understand it is about to be put in the deep freeze," Nowakowski said.

Boone refused to read any plank except relating to the matter under discussion, the municipal court.

"We believe that adequate salaries for teachers in our public supported schools . . . are essential . . ."

Gov. Tawes has proposed pay raises costing a minimum of 31 million dollars over a four-year period. The bill still is in committees and legislative leaders hope to end the session Saturday.

Bonus Bill Passes

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — The Maryland Senate passed and sent to the House tonight a bill to authorize a referendum on bonuses of up to $300 each for armed forces veterans.

B&O Recalls 321 To Repair Rolling Stock

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad announced Thursday the recall of 321 employes.

The railroad said 271 shopmen at locations throughout the system have been assigned to work classified as light reconditioning repairs. They will concentrate on cars which require relatively fewer man-hours to make them ready for service.

For heavy repair work on diesel electric locomotives, the B&O has added another 50 workers to its forces.

In addition to augmenting its repair forces, the railroad has reassigned forces working on an order of 500 new 50-ton hopper cars in company shops. This will increase the rate of production from 10 to 14 cars a day.

(The Cumberland Division is sharing in the recalls. Two car repair units comprising 90 men were recalled to the Keyser shops on Monday and a like number of men were put back to work there several weeks ago.

C&O Canal Park Project Advantages To Area Cited

Development of the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal National Historical Park project in fulfillment of legislative proposals advanced by U.S. Senator J. Glenn Beall and Rep. John R. Foley would provide Western Maryland with a tourist attraction which would bring thousands of visitors to this area.

That observation was made by Edwin M. Dale of Hagerstown, superintendent of the C&O Canal National Historical Park project, at the meeting yesterday of the Cumberland Kiwanis Club at Central YMCA.

Mr. Dale would hazard no guess as to the fate of the bills introduced by Senator Beall and Rep. Foley. He did cite the tremendous interest in history among Americans, the increased leisure time through shorter work weeks and longer vacations, which gives people more opportunity for travel.

For instance, at Harpers Ferry, where John Brown tried his ill-fated raid 100 years ago, some 165,000 visitors were counted by the National Park Service in 1958.

Canal, B&O Same Age

The Kiwanis speaker pointed out yesterday that both the C&O Canal and the B&O Railroad had their beginnings on the same day — July 4, 1828. President John Quincy Adams officiated at the canal ceremonies in Washington, and Charles Carroll of Carrollton, the last surviving signer of the Declaration of Independence, got the B&O started in Baltimore.

This canal reached Cumberland 22 years later, in 1850, and had its heyday in the 1870s hauling coal from this area to Washington. The canal continued to operate until 1924 when a flood put an end to its operations.

Control of the C&O Canal has rested with the federal government since 1938. Shortly thereafter, a section of the canal between Great Falls and Georgetown was restored as a tourist attraction. Then came World War II, which stopped such developments.

In 1948, Congress authorized a joint study by the Federal Bureau of Public Roads and the National Park Service. That showed that a parkway could be developed over the canal route but it would destroy 98 per cent of the canal itself.

Interest Revives

Interest in the development of the canal as a natural area was promoted by the nationally-publicized hike of Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas and associates from Cumberland to Great Falls five years ago.

Two years ago, Senator Beall and then Rep. DeWitt S. Hyde introduced legislation to establish the C&O Canal National Historical Park. It would leave most of the canal intact and would have provided for a short section of parkway over Town Hill Mountain in the pattern of Skyline Drive and the Blue Ridge Parkway.

This measure passed the Senate and was recommended by a subcommittee in the House of Representatives. However, this was done too late to get final House action. That meant that the legislative process had to be started all over in this Congress.

Rep. Foley's bill was the subject of a four-day hearing before a House subcommittee last week in Washington. Mr. Dale figures that the subcommittee probably soon will have a report on this proposal.

Textile Workers To Hear Report On Pact Talks

Celanese Local 1874, Textile Workers Union, will hold a special meeting tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the union hall to give members a preliminary report on contract negotiations, according to John G. Thomas, president.

Included in the negotiating committee's report will be results of a negotiating meeting scheduled today at 10 a. m. between negotiators for Local 1874 and the Celanese Corporation. Ralph Cline, Washington, TWUA representative, will head the union team.

Mr. Thomas said negotiating sessions are also scheduled for Monday and Tuesday, and that special membership meetings will be called for next Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. and Wednesday at 10:30 a. m.

The continuous negotiations are being held in an attempt to agree on a new contract before the present pact expires next Wednesday.

City Voting Rolls Near Rock Bottom

87 Names Dropped In 5-Year Check

Voting rolls of the City of Cumberland dropped 94 last month as a result of a five-year voting check and from deaths.

Registration books included the names of 11,660 voters on March 31, according to a report by Mrs. Ruth Mangus, registration clerk.

There were 87 names removed for failure to vote during the past five years. Included were 51 white males, 28 white females, six colored males and two colored females.

Most of the 87 were citizens who registered early in 1954 but failed to vote in either the primary or general election that year.

As the month ended, the books contained the names of 6,051 while males, 5,406 white females, 125 colored males and 78 colored females for a total of 11,660.

Cumberlanders Donate $4,199 For Easter Seals

More than 57 per cent of the $7,333 contributed to the Easter Seal compaign so far this year through the Allegany County League for Crippled Children has come from Cumberland donors.

Figures compiled by the league show that the ten communities which have made the greatest contributions for Easter Seals have accounted for 88.4 per cent of the gifts.

Cumberland givers have contributed $4,199.77 to the total. Other communities, in the order of their standing, are Frostburg, $909.10, 12.4 per cent; LaVale, $419, 5.7 per cent; Westernport, $341.50, 4.7 per cent; Lonaconing, $273.20, 3.7 per cent; Mt. Savage, $161, 2.2 per cent; Barton, $118.50, 1.6 per cent; Midland, $75; Luke, $73, and Keyser, W. Va., $71.50, each about one per cent.

The league hopes to receive about $12,000 from the nearly 25,000 Easter Seal letters which were mailed some time ago.

LaVale Explorers To Get Eagle Awards Next Week

Four members of Explorer Post 10, Boy Scouts of America, sponsored by LaVale Methodist Church, will be presented Eagle awards in a court of honor Tuesday at 7 p.m.

Edmund S. Burke, president of Potomac Council, Boy Scouts, will present the awards to Steven Curry, Thomas Lowery, Duard Welder and Thomas Williamson.

Charles Sweitzer will receive a first class award. God and Country awards will be presented to Kenneth Moreland and Dannyl Moreland. Steven Curry, Thomas Lowery, David Stone and Duard Welder will receive merit badges.

David Stone will be presented a trophy he won in the National Rifle Association indoor competition.

Invocation will be given by Rev. W. W. Patterson and the pledge of allegiance by William Toms. David Stone will give the Explorer code and Kenneth M. Stone, advisor, will present the first class and God and Country awards.

Merit badge awards and marksmanship trophy will be presented by Robert Moreland, associate advisor. An experiment in hypnotism will be conducted by Vernon Cost, and the court of honor will close with the Scout benediction by Donald Beynon.

Fire Destroys Green Spring Couple's Home

Three Volunteer Companies Respond

Damage to the property of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Shahan was estimated at $6,000, according to volunteer firemen, who said it was not covered by insurance.

Volunteers from Oldtown, Fort Ashby and Romney were hampered by high winds and "terrific heat" from the burning home, which was covered with brick siding.

They trained water on a nearby warehouse when they could not save the burning dwelling. The Shahans operate a garage and general store located about 100 feet from the gutted home.

No one was home at the time of the fire, which was reported by Mrs. Shahan, who was working in the store. Mr. Shahan was reported to have been tending some chickens when the fire started.

The couple was unable to save any of the furnishings of the home, firemen said. The volunteers received a call at 5:45 p.m.

School Ground Improvement Bill Enacted

A proposal for a $100,000 bond issue to finance improvements to school grounds in this county has been enacted by the State Senate.

The bill was sonsored by the Allegany County Delegation and authorizes, but does not make mandatory, a bond issue to raise money for improvements to the grounds of a number of schools.

The Senate Wednesday passed a bill to require transporters of Christmas trees to have bills of sale. It is sponsored by Senator Bernard I. Gonder (D-Garrett).

A bill that tightens up the property tax exemption for senior citizens making less than $1,200 a year in Allegany County awaits the signature of Governor J. Millard Tawes.

The State Senate has enacted House Bill 768 which sets up stricter qualifications for the tax relief than were provided in the original measure by the late Del. George F. S. Jeffrey.

There were loopholes in this law that permitted some people to take advantage of it. This year, $1,136,080 was written off the tax base through this channel.

The Senate Wednesday enacted two other House of Delegates bills of interest to Allegany countians.

Sent to the governor were measures that would permit year round fishing for bass, pike, pickerel, walleye, shad and herring and to require halted motor vehicles to have lights visible for 300 feet in front and behind.

Del. Thomas F. Conlon is sponso. of the latter.

U.S. Air Force Seeks Nurses

Civilian nurses, 21 to 35 years of age, who are graduates of a state accredited school of nursing and are actively registered in at least one state are being sought for nurse duty with the United States Air Force.

S/Sgt. James A. Hawthorne, local Air Force recruiter, said yesterday there is an expanding need and an increasing demand for qualified nurses in the Air Force and the local station has been directed to seek recruits.

Women who can meet the physical, professional and age requirements will be commissioned second lieutenants or higher, and also have an opportunity for free post-graduate training and may attend flight-nurse school where medical treatment peculiar to airborne nursing is taught.

Sgt. Hawthorne said Air Force nurses are serving in over 80 base hospitals in this country and abroad, and complete details of the career field with the Air Force are available at the recruiting station, third floor, Post Office Building.

Band Will Hear Woodwind Quintet

The Cumberland area elementary school band will hear a short program by a woodwind quintet from the Cumberland Symphony Orchestra at the band's rehearsal at 10:30 a.m. Saturday at West Side School.

Dr. Frank E. Gamble, supervisor of music education in the Allegany County public schools, reports that the quintet will include Donald Paupe, flute; Jack Stitely, oboe; Harry Malcolm, clarinet; Ace Humbertson, French horn, and John Pevear, bassoon.

The elementary band has been rehearsing every other Saturday since January in preparation for a concert in May.

Swanton Man Dies In Crash At Terra Alta

Boyd M. Bowser Killed Instantly

Boyd M. Bowser, 25, of Swanton, was killed instantly early yesterday morning when the automobile he was driving collided headon with a truck in front of Hopemont Sanitarium near Terra Alta.

A passenger in the car, Donnie Friend, of Oakland, was admitted to Garrett County Memorial Hospital where his condition last night was reported as "satisfactory." He suffered head injuries and cuts, police said.

Harold Evans of RD 1, Oakland, who was operating the truck owned by the Sterling Processing Company, was uninjured.

The accident occurred about 1:10 a.m. yesterday on West Virginia State Route 7. Police said the auto was traveling toward the Maryland line and the truck, loaded with empty crates used in transporting chickens, was traveling into West Virginia.

The death of Bowser brought to five the number of traffic deaths this year in Preston County as compared to one for all of 1958.

Former ABL Manager Is Promoted

A former manager of Allegany Ballistics Laboratory has been named assistant director of operations for Hercules Powder Company's explosives department.

E. St. Pierre Bellinger, who managed ABL in 1945 and 1946, has been plant manager at Ketona Chemical Corporation, a firm owned jointly by Hercules and by Alabama By-Products Corporation, near Tarrant, Ala.

His new appointment was announced yesterday by J. M. Martin, general manager of the explosives department.

Mr. Bellinger, a native of Charleston, S. C., graduated from Virginia Military Institute in 1927 with a degree in chemistry. He joined Hercules the same year as a chemist in the experiment station then located in Kenvil, N. J.

He later worked in the Wilmington, Del., home office, and was sent to the Bessemer, Ala., plant in 1929 as a chemist. He became chief chemist and then acid supervisor there before his transfer in 1934 to the Hercules, Calif., plant as assistant acid supervisor.

He became assistant superintendent at the Ishpeming, Mich., plant in 1937, and returned to Hercules, Calif., in 1939 as amonia supervisor and later as assistant superintendent.

During World War II, Mr. Bellinger was a captain in the Army Ordnance Department, served in Europe and rose to the rank of lieutenant colonel by the end of the war.

Then he became manager of ABL before becoming works manager at Bessemer and later at Hercules, Calif. In 1957 he became plant manager at Ketona, and later became a vice president of that company.

His successor at Ketona is Henry J. Weiland, who has been assistant plant manager there.

Army To Continue Testing Recruits Here Each Week

In the interest of economy, the Army has been sending a team of interviewers and examiners here each Wednesday to test young men and women interested in enlistment.

Instead of transporting these potential recruits to Fairmont, it was decided it might be more economical to conduct examinations here one day each week, and the idea was tried the past three Wednesdays. The first week, 17 took tests, the second week, 18, and yesterday nine were examined.

The recruiting service has decided that local facilities in the Post Office building are adequate, and now plans to continue the program on a permanent basis.

M/Sgt. Virgil M. Smith, recruiter in charge of the local substation, said the next step in this program will be to transport enlistees to Fairmont one day a week, instead of the present "anytime" basis.

Those screened here on Wednesday can be processed in time for shipment the following Wednesday, and time, effort and money can be saved on transportation. It will also reduce the number of trips a recruit must make between here and Fairmont before he is finally inducted, Sgt. Smith said.

265 Applicants Seek Licenses For Beverages

New Petitioners Request Four Permits

Some 265 applications for alcoholic beverages licenses in the new license year starting May 1 have been received by the Allegany County Board of Alcoholic Beverages License Commissioners.

That number represents 92.6 per cent of the 286 licenses which are now in effect in this county. Now in effect are 29 Class A beer licenses for off-premises consumption; 115 Class D beer licenses; nine Class A beer and wine licenses for off-premises consumption; 16 Class D beer and wine licenses, nine Class A beer, wine and liquor licenses for off-premises consumption; 59 Class D beer, wine and liquor licenses for taverns and 49 Class C beer, wine and liquor licenses for clubs.

Four of the applicants for Class D beer licenses are new petitioners. They are Anna Broadwater for premises on Legislative Road in Barton where Eldred Mayhew now holds the license; Harry R. Lancaster, Mt. Savage Road, in premises where Clara B. Reckley now holds the license; Nellie G. Boone, for premises at 305 Baltimore Avenue where Michael Savarese now holds the license, and Ruth G. Metz, 315 Springdale Street, where Dolly Jean Tyree surrendered the license March 30.

All the other applications are for renewal of existing licenses.

There will be no general hearings by the Board of Alcoholic Beverages License Commissioners for the renewal applications. Only in the changes will hearings be necessary.

License applicants will be able to get their licenses between April 21 and April 30. They first must pick up the approved application from the office of the liquor board on the third floor of the Court House and then obtain the license from the office of Joseph E. Boden, clerk of Circuit Court.

Rifle Club Plans Dinner

The first annual award banquet sponsored by the Fort Cumberland Rifle and Pistol Club will be held Sunday at 7 p. m. at the club rooms, South George Street, according to Jack Fulk, president.

Awards will be made to four teams who competed in the Allegany Rifle League competition during the past season, and presentations to others are also planned.

The Junior Optimist Boys Club, which uses the senior club's indoor rifle range, are invited guests to the affair, according to Lester Hutson, chairman of the Junior Optimists.

Joseph A. Minke, regional game warden, will speak, make the presentations and show a movie.

Former Policeman Faces Trial Today

James J. Mason, a former city policeman, is scheduled for trial before Chief Judge Morgan C. Harris in Allegany County Circuit Court at 10 a.m. today on a four-count criminal information charging that he assaulted a 21-year-old local woman on January 25.

The information filed Monday by State's Attorney James S. Getty charges that Mason assaulted Eleanor Virginia Williams with intent to maim, disfigure and disable her.

Mason was discharged from the police force January 26 for "conduct unbecoming an officer." The dismissal was sustained March 10 by the City Civil Service Commission. Harold E. Naughton is his attorney.

Poster Contest Winners To Get Washington Trip

A trip to Washington and a program of entertainment while in the nation's capital is in store for the three top finalists in the poster contest being held in Allegany County in conjunction with National Library Week, April 12-18.

The project is under the supervision of the Cumberland Junior Association of Commerce. The competition is divided into three groups—elementary pupils, junior high and high school students.

The top winner in each division will be given a trip to Washington. The deadline for submitting posters is April 7, and the winners will be displayed at the Jaycee Home Show later this month.

The poster subject is "Wake Up and Read," or "Read And Wake Up." Members of the Jaycees and Cumberland Chamber of Commerce will be judges of the posters, which are to measure 17 inches by 22 inches.

The name of the student, his school, and his poster number are to be written on an accompanying three-by-five-inch card. The Jaycees request that each school submit the best posters in each division. Entries are to be taken to the nearest library in the county.

Chaperons will accompany the winners to Washington. Miss Mary G. Walsh, librarian at the Cumberland Free Public Library, is cooperating in the project, known as "Operation Library."

HENRY W. BLOSS

Retired B&O Foreman Dies At Home Here

Henry William Bloss, 77, a retired pipefitter foreman at the B&O Roundhouse, died yesterday at his home, 310 Beall Street.

Mr. Bloss retired from the B&O in 1946 after completing 50 years service.

A native of Trenches, W. Va., Mr. Bloss came to the North Branch area as a young boy. He began his service with the railroad as a timekeeper in 1896 after attending the Commercial Business School here.

In 1900 he became a pipefitter apprentice, and was named pipefitter foreman in the roundhouse here in 1908.

He was a member of the Methodist Church and had been a member of Aerie 245, FO Eagles, since August 1912. He also was a member of Local 489, Plumbers and Steam Fitters Association. Mr. Bloss was a member of the B&O Veterans Association, Cumberland Division, for 29 years and had served as president and recording secretary of the association.

Mr. Bloss was a son of the late Charles and Mary (Hoover) Bloss and is survived by his widow, Mary (Blasi) Bloss. His first wife, Nellie (Cowden) Bloss, died in 1949.

Surviving besides his widow are a daughter, Mrs. Evelyn R. Ruehl, Baltimore, and a brother, John Bloss, this city.

The body is at the George Home, where the family will receive friends from 2 to 4 p. m. and 7 to 9 p. m.

COD Beer Bill Is Entered

Graduated Tax Study Is Asked

The COD plan was introduced as House Bill 899 under the sponsorship of Delegates Noel Speir Cook, Thomas F. Conlon Jr., Delegation Chairman Fred B. Driscoll and Delegate William Walsh.

It would provide that "in Allegany County no manufacturer or wholesaler shall sell any beer to any retail dealer except for cash on delivery."

Five Western Maryland delegates are among the sponsors of House Resolution 56, which requests the Governor to appoint a commission to study a graduated tax program for Maryland.

The plan is one of the items sought by the Legislative committee of the Western Maryland Central Labor Council, AFL-CIO.

Rises With Income

The resolution says that the income tax structure of Maryland has been found to be inequitable to persons in the lower income groups and that a complete study of the graduated tax system should be made to help the General Assembly legislate properly on the subject.

Sponsors include Allegany County Delegates Reed, Kelley and Walsh and Garrett County Delegate Bray.

The AFL-CIO here said the plan calls for a base tax of two per cent, less deductions, for incomes from zero to $5,000, three per cent $5,001 to $10,000, four per cent from $10,001 to $15,000, and five per cent tax for $15,000 and over.

The formula should be set high enough, the labor council said, so the sales tax could be dropped the following year.

Ask Weights Study

Also of area interest is House Resolution 55, sponsored by Delegate Carlton R. Sickles (D-Prince George's).

It calls for the appointment of a committee to study the weights and measures standards and enforcement in Maryland. Laws relating to the weight of coal deliveries have been the subject of considerable study in this county.

House Bill 901, by Del. Cannon, would require all children entering public schools to be immunized against polio.

Youth Fined In Crash

A local 21-year-old man was fined $166.50 on two motor vehicle charges when he was tried yesterday in Trial Magistrate's Court in connection with an accident here last month.

Ronald Lee Shanholtzer, 119 Oak Street, appealed his case to Allegany County Circuit Court and was released under $250 bond by Magistrate Morris Baron.

The accident occurred last month on Greene Street. Two other cars were damaged.

Police Solve West Side School Entry

Four local youths, ranging in age from 14 to 18 years, have admitted to city police that they broke into West Side School Sunday night and took $31 from two glass containers in the school cafeteria.

Detective Lt. James E. Van said the youths, who were placed in the custody of their parents, will be taken to Juvenile Court next week.

The breaking and entering was discovered Wednesday morning by William Chappell, custodian at the school. Lt. Van said he talked to the four youths and they admitted breaking into the school and taking the cash.

A window on the south side of the school building was broken. One of the youths climbed into the school and opened the door to let the three others in. They went from room to room. One climbed onto a metal cart, pulled a screen off a transom door leading to the cafeteria and gained entrance. A cabinet was opened and the money was taken from the containers

After leaving by a side door, they went to a West Side alley and divided the money. One of the youths got a $10 bill changed at a business place on West Side, Lt. Van said, in order that the money could be evenly split up.

Jackson Elected Governor Of Moose

Lonnie Jackson was elected governor of Cumberland Lodge 271, Loyal Order of Moose, at a meeting last night.

He defeated Donald Lilya, who was seeking re-election. Other officers who were elected last night were John Angellatta, junior governor; Fred Wilson, prelate, and George Thomas, treasurer.

Frank Williams was elected as a three-year trustee and Kenneth Wise was elected trustee for one year. Donald Lilya was named delegate to the national convention and Russell Minnicks was named alternate delegate.

The new officers will be installed at ceremonies Thursday, April 16, at the home.

Wiley Ford Church To Dedicate Building

Wiley Ford Church of the Brethren will hold dedication services for its new educational building Sunday at 2:30 p.m., according to Rev. Connell T. Chaney, pastor.

Guest speaker for the event will be Rev. Allen Pugh, pastor of the Eglon (W.Va.) Church of the Brethren. Special music will be provided by the choir of Westernport Church of the Brethren and the Tear Coat Men's Quartet.

House Breaks With Tradition In Court Fight

Party Call Quashes Committee Report

By GEORGE BOWEN

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—The Maryland House of Delegates under strong and unremitting pressure from Gov. Tawes, who watched the proceedings personally until 11:30 p m., enacted a Baltimore City Court organization bill Thursday night.

The House voted 89-20 for the reorganization in the face of an overwhelming unfavorable report by the city delegation. It was predicted this sounded the death knell of the old tradition of selfrule.

While delegates stalled off action on the bill for hours with a series of eight amendments, the Senate was also engaged in a two-hour filibuster on another regional bill creating a Washington Metropolitan Transit Authority.

The city delegation had voted 27-8 against the bill to replace appointive magistrates with 11 fulltime elected judges.

It has been traditional that other delegations follow the decisions of the majority on local matters and it was emphasized on the House floor less than 24 hours earlier.

Reads From Platform

The call for an upset was proclaimed to the House by Majority Leader Boone (D-Balto County) by reading a plank from last year's Democratic campaign platform pledging support of the court reorganization.

Earlier, while the House was in session, Boone was joined by a platoon of Tawes' lieutenants in urging delegates on the floor to go along with the governor.

Going from delegation to delegation were Lloyd Simpkins, executive escretary, Thomas B. Finan, secretary of state, and Dels. Quinn (D-Somerset) and Hanna (D - Wicomico). Quinn is considered unofficial spokesman for the governor in the House. Simpkins, a former delegate from Somerset, sat in a delegate's chair at times during the debate.

The response was overwhelming. Only five Democratic County delegates, Mitchell of Charles, Huyett and McElwee of Washington, and Lee and Walker of Montgomery, sided with the majority of the city delegation.

Reed Sparks Opposition

Even Minority Leader Reed (R-Allegany) urged the six other Republican delegates to oppose the city majority and they did.

The unusual maneuver and debate of more than an hour shunted aside for the time being legislative thoughts on the burning question of state pay raises for school teachers.

It was not entirely forgotten, however. Del. Nowakowski (D-Balto 1st) caustically asked Boone while he was reading the Democratic campaign platform to quote the plank on teacher salaries.

"I understand it is about to be put in the deep freeze," Nowakowski said.

Boone refused to read any plank except relating to the matter under discussion, the municipal court.

The Democratic plank on education stated:

"We believe that adequate salaries for teachers in our public supported schools . . . are essential . . ."

Gov. Tawes has proposed pay raises costing a minimum of 31 million dollars over a four-year period. The bill still is in committees and legislative leaders hope to end the session Saturday.

Bonus Bill Passes

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — The Maryland Senate passed and sent to the House tonight a bill to authorize a referendum on bonuses of up to $300 each for armed forces veterans.

B&O Recalls 321 To Repair Rolling Stock

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad announced Thursday the recall of 321 employes.

The railroad said 271 shopmen at locations throughout the system have been assigned to work classified as light reconditioning repairs. They will concentrate on cars which require relatively fewer man-hours to make them ready for service.

For heavy repair work on diesel electric locomotives, the B&O has added another 50 workers to its forces.

In addition to augmenting its repair forces, the railroad has reassigned forces working on an order of 500 new 50-ton hopper cars in company shops. This will increase the rate of production from 10 to 14 cars a day.

(The Cumberland Division is sharing in the recalls. Two car repair units comprising 90 men were recalled to the Keyser shops on Monday and a like number of men were put back to work there several weeks ago.

C&O Canal Park Project Advantages To Area Cited

Development of the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal National Historical Park project in fulfillment of legislative proposals advanced by U.S. Senator J. Glenn Beall and Rep. John R. Foley would provide Western Maryland with a tourist attraction which would bring thousands of visitors to this area.

That observation was made by Edwin M. Dale of Hagerstown, superintendent of the C&O Canal National Historical Park project, at the meeting yesterday of the Cumberland Kiwanis Club at Central YMCA.

Mr. Dale would hazard no guess as to the fate of the bills introduced by Senator Beall and Rep. Foley. He did cite the tremendous interest in history among Americans, the increased leisure time through shorter work weeks and longer vacations, which gives people more opportunity for travel.

For instance, at Harpers Ferry, where John Brown tried his illfated raid 100 years ago, some 165,000 visitors were counted by the National Park Service in 1958.

Canal, B&O Same Age

The Kiwanis speaker pointed out yesterday that both the C&O Canal and the B&O Railroad had their beginnings on the same day — July 4, 1828. President John Quincy Adams officiated at the canal ceremonies in Washington, and Charles Carroll of Carrollton, the last surviving signer of the Declaration of Independence, got the B&O started in Baltimore.

This canal reached Cumberland 22 years later, in 1850, and had its heyday in the 1870s hauling coal from this area to Washington. The canal continued to operate until 1924 when a flood put an end to its operations.

Control of the C&O Canal has rested with the federal government since 1938. Shortly thereafter, a section of the canal between Great Falls and Georgetown was restored as a tourist attraction. Then came World War II, which stopped such developments.

In 1948, Congress authorized a joint study by the Federal Bureau of Public Roads and the National Park Service. That showed that a parkway could be developed over the canal route but it would destroy 98 per cent of the canal itself.

Interest Revives

Interest in the development of the canal as a natural area was promoted by the nationally-publicized hike of Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas and associates from Cumberland to Great Falls five years ago.

Two years ago, Senator Beall and then Rep. DeWitt S. Hyde introduced legislation to establish the C&O Canal National Historical Park. It would leave most of the canal intact and would have provided for a short section of parkway over Town Hill Mountain in the pattern of Skyline Drive and the Blue Ridge Parkway.

This measure passed the Senate and was recommended by a subcommittee in the House of Representatives. However, this was done too late to get final House action. That meant that the legislative process had to be started all over in this Congress.

Rep. Foley's bill was the subject of a four-day hearing before a House subcommittee last week in Washington. Mr. Dale figures that the subcommittee probably soon will have a report on this proposal.

Textile Workers To Hear Report On Pact Talks

Celanese Local 1874, Textile Workers Union, will hold a special meeting tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the union hall to give members a preliminary report on contract negotiations, according to John G. Thomas, president.

Included in the negotiating committee's report will be results of a negotiating meeting scheduled today at 10 a. m. between negotiators for Local 1874 and the Celanese Corporation. Ralph Cline, Washington, TWUA representative, will head the union team.

Mr. Thomas said negotiating sessions are also scheduled for Monday and Tuesday, and that special membership meetings will be called for next Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. and Wednesday at 10:30 a. m.

The continuous negotiations are being held in an attempt to agree on a new contract before the present pact expires next Wednesday.

LaVale Explorers To Get Eagle Awards Next Week

Four members of Explorer Post 10, Boy Scouts of America, sponsored by LaVale Methodist Church, will be presented Eagle awards in a court of honor Tuesday at 7 p.m.

Edmund S. Burke, president of Potomac Council, Boy Scouts, will present the awards to Steven Curry, Thomas Lowery, Duard Welder and Thomas Williamson.

Charles Sweitzer will receive a first class award. God and Country awards will be presented to Kenneth Moreland and Dannyl Moreland. Steven Curry, Thomas Lowery, David Stone and Duard Welder will receive merit badges.

David Stone will be presented a trophy he won in the National Rifle Association indoor competition.

Invocation will be given by Rev. W. W. Patterson and the pledge of allegiance by William Toms. David Stone will give the Explorer code and Kenneth M. Stone, advisor, will present the first class and God and Country awards.

Merit badge awards and marksmanship trophy will be presented by Robert Moreland, associate advisor. An experiment in hypnotism will be conducted by Vernon Cost, and the court of honor will close with the Scout benediction by Donald Beynon.

ATTENDS SCHOOL — Airman 1/c George Gray, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. George T. Gray, 227 Springdale Street, is stationed at Keesler Air Force Base, Miss., where he has attended radio interceptor school. A 1958 graduate of Fort Hill High School, he entered the service last September.

City Voting Rolls Near Rock Bottom

87 Names Dropped In 5-Year Check

Voting rolls of the City of Cumberland dropped 94 last month as a result of a five-year voting check and from deaths.

Registration books included the names of 11,660 voters on March 31, according to a report by Mrs. Ruth Mangus, registration clerk.

New registered voters totaled only 7, including five white males and two white females.

There were 87 names removed for failure to vote during the past five years. Included were 51 white males, 28 white females, six colored males and two colored females.

Most of the 87 were citizens who registered early in 1954 but failed to vote in either the primary or general election that year.

As the month ended, the books contained the names of 6,051 while males, 5,406 white females, 125 colored males and 78 colored females for a total of 11,660.

Registration officials believe that last month's voting check eliminated most of the non-voters remaining on the books.

Cumberlanders Donate $4,199 For Easter Seals

More than 57 per cent of the $7,333 contributed to the Easter Seal compaign so far this year through the Allegany County League for Crippled Children has come from Cumberland donors.

Figures compiled by the league show that the ten communities which have made the greatest contributions for Easter Seals have accounted for 88.4 per cent of the gifts.

Cumberland givers have contributed $4,199.77 to the total. Other communities, in the order of their standing, are Frostburg, $909.10, 12.4 per cent; LaVale, $419, 5.7 per cent; Westernport, $341.50, 4.7 per cent; Lonaconing, $273.20, 3.7 per cent; Mt. Savage, $161, 2.2 per cent; Barton, $118.50, 1.6 per cent; Midland, $75; Luke, $73, and Keyser, W. Va., $71.50, each about one per cent.

The league hopes to receive about $12,000 from the nearly 25,000 Easter Seal letters which were mailed some time ago.

Fire Destroys Green Spring Couple's Home

Three Volunteer Companies Respond

Damage to the property of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Shahan was estimated at $6,000, according to volunteer firemen, who said it was not covered by insurance.

Volunteers from Oldtown, Fort Ashby and Romney were hampered by high winds and "terrific heat" from the burning home, which was covered with brick siding.

They trained water on a nearby warehouse when they could not save the burning dwelling. The Shahans operate a garage and general store located about 100 feet from the gutted home.

Fire Chief Harold L. Welker of Romney said the fire was caused when a kerosene stove in the itchen of the frame dwelling exploded.

No one was home at the time of the fire, which was reported by Mrs. Shahan, who was working in the store. Mr. Shahan was reported to have been tending some chickens when the fire started.

The couple was unable to save any of the furnishings of the home, firemen said. The volunteers received a call at 5:45 p.m.

School Ground Improvement Bill Enacted

A proposal for a $100,000 bond issue to finance improvements to school grounds in this county has been enacted by the State Senate.

The bill was sonsored by the Allegany County Delegation and authorizes, but does not make mandatory, a bond issue to raise money for improvements to the grounds of a number of schools.

The Senate Wednesday passed a bill to require transporters of Christmas trees to have bills of sale. It is sponsored by Senator Bernard I. Gonder (D-Garrett).

A bill that tightens up the property tax exemption for senior citizens making less than $1,200 a year in Allegany County awaits the signature of Governor J. Millard Tawes.

The State Senate has enacted House Bill 768 which sets up stricter qualifications for the tax relief than were provided in the original measure by the late Del. George F. S. Jeffrey.

There were loopholes in this law that permitted some people to take advantage of it. This year, $1,136,080 was written off the tax base through this channel.

The Senate Wednesday enacted two other House of Delegates bills of interest to Allegany countians.

Sent to the governor were measures that would permit year round fishing for bass, pike, pickerel, walleye, shad and herring and to require halted motor vehicles to have lights visible for 300 feet in front and behind.

Del. Thomas F. Conlon is sponso. of the latter.

U.S. Air Force Seeks Nurses

Civilian nurses, 21 to 35 years of age, who are graduates of a state accredited school of nursing and are actively registered in at least one state are being sought for nurse duty with the United States Air Force.

S/Sgt. James A. Hawthorne, local Air Force recruiter, said yesterday there is an expanding need and an increasing demand for qualified nurses in the Air Force and the local station has been directed to seek recruits.

Women who can meet the physical, professional and age requirements will be commissioned second lieutenants or higher, and also have an opportunity for free post-graduate training and may attend flight-nurse school where medical treatment peculiar to airborne nursing is taught.

Sgt. Hawthorne said Air Force nurses are serving in over 80 base hospitals in this country and abroad, and complete details of the career field with the Air Force are available at the recruiting station, third floor, Post Office Building.

Band Will Hear Woodwind Quintet

The Cumberland area elementary school band will hear a short program by a woodwind quintet from the Cumberland Symphony Orchestra at the band's rehearsal at 10:30 a.m. Saturday at West Side School.

Dr. Frank E. Gamble, supervisor of music education in the Allegany County public schools, reports that the quintet will include Donald Paupe, flute; Jack Stitely, oboe; Harry Malcolm, clarinet; Ace Humbertson, French horn, and John Pevear, bassoon.

The elementary band has been rehearsing every other Saturday since January in preparation for a concert in May.
